The banquet room of the Seven Seas restaurant in Edmonton was the scene of a very happy occasion when 53 close relatives and friends met to help Mr. and Mrs. Bob Spicer of Riverton, Alberta celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary. This day is granted to few married people and all there rejoiced with them. Guests came from far and near, the one who travelled the least distance being McGray of Santa Maria, Calif., who homesteaded near Mr. Spicer in the early pioneer days.

Mr. Spicer homesteaded in the Riverton area in 1908 and on Sept. 1st, 1915, married Ina Mackenzie, of Edmonton, who came to reside on the homestead and have spent their 50 years married life there. Many a hardship over days were not easy but had the true friendship and help of mutually co-operation that is something lacking or perhaps unknown in so necessary today. The Spicers have always been a real asset to the Riverton area and are freely to all of these, their open hearted and good cheer. No one needing help of any kind was ever turned away. They have taken a keen interest and share in the work of the church, the U.F.A. (now F.U.A.), and all community activities.

They have four children. Ariel Braithwaite, Dewberry, who has four girls and one boy; Lora (Mrs. Marwayne, having three boys and three girls, and one son, Herb, of Riverton, who has one boy and two girls; Also one great grandchildren are now born in the area surrounding Riverton and there are no less than 6 resident visits with each other a pleasure not shared by many families

At the banquet Mrs. Spicer were a green two-piece dress and a corsage of sweetheart roses and she served at the head table. Mr. Spicer replied in a few well-chosen words.

Many gifts were received from communities and friends. The Riverton and surrounding area presented a purse, Eleanor Smith making the presentation, and Madge MacLean presented a lovely plant from the Riverton Club and there was a beautiful bouquet of glads and mums from the Greenacre club. There were also many individual gifts, and many to list here, but included set everything from dishes to clocks. All ever greatly appreciated and will be remembered as mementoes of friends and occasion.

Congratulations were received from the Prime Minister, Lester Pearson, and the Premier of Alberta, Ernest C. Manning.

Since Mrs. Spicer was fortunate enough to have as a guest, Mrs. Jan Mackenzie, who is a photographer, many excellent pictures were taken which will be treasured by all.

Later Mrs. Spicer planned an open house at their farm home but due to illness was unable to do it until some time had passed. But on Nov. 4th with the help of her daughters and Mrs. Wilfe Cole, Riverton Club's meeting was combined with open house for many Riverton friends not fortunate enough to have been at the banquet A wonderful meal was enjoyed by all present

Tigers Set Back League Leaders

Vermilion Tigers showed their early season class and scoring ability to set back the league leading Vegreville Rangers 7 to 3 before a jubilant crowd of 650 fans here on Saturday night last.

The Rangers scored the first goal, Ed Zukiwski from McArthur, but the Tigers tied the count by the end of the period, Jim Fleming climaxing a nice combined effort with Baker and Jim O'Donnell.

The Tigers added two unanswered goals in the second. Ian Baker from Jim Fleming; and Townsend from John and Lyn Belcourt.

Rangers came back determined to get back into the game in the third and Ed Kassian converted Dehig's pass to score within the distance, 3-2. The Tigers would not be denied and scored twice, Gary Checknita from Townsend and O'Donnell, then Jim Fleming to set the crowd at ease once more.

Ed Zukiwski wasn't giving up and made it 5-3, but the Tigers caught fire again, came roaring back for two counters before the period ended. John Belcourt from brother Lynn and Jim Fleming and John again from Lynn and Gary Checknita. The old combination plays were bearing fruit. The final score Tigers 7 Rangers 3.

Ken Brown played a sensational game in goal, while his team mates were hungry and got him the goals to salt away a valuable 2 points. Jim Fleming turned in his best game of the season with one goal and three assists to his credit, while Dave Gadsbolvne was hitting them fair and square on defence. It was nice team effort with all the Tigers playing hung up hockey — you have to to best the league leading Vegreville bid. Kassian, Zukiwsky, McArthur, Cowan Letain

GOALIE KEN BROWN

Ken Brown is having a better year in the nets for the Vermilion Tigers and last Saturday night turned in a sparkling performance when the Vegreville Rangers were handed a 7-3 setback by the Tigers. Ken is presently best goalie in the league with an average of 3.56 goals.

Pontiacs Tie Top Edmonton Team

In contrast to Friday night's game the Saturday afternoon game was a much better brand of hockey. A faster, and a harder hitting Kinsmen team forced the visitors to come from behind to salvage a six all tie.

Actually Vermilion outscored the visitors because two of the Maple Leaf goals were scored by Vermilion players

Maple Leafs opened the scoring followed 19 seconds later by a Vermilion tally. The Edmonton team scored once more to round out the first period Scoring for Kinsmen Pontiacs was Bill Isley.

The second period saw the Kinsmen Panthers rap in two more goals before the Maple Leafs were able to find the net themselves registering a three all count. Scoring for Vermilion were Wasylchen and Isley.

The third period saw the Maple Leafs take the lead on a goal by Ed Zukiwski in the 4th minute and it remained a tight defensive battle between Vermilion and Edmonton for the remainder of the game. Vermilion's Jerry Bellisle was awarded a penalty shot which he failed to convert and Edmonton's Ed Zukiwski was awarded a penalty shot which he converted to make the score 6-5 for Edmonton. The game ended with the Kinsmen Pontiacs pressing hard for the tying goal.

Eight Teams In Basketball Tourney — Robson High Boys and St. Jerome's Girls Win

Champions of High School Basketball Tournament

No Wonder They Won

No wonder those Marauders won the basketball tournament on Saturday with this lively crew of cheerleaders urging them on. The girls, cheerleaders of the J. R. Robson school, provided plenty of lively entertainment and cheerleading throughout the day. Who are they? From the left Lorna Webb, Lynn Heller, Margo Healey, Beverly Nelson, Linda Webb; missing from the picture is Betty-Ann Lysons.

Margo Healey, P.R.O.

Eight teams played in the basketball tournament in Vermilion on January 29th: St. Paul, Two Hills, Wainwright, Lloydminster, Vegreville, Vermilion, V.A.V.C., St Jerome's, and J. R. Robson.

MARAUDER GIRLS WIN FIRST

The first games were played at 9 a.m. with the Marauders vs. Lloydminster Barons girls in St. Jerome's and boys in J. R. Robson High.

The Marauder girls won their game with scores of 31 to 12. Their defense was strong and efficient Service Scoring for Vermilion was W. Brown 10, K. Richardson 8, E. Waldenberger 7, J. Jeffries 4, L. R. Anderson 2. For Lloyd: C. Jasper 8, S. Barney 4, L. Sinclair 2.

BOYS WIN TOO

The Marauder boys fought a hot battle for their 40-36 victory over the Lloydminster Barons. Ken Filgate opened the scoring for the locals with a basket on a pass from Vic Gillman. However, the Lloyd team went on to win the consolation event.

Scoring went as follows: Vermilion — V. Gillman 19, Tidsbury 10, Moncrieff 7, Filgate 4, Hutton 2, Herbert 1. Lloyd: Dumik 10, Ball 7, Hawkins 8, Johnson 4, Dixon 4, Richins 3, Ivury 2, B. Johnson 2.

LOSE THEIR FOR THRILLER

The 7:00 p.m. matches pair Vermilion against Vegreville. The girls' game was an example of "run in to run" basketball. As the score changed, first one team and then the other being on top, tension mounted, and as the final bell changed the playoff Marauders hugged one another they had won 20 to 18. This was the toughest game of the day for the girls, and nearly heartbreaking.

Scoring went as follows: Vermilion M. Brown 6 F. Waldenberger 6, D. Kennedy 4, K. Richardson 3, L. Brimacombe 1 For Vegreville R was J. Dewey 7, R. Pachesh 3, C. Hey 4, J. Ferguson 1, N. Ziegler 1.

KEN FILGATE THE HERO

Meanwhile at the boys' game Ken Filgate played what will go down as the best game of his high school career. He scored 12 points in the first three quarters before being benched for a short time. Then, in the fourth quarter when three first line players Blake Tidsbury, Ron Herbert and Lyle Davey had fouled out, he scored another ten points and helped V.A.V.C. to the win.

The 32-26 victory over the Vegreville girls put the Marauder boys into the finals where they met the V.A.V.C.

Vermilion scoring K. Filgate 22, V. Gillman 10, R. Herbert 3, P. Moncrieff 3, B. Herbert 3 and T. Hutton 2. For Vegreville: Asch 17, Kerzyk 13, Pachesh 3, Cherwaty 2, Gothlike 2, Pachesh 2, Blyth 1 and Henderson 1.

St. Jerome's Girls Win Final

The deciding girls' game was played at J. R. Robson annex at 8:30 p.m. with Marauders vs. St. Jerome's.

Although the St. Jerome girls had played just previous to this final game, they had won over Two Hills with relative ease and the first string had been able to relax somewhat. The exhaustion felt by the Marauders after the Vegreville match carried over. Few plays clicked and the ball was elusive when a Marauder got close to it. Despite their weariness, the girls kept the game close and finished just 4 basket back — 23 to 33. Lauren Rosso was high scorer for St. Jerome's.

The scoring: J. R. Robson — E. Waldenberger 7, D. Kennedy 6, K. Richardson 4, R. Anderson 3, L. Brimacombe 2, W. Brown 2, J. Hamphier 1. St. Jerome's: L. Ross 14, K. Ross 9, L. Nestor 8, J. Walsh 3, B. McAleese 2, S. Kasiechko 3.

ROBSON HIGH BOYS TAKE TOURNEY HONOURS

Whenever the R.H.S. Marauders meet the V.A.V.C. team, one expects the tie to be broken before has it down as high and so far as it did Saturday night. Ken Filgate opened the scoring and put R.H.S. ahead, but from then on it was anyone's guess as to who the victor would be. The score fluctuated rapidly, as first the V.A.V.C. was on top, then the score was tied, then R.H.S. was on top, and so forth. In the fourth quarter, excitement had risen almost to hysterical pitch. When the ball changed to end the game, Marauder fans screamed for joy and for the 32 -61 victory. Although there was a total of 66 fouls in this game, the play was friendly and most basic "sportsmanlike." The Marauders' Blake Tidsbury and V.A.V.C.'s Ken Cunningham and George Sanders were the only players collecting five fouls.

THE SCORING

R.H.S. B. Tidsbury 17, V. Gillman 16, K. Filgate 10, P. Moncrieff 8, L. Davey 3, R. Herbert 2. V.A.V.C. — H. Soutter 20, R. Cunningham 8, G. Harrington 6, B Plumley 7, A. Ford 3, and G. Sanders 1.

WENDY SHOOTS TWO SCORES

A week later Wendy Brown once more showed the form that got her and the Marauders on the road to the championship at the V.A.V.C. girls. This was a three game affair with the Vermilion players being fouled out. Scoring was as follows: J. R. Robson — W. Brown 14, Waldenberger 10, L. Brimacombe 8, D. Kennedy 6, K. Richardson 2, M. Harper 4, Sheep 3, Porter 2, and Dolnik 1.

This caused out to be for Crow Lure problems — to deal with by approximately 1,000 control officers appointed by municipal and urban municipalities. ## Alberta Aid Plan For Farmers Approved By F.U.A.

EDMONTON. — Farm Union officials have expressed satisfaction with the formal announcement by the Provincial Government that aid would be forthcoming for the farmers in the crop failure areas of the Peace River and West Central Alberta.

The F.U.A. regrets that to date the Federal Government has not seen fit to contribute to the scheme.

Recent announcements from the Federal Department of Agriculture indicate that the senior government is going to assist areas in Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes where previously the farmers had made no attempt to help themselves through such methods as the P.F.A.A.

The F.U.A. wonders why the Western farmers should be contributed to P.F.A.A. for years are now being penalized by the Federal Government seeking funds for such a self-help program.

The F.U.A. agrees that crop insurance is the answer, but it does not exist in many areas at the present time and cannot be universally instituted over night.

SETTLERS — How Can Your Child Be Helped?

(Contcuded)

You can help the shy child overcome his difficulties in meet situations but scolding or persuasion will not help. The approach should include a number of principles. You can set the stage for future occasions that are likely to bring out his shyness such as meeting people by making the situation as pleasant and appealing as possible. Plan a gradual introduction, gently encouraging and saying him into it, always remembering the person he will share his happiness when he's been successful through it. Families can give him a comfort. If he's holding a favorite article or is running a favorite piece of clothing, it helps reassure him before it leaves if some for him to direct his thoughts away from his own feelings. Having company over by for hours and treats, such as his playmates, also builds up his confidence.

Avoid the "spotlight effect" Do away with too much comment or praise. Sometimes you are introducing the child to new people or new situations. You will need, also, to accept his — subtle slowness, giving him time to respond at his own pace as he breaks away from his shell. Avoid pushing and developing greater poise and control.

Be sure to talk with the shy child and you can aid him by directing his attention from the things he can't do to what he can do, and make him feel that these are important. Often, it's quite effective if you let your child help out in some little way, be it with the coming guests or some detail, whereby interest in a new person taking shyness, etc.) or situation.

Meeting the problem of the shy child means giving consideration to the child and to how you can help him build up a better opinion of himself on foundations of security and self-confidence. Children who feel secure in their parents' love are free to use their energies to find out for what, why and how of the world about them and so satisfy most of their personal wants and needs.

Plan For Poultry Marketing Board

A plan for a marketing board, submitted by the executive of the Commercial Egg Producers Association, has been distributed to the Fairview, Edmonton, Test Deer, Calgary and Lethbridge local organizations.

Acting minister, H. McMillan, Provincial Poultry Commissioner, the plan is an attempt on the part of the Commercial Egg Producers Association to increase the margin of profits to producers by stabilizing the market. One possibility is the establishment of production quotas.

Mr. McMillan said recently that the Commercial Egg Producers Association will hold a general meeting.

The Vegas stadium will seat 25,000.

As Time Goes By . . .

J. Frank Willis, himself an institution in Canadian broadcasting, is host-producer of the new CBC radio network series As Time Goes By, a nostalgic look back at the "three golden decades" of network radio in North America. Each Monday, the series recalls highlights of broadcasts from the 1930s, 40s and early 50s, in the field of news, actualities, comedy, variety, music, drama, talks and whole have-you. Actual recordings of these broadcasts are presented, not just re-creations. Willis is also seen on CBC-TV as host of the irregularly-scheduled specials in the Canada of Confederation series, Canada 99.

Wire Worm Control

(By RALPH A. WILSON)

The wireworm is brown, shiny, hard worm, about one inch in length, may be found beneath the surface of the soil in widely scattered areas throughout the prairie Most active in the early spring, the wireworm attacks the germinating seed, eating the germ and leaving the seed dead.

Where the seed is not killed by the attack, the young grain shoots may be weakened, producing thin stands and shrunken kernels. Bare and weedy patches in the fields frequently indicate where these worms have been at work.

Wireworm infestations are most frequently noted in the first crop after summerfallow or more often, in newly - broken grassland. Wireworms may be effectively controlled by means of crop and weed dressing. This treatment may be practised alone or in combination with fungicide for disease control.

The municipal seed cleaning plants will treat your seed for wireworm control safely and quite economically. A few or one per cent agent on wireworm seed may be worth 6.0ars at harvest time.

Bethesda U.C.W.

The January meeting of the Dewberry U.C.W. was held in the Christian Education Hall with ten members and three visitors present. Mrs. Studer, Mrs. M. Jones gave a resume of the remainder of God and His Purpose, the book which has been studied during the year. Mrs. R. Parker gave a reading entitled "Meditation on New Years" and Mrs. A. Purser on the Scriptures. A hymn and the Lord's Prayer brought the devotional period to a close.

Instead of mission study an interesting discussion took place with Mrs J. Whiteside as leader. Minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. The financial report showed the year's needs of over $1500 for the year and this was considered very good indeed for a small group. A vote of thanks was given to the treasurer, Mrs. A. Purser for her work in this respect.

Happy Birthday was sung to several of those present. The benediction brought the meeting to a close and tea was served by some of the members.

President Reviews Chamber of Commerce 1965 Record

Claude Underdown, President of the Vermilion Chamber of Commerce, reviewed the activities of that body at the annual meeting held Wednesday, Jan. 26th. The report, given by Mr. Underdown, follows:

"As your president, it is my privilege to give you a brief report of the activities of the Chamber during the past year. Before doing so I wish to thank each and everyone of you for the co-operation you have accorded me during my year in office, and particularly the members of the various committees and of the various committees.

ACTIVE, SUCCESSFUL YEAR

We have had, I believe, an active and successful year, although our total membership is down somewhat from the previous year. We have had good attendance at the weekly luncheons and have had some good speakers. Our members have shown a keen interest in the affairs of the Chamber and in all matters that came before us. This shows a community of effort which is the sustained each year so that as a result we are always ready and available to achieve the objectives for which we exist, namely the development and general good of the town and district.

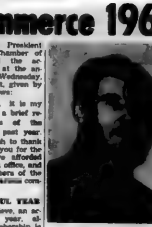
NEW LEASE APPRECIATED

As you will have noticed by the financial statement, the town made a grant of $2000 to the Chamber in 1965. On behalf of the Chamber I wish to thank the Town Council for this grant. It is a splendid thing for a Chamber of Commerce in a town to have the co-operation of the Council, which I am glad to say we have always had from the Town Council of Vermilion.

For the sake of brevity in this report I am going to just mention some of the various matters with which our Chamber concerned itself during the past year, namely:

FISHERY QUESTIONS

As in past years we again supported those resolutions coming from Edmonton East along High-way 16.



PLASTIC LUNCHEONS

Concerned ourselves with the relocation of the Seed Cleaning Plant so that it remained in Vermilion.

Sponsored a Farmers' Trophy Banquet which was a great success for which our thanks are due Mr Aldona Kret who chaired the committee in charge of the banquet and the members of his committee.

Gave our support to the holding of an Agricultural Short Course which provided a very interesting program and was greatly appreciated by those who attended. Mr. Morley Douglas, and Mr. John Johnson, chairman of the Agricultural Committee, are to be commended for this event.

We played host to the Bantam and Juvenile hockey teams.

Under the able direction of Mr. Russell Carroll, chairman of the Civic and Ways and Means Committee of the Chamber, a thorough town clean-up campaign was undertaken last May.

Also in May of last year our Chamber and the Vermilion Agricultural Society jointly put on a Spring Banquet addressed by Mr. Walker Brash, British Consul General in Minneapolis. This was the first time we joined with the Agricultural Society and we are due Mr Fred Brunscombe, chairman of the Entertainment Committee and the other members of the committee for a successful and interesting function.

RIVER MEMORIAL

The Airport Committee, under the chairmanship of Mr Gordon Allan and with the assistance of other members of the Chamber, put on a Fly-In Breakfast last June which was as usual much enjoyed.

MEETING THE PARTY

Our Park Committee under the chairmanship of Mr Suther-land made arrears where by our members took turns in visiting tourists camped in the park These visits were very much appreciated by the tourists and we received many favor able comments from them and even letters after they had left the district, thanking us for the visits and stating how much they had appreciated the same. This was excellent publicity for Ver milion.

NEW SIGNS

The Park Committee also replaced directional signs to the park with new signs which were greatly needed

We undertook the distribution of Economic Literature to high school students which matter was placed in the hands of the National Affairs Committee under the chairmanship of Mr Parsons.

Happy Hour W.A.

MANNVILLE — Members of the Happy Hour W.A. met at the home of Mrs. R. A. Legg on the evening of Jan. 13th. Mrs. N. Norman, president, presided. Reports, minutes and treasurer's statement were heard and accepted as presented. Visitors were welcomed and an invitation to join the group was extended.

Mrs. W. A. Swinton presented a most interesting Christian Education period.

Word is being ordered for Dessa work. Information in regard to a Prayer Partner for the group is being sought.

The hostess gift was won by Mrs. D. Pendilbeis. The meeting was adjourned and a delightful lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. J. L. Johnson.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. M Malin

TALKIES DATE SET THROUGH

Under the energetic chairmanship of Mr. John Stewart, the Retail Committee again put on a Vermilion Values Days promotion which Mr. Stewart reported to us resulted in much increased business for everyone of the Vermilion firms participating in this

The Chamber participated in the Foresters' Convention by tendering a luncheon to some of the delegates. They also paid the cost of pennants bearing the words "Vermilion Welcomes the Canadian Order of Foresters". We entertained visiting firefighters on the occasion of holding their training school here.

We are delighted to learn that Alberta Chamber of Commerce annual convention, to the annual meeting of the Alberta Tourist Association and a delegation in connection some of our delegates.

I attended also receiving the Friendship Train from Edmonton and the presentation to us of a lecture and our participation in the Friendship Train from Lloydminster to Edmonton.

CHILDREN'S PROGRAM

The Chamber put on its annual Children's Program at the Columbia Theatre and appreciated the 100 per cent co-operation and help of the manager, Mr. Grover Halferman

The Christmas Lighting Contest was again sponsored.

APPRECIATE LUNCHEON

Right here I wish to extend our thanks to Mr Barany, Principal of the VAVC and staff for the delightful luncheon tendered to our members in the new dining room at the college.

SERVICE COMMITTEE

I would also like to extend appreciation to Mr Champion, the chairman of the Membership Committee, Mr Ashley Cooper chairman of Publicity Committee, Mr. E. J. Smith, chairman Agricultural Committee and Mr John Webb, chairman of Roads Committee for the work done by their committees during the past year.

LONG RANGE OBJECTIVES

You will all remember I am sure Mr. Pat Marshall's address to us last Wednesday and I suggest that the incoming executive should refer to that address and the suggestions out of it when drawing up their objectives for the coming year.

C of C VALUABLE PART

In closing I would like to say I believe the Vermilion Chamber of Commerce is a valuable part of our community life and must carry work and assist

Night Classes At Mannville In Demand

MANNVILLE — Night classes in the Industrial Arts Department of Mannville School were begun on Dec. 14th and have continued with enthusiasm since the holiday season.

Sessions are held every Tuesday evening from 7 to 10. There are eleven students doing wood work and two working with re lated materials.

The lessons in woodcraft consist of studying and working with hand tools and processes for the first part of the course The remainder will be devoted to the study of and working with the power tools in the shop

So far the students have completed the tool review and an exercise on the five common joints. They are all working on their first project, a hand bench.

Those in related materials are now working in leather and metal tooling. They are modelling leather and will later carve and stamp the larger projects, some of which can be used in home

The metal tooling is a part of art metal study and of the many possibility of different types of metal that are commonly used

These classes are being conducted by Mr D Wade, Industrial Arts instructor of Mannville School.

Our home management specialist, Pat Macsiuk, tells me of a certain compact vacuum cleaning being sold for well over $200. The pitch was that if you preferred the salesman to a friend he would give you $25 off. The price is still far too high. Shop and compare prices.

Check the reliability of the company and read any contract thoroughly before signing. In this area last summer salesmen were taking down-payments on water softeners. Unsuspecting customers never saw the softener nor heard from the salesman again'

Often you will be offered an alternative package deal. If you buy a certain item, you get a bonus silverware and pot and pan sets fall into this category. A set of dishes or glassware might be offered as the bonus. Package deals on home freezers where the food is provided are another means of tricking the public.

"New" food products are sometimes sold with a piece of equipment "thrown in". When sold cost is figured out, it is usually considerably higher than the same products bought in the regular manner

Investigate these schemes carefully before buying Do not decide the same day! Those men have to make a living, but don't let them make it all on you

...thank you, Mr. Edison

Since Thomas Edison first transformed electricity into light hundreds of electrical servants have been developed. Today we merely flick a switch to light our way and lighten our work, to cook meals, refrigerate, launder clothes, clean homes, and provide entertainment through radio and television sets. Count the number of times you count on electricity each day and you see why National Electric Week has been set aside as a tribute to Thomas Edison - why people the whole world over say "Thank you, Mr. Edison, for your boon to mankind".

Valentine Day — Misty Myth or Fascinating Fact?

There are many myths about St. Valentine's Day but the one most often quoted and most apt perhaps, is that of the young priest named Valentine who was beheaded on February 14th, 270 A.D., simply because he brought young lovers together and secretly married them. This, the story goes, was a crime under the stern wartime edict of the cruel Emperor Claudius who had forbidden marriages. It seems that Claudius found married men made poor soldiers, being loath to leave their families to go to war. Before the self-hearted Valentine was led to his death, he penned a farewell note to his jailer's daughter who had been kind to him, and signed it "Your Valentine". Seems fitting that for almost seventeen hundred years, the sainted Valentine has been honored by lovers -- and all good friends too -- by the sending of gay, demure, endearing, cheering or jesting cards, on February 14. It is estimated that 70 million valentines will be bought and sent by Canadians this year.

Boy Scout Week — Feb. 20 to 26

A wholesome and healthy movement that has grown to international proportions is that of the Boy Scouts. This organization for boys is planned to inculcate in them the concepts of honor, courage, good fellowship and democracy, with respect for everyone's race, creed or color.

The Boy Scouts organization was first organized in England in 1908, by Sir Robert Stephenson Smyth Baden-Powell and from a small beginning has spread to almost every country in the world.

The members are trained to take care of themselves in the outdoors, to practice resourcefulness and self-reliance. The Boy Scout is taught handicrafts and nature-craft. He must also help others by doing at least one good deed each day. Their motto is "Be Prepared".

Boy Scout Week is held in February, the date including February 22, the birthday of the founder (1857-1941). This year, the "Week" will be from February 20 to 26.

HARES' URINE

The Ayerst Drug Company's enquiry about the possibility of collecting mares' urine in Alberta has aroused some interest. I don't suppose the horse industry has shown so much life since World War I. The approach was on the quiet and spawned far more rumors than fact.

In December the Ayerst Drug Company approached the Alberta Livestock Commissioner's office in Edmonton and asked if it would be possible to hitch 3000 mares by the fall of 1966. The representatives of the drug company were vague but suggested a possible return of $200 per mare. Hitching denotes the continuous stabling of mares with some collection apparatus during a period of seven months' pregnancy.

It would soon appear that the Ayerst Drug Co. was misinformed, because of Manitoba at the same time. Those Manitobans were enquiring about the purchase of Alberta horses. The answer to the puzzle, chewing on scraps of hay much means is to be made by farmers in the Brandon area. To date the D.A. office knows only that the project was made and the Livestock Commissioner would like the name of anyone interested.

60 BUSHELS OF BARLEY

This article entitled "60 Bushels of Barley per Acre" appeared in the last issue of the "Country Guide" has caused considerable discussion. A few people have asked my advice about writing to Dr. Bob Soper University of Manitoba. for his recommendations.

Several local farmers have been on a program similar to that described. Some of them have had it going for at least four years. What's more, they are happy barley growers.

The procedure is simple: Sell test in the fall; heavy fertilizer in the spring, use a good producing barley on well worked land and EARLY.

Taking advantage of modern know-how, happy barley growers sell test every fall that is to be cropped the following spring. Fall is the most convenient time to test. The lab results are mailed back with fertilizer recommendations to produce the maximum yield of a specified grade. In this case, bar-

If the recommendations built scares the farmer is advised to talk them over with his local D.A. Usually something close and better suited to prevailing yet-to-be-tried conditions is worked out. However where nutrients are scaled down, so are potential yields. Satisfied soil testers seem to be the farmers who follow recommendations to the letter.

A high yield of barley is only possible if the variety is right and it is grown on properly prepared soil. The variety, Jubilee is a high potential yielder. In 1964 there were crops in this area of over 100 bushels per acre. Contrast a new variety which will grade 3CW loads equally promising. If wild oats are a problem a field must be tackled with 2,4D or Carbyne. Barley sown like ever a period of years. Yields will be much lower but where the land is clean the high prices growers may be used.

Happy barley producers in this area are using 50 lbs of 11-48-0 before summerfallow and 100 lbs of 16-20-0 on second crop barley. 100 lbs of 23-23-0 per acre costs more than the same weight of 16-20-0 but is more effective both are safe recommendations on second crop. Neither of these however, will produce the yield possible by following soil test recommendations over a period of years.

Fertilizer will not solve the much field's problem any more than summerfallow does. Fertilizer will not solve the bush or degraded soil problem. To date the only practical way to improve bush soil (grey wooded) is to grow fertilized legumes for at least four years, then treat them like other soils for 2 or 3 years and back to legumes.

There are farms in Alberta that do not get response from the above mentioned fertilizers but have had success using pot. Potash doesn't seem to give results when applied in the form now mined in Saskatchewan. The only good results achieved so far have been from applying a complete fertilizer 16-20-0. To achieve the same results using 16-20-0 in place of 20 lbs of 11-48-0 at least 100 lbs of the urea are required. If 16-

Congregations Unite For Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the combined congregations of the Alliance Chapel, Vermilion, and the Alliance Tabernacle, Mannville, was held in the Vermilion Chapel on Wednesday, Feb. 2.

The business session convened at 8 p.m. under the chairmanship of the pastor, J. H. Bell, preceded by supper which began at 6 p.m.

The pastor's report indicated a year of activity. Several special speakers were guests during the year and their ministry is much appreciated.

Reports were presented from all departments of the work. Contributions for the local needs were down slightly for the year 1965, but this was more than offset by the generous contributions received for support of Home and Foreign Missions throughout the world. Average attendance at Sunday School showed a small decrease. A good increase was reported in offerings and interest through the year was maintained at a high level. The Women's Missionary Prayer Bands evidenced their liberal support of the local work and of missions abroad.

Election of officers for the year 1966 resulted as follows: Recording Sec. F. W. G. Clendenning Interim Sec., E. W. G. Clendenning Financial Sec., Don W. Bell Elders, A. D. Towell and A. R. Mix; Deacons, R. W. Mix N. Goodhand, W. O. Fleming, H. Harrison, D. W. Bell, Sunday School Superintendents — Vernon Mix A. D. Towell Marguerite. Mrs. E. Bauer Women's Missionary Prayer Band Presidents — Afternoon Group Mrs. W. McLennan Evening Group Mrs. Al. Curtis Youth Fellowship President Arnold Stauffer Librarian Mrs. H. Sampson.

Services were held as usual on Sunday, Feb. 6th. Pastor Bell was away on a preaching mission in Vancouver and in his absence the services were in charge of the Elders. In the morning Mr. Albert Towell was guest speaker his message's title was "The Word of God". The evening service was in charge of Albert Mix with Arnold Stauffer assisting. Guest speaker was Mr. Wm Aitken Irvin who has been in training at the Prairie Bible Institute Three Hills, Alberta, in preparation for missionary service in northern Canada. His sermon was based on the first chapter of the Epistle of John. Vocal selections were by Albert Mix a solo and a duet by Mrs. J. H. Bell and Mrs. Al Curtis. Visitors in the services included George and Maureen Gomas Edmonton who sang for members Mrs. Grace Carrah Bar-Ellen Clendenning of Red Deer visiting her family at home Mrs. Wm. Aitkin, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Barber Irma who accompanied the guest speaker of the evening service.

Border Kings And Tigers Tie It Up

The home town Tigers came from a two goal deficit twice on Sunday afternoon to gain a 5 to 5 tie in overtime with the Lloydminster Border Kings. It was in the opinion of fans and the best exhibition of hockey so far this season. The game was very fast and much team play was in evidence.

Each team scored three times in the first with the Border Kings having a 3 1 lead late away.

The second had a Border King tangle with Bevnyuk and Hubbard doing the only scoring.

The third saw the Tigers dominate O'Donnell and Fleming again put the Tigers on an even basis

In the 10 minute overtime session the Tigers had the only scoring chances but were held at bay by goalie Schultz.

Tigers lost a decision at Maidstone on Wednesday but won by a count of 9 to 7. The Tigers were playing with only eight men and ran out of steam in the final high scoring game.

In the first it was Checkitts from Fleming and O'Donnell, followed by John Belcourt assisted by Checkitts and Lynn Belcourt. The period ended 3 to 0.

In the second Maidstone broke their goose egg streak, Bobbing from Silkoski and Robb. Checkitts from Jerry Grosjean and Baker from Jerry Gregory and Townsend widened the gap to 4 to 1 at the end of the 2nd.

The Jets came out determined in the third and scored twice. Taves unassisted and Fiddler from Reither and Taves. Taves were matched by goals by Fleming from Hodgson and John Belcourt from Townsend and Reher. Reither from Fiddler made it 6 to 4 O'Donnell finished off the scoring at 7 to 4 on a combined effort with Checkitts and John Belcourt

BLIZZARDS STIMULATE SHELTERBELT INTEREST

There is nothing like a blizzard to whet interest on the prairie region is experiencing to make farmers appreciate the benefits of adequate shelterbelts around their farmsteads, fields, and along country roads. Such conditions have induced many farmers to order their trees early. As a result, the PFRA Tree Nursery at Indian Head has received thousands of applications, with 2,300,000 trees allocated by the end of December. That is a 50 percent increase over the 4,300 000 allocated by the same date last year.

In urging farmers to apply now in order to ensure having trees ordered filled, Dr. W. R. Cram, Nursery Superintendent, notes that all coniferous species have already been allotted, but that a full variety of deciduous trees are available for shipment in the spring. He says that despite the heavy demand, there are still adequate supplies of caragana, ash, Manitoba maple, American elm, and Siberian elm.

The two Canada Department of Agriculture nurseries at Indian Head and Swift Current distributed a record 11,000,000 tree seedlings and cuttings to farmers in 1965. According to Dr. Cram this points up the farmers' growing awareness of the value of trees planted around the farm home and in field shelterbelts. For field planting, Dr. Cram states that caragana appears to be the best all-around type of tree, but says that if additional height is desired, this can be achieved by planting some green ash in the row. He also suggests that trees planted along roadways to catch snow, should be spaced 150 feet from the centre of the road to obtain best results.

As orders for trees are filled on a first come, first served basis, it is recommended that orders be placed immediately with the PFRA Tree Nursery at Indian Head. The trees are provided free of charge except for freight costs.

Mannville School Staff Plans Education Week

MANNVILLE — At the regular Mannville School staff meeting plans for the forthcoming Education Week, March 14th to 18th were laid. The program will take the form of a fair, with students work on display in the gym. It was felt that the handling of science equipment could be best explained in the lab so this room will be open as well. Added features for the fair will be roving reporters and lunch. It is hoped that parents and interested persons will watch for the announcement of the date and time which will appear very shortly.

Mr. Krisker brought in the attention of the teachers that the Star Weekly was featuring articles on "The Captain of Canada" which would be of interest to them and the students.

The topic of student awards was discussed. This is to be considered by the public relations committee. It is hoped that organizations, business concerns and individuals of the Mannville district may become interested in stimulating student achievement by offering to sponsor awards in the many subject fields. This is already an established practise in other districts.

The subject of playing cards in a room time period was discussed. It was decided that no card playing should be allowed in the school or on the premises.

Students were to be informed once more that the sidewalks are to be used when the buses are loading or unloading - no cutting of corners.

The County Council has given permission to the principals to contact the Curtis Publishing Co if the Students' Union wish to use the Curtis plan for magazine sales as a fund raising scheme.

A report from the elementary wing was given re an order of books for the Professional Library. The meeting adjourned at 4:30 p.m.

IS CANCER A CURABLE DISEASE?

Medical science has learned much in recent years about the causes and treatment of cancer. We now know that a predictable percentage of people will develop cancer each year.

But, we also know that if the diagnosis is early, before cancer has the time to gain a firm foothold, at least half of cancer attached victims can be saved by present treatments. Until the soon expected cure for all is discovered, we urge you to get frequent medical check-ups.

A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Report from the Capital

Premier Manning is undoubtedly a remarkable man. A politician all his adult life, he has suffered few of the serious attacks on his integrity that plague most men in that hazardous trade. His interests range from preaching to farming and his knowledge covers the entire sphere of government affairs.

One of the things Mr. Manning does best is to speech the people who annoy him from time to time. There have been quite a number of them recently. Some like Neil Reimer, are quickly dispensed of. Asked recently to comment on a statement by the NDP leader, Mr. Manning retorted that he paid no attention to Mr. Reimer who "couldn't tell the truth if he tried".

A few years ago the former federal resources minister, Walter Dinsdale, made the mistake of commenting on a particular area of the oil and gas industry I can remember Mr Manning explaining with a pleasant smile "I could write a book on what that man doesn't know about the oil industry." He then proceeded to explain.

This is the power the premier's tone. The manner is that of a patient teacher with a bully student.

Last week the students included the federal minister of agriculture J. J. Greene, the former minister Harry Hays, the Southam Newspapers political expert, Charles Lynch, the government in Ottawa and an Indian girl studying at the U. of A. The list is composed entirely of mere mortals, obviously overmastered.

Mr. Manning noted that Mr. Greene had "a very poor memory" the day he told the house of commons no special request for aid to Peace River farmers had been received by the federal government. "He signed the letter rejecting the request", explained Mr Manning. And Mr. Hays "missed the point entirely" when he said the Alberta farmers could have been protected if the province had co-operated in a federal crop insurance feder. The premier pointed out that Ontario and Quebec have had just as long to get crop insurance but farmers there got $15,000 000 in special aid.

Mr. Lynch's error was to suggest that the Alberta premier calls the signals of the federal Social Credit leader. Robert Thompson. "It is totally false", said Mr. Manning. "The story was completely biased and unfair to the five Creeds in Ottawa."

The entire federal government was rapped on the farm assistance issue for discrimination. In aid to the provinces for Trans-Canada highway building, and for building the existing Fraser water plant in Nova Scotia instead of Alberta.

And 21-year-old Marie Small fare had her knuckles rapped for telling an Indian conference in Toronto that Alberta Indians can't vote in provincial elections. "They were given provincial voting rights at the last session of the legislature", said Mr. Manning.

Percentage of Horned Cattle Up

The percentage of horned cattle marketed in Alberta last year rose to 10.2 from 8.3 in 1964, Provincial averages for the four previous years were 6.8, 6.6, 5.9 and 8.3.

In commenting on last year's increase, Alberta Livestock Commissioner, W. H. T. Mead, pointed out that the breeding of of the provincial average, which had dropped from 17.4% in 1960 to 8.3% in 1964, coincided with the increased popularity of the cow-calf production program.

Mr Mead says that the large number of horned cattle delivered to markets during the months of June, July and August of 1965 fairly well substantiated the belief that the number of calves being dehorned by producers on the cow-calf program is increasing. A substantial number of the 1965 summer dehornes were fed calves from the 1964 calf crop. Severe weather conditions in the fall of 1964 and a cold late spring in 1965 undoubtedly interfered with the dehorning decisions of many cowmen at an early age creates a severe problem for their best management of both calves and stocker buyers. Since fall dehorning is risky, particularly for second owners, it is not uncommon for both export and feeder buyers to discriminate against horned calves by dropping their prices as much as $5 per cwt. In other words, the producer stands to lose from $2 to $10 per head when he sells horned calves under these unfavorable conditions. This loss, coupled in some cases with a horned cattle penalty, could be avoided by better management practices, says Mr. Mead. No cattle producer today can afford to ignore such losses.

Breage on the CNR

By ALLEN RONAGHAN, Consort, Alberta.

Many a prairie town has in its history a story about the "old town" or the "first site". We hear of "Old Vegreville", "Old Manin Ide", and "Island Lake". Vermilion has such a story too, and because of the careful habits of such men as the late John Brimacombe we know exactly what "Breage" looked like.

HOW IT HAPPENED

How did this happen?

When the Canadian Northern surveyors decided on a route north of the Beaver Hills Lake Hills, it was almost certain that there would be a town somewhere near where Vermilion now stands. The most northerly line of sections in Township 50 and range 6 was favored because the surveyors also wished to avoid crossing the deep valley of the Vermilion River.

Harry Bostock thought he knew of one likely location and homesteaded in that section where Bartell School was later built. Here he built a stopping place that still stands and farms in a short time Bill Muir stayed at "Bostock's". In June of 1903 Jack C'ward told of freighting supplies all of 1904 from Sasks toon to Bowtell". John Arnold arrived in August of 1904 and he also helped for Harry Bostall, it was a common thing for people to come to his place and stay in a headquarters while walking the land drivers, to find land on which to locate.

NEAREST P.O. VEGREVILLE

At first the nearest post office was Vegreville, but very soon the district needed a post office of its own and one was opened in April of 1905, with Matt Brimacombe as postmaster The post office was called Breage" Many an anxious pioneer wife received a letter from home ad dressed to "Breag- Saskatchewan N W T" as the district was in the postal district of Saskatchewan until it became a part of Alberta in September of that year.

The same building housed the store, Mr Ross in charge Raddaorth of the four blacksmith shop stood between it and the two-storey, frame stopping house

On May 16th, 1905, the Lloyd minster Times could report that a Presbyterian Church had been organized at Breage with Mr Wylie as pastor. Harry Bos tell M A Brimacombe and Mr Cowey as officers.

Harry Bostock thought he knew of one likely location and homesteaded in that section where Bartell School was later built Here he built a stopping place that still stands and farms in a short time Bill Muir stayed at "Bostock's". In June of 1903 Jack C'ward told of freighting supplies all of 1904 from Sasks toon to Bowtell". John Arnold arrived in August of 1904 and he also helped for Harry Bostall, it was a common thing for people to come to his place and stay in a headquarters while walking the land drivers, to find land on which to locate.

Mr Burris set up a practice at Breage in May of 1905. He got the use of Bowtell's office in return for doing some of his Land Guide office work. When all Breage moved to the present site of Vermilion in the fall of 1905 Dr Burris moved with B. setting up his office on Main Street practically opposite Long's Trans Store. Dr Burris tells of having to travel as far as Onion Lake and of performing operations by coal oil lamp

JUST A MEMORY

Breage was already just a memory after a mere eleven months as a post office. Many a pioneer who arrived in late 1905 came to the place at all

How it was on what Breage looked like, some time in the summer of 1905, Mr Bell a pioneer from Fort Saskatchewan asked to have them sent at Lennox to pass for a recent visit to the district. Mr Bell and his team and valuable horses at all points between Bell sold the photos he had printed in rest ing negative letters near the bottom of the photo "Breage on the C.N.R."

At Expo 67

Expo Habitat 67 will bring a new concept to the problems of urban dwelling. This new approach to integrated urban dwelling will be housed on Murray Pier. It is a complex of dwellings in which the roof of one house provides a garden for the one above. It is designed to bring the most attractive feature of suburban living to the heart of the city.

"1966 Ford quieter than my Jaguar? Not jolly likely!" said Rob Walker

... then he drove the Ford.

Ford's Count Man, who recently demonstrated the extraordinary quietness of the 1966 Ford to owners ... some of the world's most expensive motor cars, took it to meet the 66 Ford with Rob Walker at his family's estate in Worcester, England.

Compare your car with the quiet of Ford's solidly built body. Take a "Quiet Test" today.

British sportsman Rob Walker was skeptical about comparing the quiet of the '66 Ford with his hand-finished Jaguar Mark 10

... then he drove both cars, and said: "This really is astonishing". I believe this Ford of yours really is quieter and more relaxing.

Compare your car with the '66 Ford and you'll understand his astonishment. Ford's quiet ride is a direct result of more built-in quality ... a strong, solid body that gives you quietness that compares with the most costly of expensive automobiles.

Remember, quality means value for you because today's Fords are built for years of dependable operation ... years of owner satisfaction.

And with it all, of course, come Ford's wonderful new ideas for your comfort and convenience. Sliding Fold-Away Pillows ... Safety-Flo ventilation ... A Magic Doorgate ... an engine that swings out like a door, and down like a tailgate. And a host of other features offered first by Ford.

Visit your Ford Dealer for a quiet revolution of the solid quality you get in a Ford.

Prize Winners Named at St. Jerome's Declamation

The Declamation Contest, one of St. Jerome's annual highlights, was completed on February 2nd. This was undoubtedly the most successful event of this kind since declamation was introduced into the school program three years ago. It was indeed gratifying to note the excellent interpretations of the literary passages rendered by the contestants and the growth in platform poise that they have gained. For many students this was their first experience in public speaking.

Due to keen enthusiasm in Junior High, it was decided to hold the Junior and Intermediate Declamation Contests on Wednesday, February 2nd. Mr. Fisher, assisted by Mr. Pearson, was in charge of the junior contest, while Mr. Pearson assisted Mr. Fisher with the intermediate contest. Judges for the junior contest were Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Pearson and Mrs. Bradley. Judges for the intermediate contest were Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Pearson and Mrs. Bradley.

Both contests were closed to those delivering pieces memorized in their respective classes and confident that they had memorized their pieces perfectly. Unanimously students were selected to represent St. Jerome's in the Inter-Collegiate competition to be held in the Vermilion Legion Hall on Wednesday, February 16th.

Weather Breaks For Boulton

Warmer weather gave construction crews on the new building for the Toronto Dominion Bank a big assist this past week, and crews swung into action laying the cement blocks. The extremely cold weather forced a shut-down on construction, so that the building is well behind schedule. It is now expected to move in May 1st. The new Toronto Dominion Bank is a structure measuring 30 feet by 30 feet 6 ins and is estimated at $45,000. Shown in the new building from the left are Wm. Boulton, who is the owner of the present building, Wilbur Pool the contractor, and Robert Redner, manager of the Toronto Dominion Bank, who will occupy the building. The second picture is a general view of the new structure. The walls are now practically completed.

Brotherhood Week Feb. 20 to 27

Sunday is the beginning of Brotherhood Week in Canada.

Brotherhood Week is sponsored by the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews. The observance was begun in 1946 in a single Ontario community and has grown since until almost every major community in the country participate today.

Most people support the idea of the brotherhood of man. Unfortunately, however, not everyone makes use of the idea as a guide to daily living. Animosities and prejudices continue to drive wedges between people

The barriers cannot be removed by legislation because it is not possible to legislate changes in human nature. But it is possible to influence human attitudes by education. And this is where Brotherhood Week comes in. It directs attention on those things shared in common by all races and creeds.

This is a commendable effort The more people join together in support of the objectives of human brotherhood the sooner intolerance will fade

Everyone has something to gain from unity and a lot to lose because of discord. This is why everyone should support Brotherhood Week

White Cane Week

For one week in the year, you are asked to keep in mind the people, young and old, who have not the power of sight Some of those who are unable to see have become extraordinarily adept at skills by which they earn a living Many of the blind find their way around towns and cities, travelling on foot and by public transportation, asking for little help But there should always be available help every week in the year. If you see a blind person hesitating at a street crossing you'll know him by his white cane — offer your services to help him cross the street and then start him on his way. You will help him most if you say "This way sir," rather than by taking his arm

There are many ways in which you can serve your sightless neighbor

World Day Of Prayer

Locally, services will be held in St Saviour's Anglican Church at 2 p.m. under the sponsorship of Mrs. M. E. Tillett. It is expected that women from practically all Christian groups will participate including the Anglican Church United Church, Salvation Army and Missionary Alliance

In preparing the service to be followed this year the material is composed of fourteen Christians in Edinburgh, have kept in mind needs of churches around the world Africa, for instance asks special guidance for them in modernity in the face of their continent's rapid emergence to independence Asia's women request intercession for those who may be confused by the difference between democracy and Communism They pray also Prayer services in this country

GREEN ACRES

By H. MORLEY DOUGLAS
District Agriculturist

MANAGEMENT BY INCOME TAX

Under a prairie climate moisture conservation can be a limiting factor of any production. My guesstimate is about one year in ten on good black soil However, if a farmer fertilizes at maximum rates fifty pounds 11-48-0 after summerfallow or one hundred pounds of 23-20 after stubble over a ten year period he will, in the long run, be financially ahead Before ever barking upon a program of high fertilization and continuous cropping a farmer must be prepared to face occasional crop failure, one year in ten

Sandy soils lack the ability of clay and clay-loam to hold water They puree the sand the poorer the moisture capacity Consequently the higher the percentage of sand — the greater the risk from investing in fertilizer Similarly the advantages of summerfallowing are decreased by a higher sand percentage

Soil test results can be useful. Such tests, however, do have limitations A soil test is never better for the sample submitted and the time the sample was taken If the sample was not taken according to the instructions it will give misleading information A soil test taken in the fall will indicate the available nitrogen at that time as mineralization usually seeding time A warm moist spring increases available nitrogen and can throw a fall-based fertilizer recommendation out Naturally the people making the recommendations take these factors into consideration but so must the farmer Despite their shortcomings Alberta Department of Agriculture soil test recommendations are much superior to anything else available

There is a fertilizer company now operating in Alberta that claims all research is wrong. This company makes recommendations on their own based on over simplified tests In one particular instance they have gone so far as to recommend timing soil with a normal pH reaction Lime normally is timed to acid soils Their next step was to recommend an expensive complete fertilizer to produce maximum yields One thing certain follow all this procedure these companies will not remain in business for many years Unfortunately high pressure sales may hurt some farmers in the meantime

Disputed Goal In Crucial Game Beats The Tigers

A hotly contested goal one minute from the final bell broke a tie and gave the Lloydminster Border Kings a 3 to 2 win over the Tigers in the Rod-Gun Enterprises game last night. The game was played before the biggest crowd of the season, 1500 rink customers, in addition to all the season ticket holders.

The game had the fans in an uproar all night, goals were hard come by, both goalies were expert, and each team in turn was able to turn on power plays, keep the puck inside the blue line and send barrages of shots at Ken Brown in the Vermilion nets and Gerry Schultz guarding the Lloydminster citadel. Ken also pulled off two sensational saves on break-aways, robbing Gordie Hubbard and then Beverly, both came in on him in the clear from half way up the ice.

FIREWORKS START

with less than one minute to go in regulation time the score tied 2all, Moore of the Border Kings carried the park down and passed to McCrimmon on left wing, McCrimmon shot a long one, at the crucial moment Glen Armstrong skated in front of Ken Brown's goal crease in an attempt to screen the play and the puck caught the corner of the net.

1 1 goals

It was a long shot, wrist shot, not particularly fast, and would have been perhaps for any other netminder. The oddity was that referee Jerry Van Delsen acknowledged the interference by penalizing Armstrong, but still allowed the goal. This decision, in the opinion of hockey players, past and present, and of the fans, was contradictory yes, there was interference but the goal was scored as a result of an infringement of the rules, so it was allowed and resulted in two valuable points in the league standing being awarded to Lloydminster. If the goal was good there should have been no interference penalty If there was interference the goal should have been disallowed.

REIGN NOW SECOND

As a result of the game credited with the two points the Border Kings moved into second place one point above Vermilion.

MUST WIN WEDNESDAY

The Tigers have one more game left to play, and this is Vermilion on Wednesday. A win against the Vegreville Rangers in would give the Tigers two points and would assure them of second place.

LLOYD TAKES EARLY LEAD

The Border Kings took an early lead. Bill Moore blinding the Tigers in one minute and one second. McCrimmon but the visitors were up on Gordie Hubbard's pass.

The complexion brightened with Lynn Bellcourt and Gary Chwchuk combining to put Vermilion on the scoreboard. Moore of Lloyd went off for tripping and Tigers' George Townsend for cross-checking Glen Armstrong. The period ended Kings 2, Tigers 1.

SCORELESS SECOND

The second period was scoreless. John Bellcourt and George Townsend, Jim O'Connell and Glen Armstrong and Gerry Schultz and George Sievers getting penalties for the visitors.

THAT THIRD!

Thirteen minutes and 29 seconds went by before the crowd screaming for the equaliser before veteran George Townsend beat Schultz with the Bellcourt brothers in on the play.

Overtime loomed up when Henry Hodgson was waved off early in the period. Glen Armstrong was given the opportunity and Ken Brown a 16 minute vacation due to his vehement protests.

While the game looked to the high standard of Sunday's B - I title, it was even more exciting and packed by everything associated with hockey. Despite the high tension only nine penalties were called five to the Tigers, 4 to the Border Kings.

IS CANCER A CURABLE DISEASE?

Medical science has learned much in recent years about the causes and treatment of cancer. We now know that a predictable percentage of people will develop cancer each year.

But, we also know that if the diagnosis is early, before cancer has the time to gain a firm foothold, at least half of cancer attacked victims can be saved by present treatments. Until the exact cause or cure for all is discovered, we urge you to get frequent medical check-ups.

A NEW LOOK AT FIRE PREVENTION

By AUSTEN BURGESS
Fire Commissioner.

Fire protection-wise we learn something new every year. We understand that it is possible to detect the early stages of fire in a building by means of an electronic eye. On the other hand it is still not possible to prevent what persons will do or admit when handling matches or cigarettes. According to our latest fire loss statistics 17 Albertans, both adults and children, died from carelessness with cigarettes and matches during 1965.

In spite of the many new fields in consumer use, gasoline heads the list in yearly loss of life. Many people, first aware of gasoline is an explosive and highly dangerous liquid if not handled and stored under precise conditions. Eight persons died in Alberta as a result of accidents with petroleum products during 1965. After reviewing these statistics and the present daily fire loss newspaper headlines, we are somewhat pessimistic about the level of interest and concern about the fire loss situation. The fire loss picture in Alberta is very much similar to the situation elsewhere in Canada. We are no doubt the most reckless and most fire loss conditioned nation in the world.

Isn't it annoying to have this affluent, young country where there are abundant resources to make life both exciting and interesting and at the same time free from fire danger? Can it be that built-in safety and product certification are of less account than sales appeal? Since we tend to become more and more subject to fire hazards resulting from new materials, new processes and new designs, we ought to give greater attention to construction safety and to specialized protection.

Canadians can well afford this specialized protection. I predict that there will be a greater demand for automatic fire detection, compartmentation of buildings and other well known fire protection engineering safeguards when we become thoroughly disillusioned with the financial burden of higher fire losses. Certainly national fire waste is even now to such proportions that it is a financial burden to us all, but it is difficult to see any change in sight.

There is hope of high purpose and striking for a strong nation al identity in Canada's centen nial year. Why not a centennial year with greatly reduced fire losses? It might well be that this could have a great measure of public appeal. We have heard plans for a two-fin herring cele bration. Why not a centennial fire control project. CTCP for 1967.

I am sure Canada does not want to continue the reputation of a nation having the worst fire loss record. I am not at all sure that sound and proven fire prevention measures if more drastically presented and more rigidly enforced could change the picture.

4H DAIRY CLUB ENTERS CONTEST

The monthly meeting of the Vermilion Mannville 4-H Dairy Club was held on February 9th at the V.A.C., with nine members present.

It was decided to enter the contest sponsored by Radio Station CFVW, Camrose. The theme decided upon was "How to go about raising a Dairy Calf". A committee, consisting of Sharon, Isabel, Bruce and Harvey was formed to plan the house of Mr and Mrs. Hazen on Feb 13 to lay the foundation for the project. A general meeting in which all the members would take part and at which time the program would be recorded will be called at later date.

Capital Report

Pity the other parties. They're fresh from conventions that were out to whip them into shape for an election. Their leaders were sending election warnings and their organizers were supposed to be making feverish preparations for the voting day.

Then the premier called a press conference. He was asked about the results of Liberal leader Adrian Berry that a snap election might be called Mr. Manning shrugged tonight and he was going to play politics with people who are trying desperately to get their names in the papers and change the subject.

After it all only one thing remains abundantly clear. The premier was not to call an election with it as when he's good and ready. It doesn't have to be 1966 And he's not going to let the opposition by precipitate early pre-election activities.

The election talk that put under the premier as able to do is what might be called the normal pre-session talk with reporters.

News from Riverton

Once again we are enjoying seasonable winter weather after the severe cold spell which lasted about a month. It was so cold that even the curling at the local rink came to a halt. It is in full swing again now though. The days are bright and sunny, combined with beautiful moonlit nights, so there is very little dark time at all.

LADIES AID MEETING

The Riverton Ladies Club met on Feb 3rd at the home of Mrs. Gordon Mathison, with sixteen members present. As there was no January meeting because of the extreme cold, this was the annual meeting. The new president is Mrs. Mathison, vice president Beth Boothman, and Mrs. Hyatt agreed to carry on as secretary-treasurer. The different reports and various committees are the same as last year. Two of the quilts have been completed and names were drawn for them at the meeting. Mary Mathison and Mrs. E. S Spicer were the lucky winners. Mrs. Spicer very generously turned hers back to the club to be raffled to the general public. Committees were chosen for the making of two more quilts.

A belated birthday celebration in honor of Mr. Bob Spicer's birthday was held on Tuesday of February. All the family was present with the exception of Ariel who had fallen and dog and was hospitalized for a time. Our sympathy to Mrs. Helen Mathison who had the misfortune to fall while skating on the rink at the ball, breaking her right elbow. She is a patient in Vermilion Hospital at time of writing.

Miss Ellen Tinnamon of Edmonton is spending the week-end at the Bennie Tinnamon home.

Mr. Joan McDonald and boys were week-end visitors with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Parr. Doris accompanied her back to Edmonton to spend a few days with her.

Whitmore Winks

Last Saturday, Feb. 5th Glen Green treated a few of his friends to a toboggan party. All reported a wonderful time.

Mrs. Bob Smith has gone to Illinois to visit her daughter Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lynch and family.

The wedding of Linda N. Smith and Gary Walton was a truly lovely affair. After a snowy morning the day turned out fine and the sun shone in on the happy couple when they were pledging their sacred vows. The church was well filled, also the church basement for the reception.

Home at Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith's to attend the wedding were Adam Smith Jr. from the richer mines at Thompson, Man., Mr. and Mrs. Ron Stroteh and Stephen from Ponoka, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stroteh and family from Edmonton.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Cruthers over the week-end also to attend the Walton-Smith wedding were Mr and Mrs Ken Shepherd and family and Allie Cruthers from Edmonton.

Tigers Trailing Vegreville Rangers Two Games to Nil

Vermilion Tigers lost the first game of the best of seven semi final E.A.H.L. playoff to the Vegreville Rangers on Friday night by a 3-1 score. It was all tied 1 1 until a few minutes from the final bell when the Rangers went ahead 2-1. The Tigers pulled their goalie in a desperate effort to score the equalizer only to have Zukiwsky score into the open net.

Lynn Belleaurt scored the lone Vermilion counter. It was Letain, Duncan and Zukowsky for Vegreville.

SECOND GAME

Playing on home ice Monday the Tigers failed to produce their usual brand of hockey and were out on the short end of a 7 to 3 score.

This places the tactical squad in the unhappy position of having to win four of the next five games in order to complete the play off trail leading to the Craig Cup.

The third game of the series is being played tonight (Wednesday) in Vegreville.

SATURDAY IN VERMILION

Fourth game will be played in the Vermilion Stadium on Saturday, Feb 26th at 8 p.m. All hockey fans are urged to turn out and support their Tigers who may be fighting for their lives in this fixture.

River Valley Farmers Meet Resources Officials

A delegation of Vermilion River Valley farmers have taken their problems to the government. A delegation consisting of D. E. Hlinka, Reeve, George Landells, accompanied by Hon. Anders Aalborg as M.L.A. for Alexandra, held a meeting with the Hon. Harry Strom, Minister of Agriculture, on February 7th.

Chairman McGuigan, of the County Council, and Councillor Forbes were also present, as well as engineers from the Water Resources Branch of the Department of Agriculture.

The delegation outlined the problems which farmers in the valley have had in recent years, particularly the loss of hay crops due to changes in flooding patterns and the silting up of the river bed, and a shortage of water. Their intention was to ask the government to make a thorough study of the problem and see whether they could come up with some answer.

The government officials told the delegation that the Water Resources Branch has already launched on a large scale survey of the problems of the whole Vermilion River Valley. They said that similar problems have been encountered all along the river by reason of excess water and silt. They say that the survey is already one-third complete and that its results should be known in about eighteen months. They say that when all the information is available they hope to come up with a plan which may involve dams, dikes and dugging of channels. In order to do the most for everybody. They think that there is a possibility that this might become an ARDA project.

The delegation urged the officials to take a look at the particular problems this summer and see whether something can be done to help out until the survey and the resulting projects are completed.

The officials, at the delegation's suggestion, said that they would see whether the excess water from the dam at Vermilion can be released before the spring runoff. They say that some water has to be let out so that the dam can take care of the runoff. They think that this can be done, and they will notify the Farmers in the area before the water is released, so that any hay can be removed from the hay meadows. You should watch your Standard for a government announcement.

The government officials point out that they can only act on the suggestion of the municipalities and they had praise for the committee involved who are taking an active part in promoting the welfare of the river and the landowners.

Daviduk of Innisfree Cops Grand Challenge

Darwin Daviduk and his Innisfree foursome were the lone undefeated rink to emerge unscathed from Vermilion's 55th Annual Bonspiel. This was no mean consequence for Skip Daviduk as he won the challenge here in 1963 and last year took the second event. Personnel of the championship rink were Orest Hlus, lead; Harry Hlus, second; Bohdan Daviduk, third; and skip Darwin Daviduk.

FINAL GAMES

Two of the four final games were real thrillers while the Challenge was settled in the tenth end when the losing rink broke a couple of Mannville stoppers back to far to be able to overtake Daviduk in the final end and elected to throw in the towel. The Innisfree boys seemed to be in complete control from the start.

A NICE VALENTINE

People along highway 16 from Lloydminster through Vermilion and all the way to Edmonton were delighted with the Valentine presented to them on Feb. 14th by the Department of Highways through the Minister Mr. Taylor last week. The plan outlined resembles a crash program, and if the work is undertaken at the same rate each year, the required new road will be completed in three seasons. Mr. Taylor referred to highway 16 as a main trans-Canada artery and indicated that in his opinion its importance and volume of traffic would be close to that of No. 1 when the Yellowhead portion of the route in B.C. is completed. This too is being pushed by the B.C. government.

When the route commonly referred to as the Yellowhead route is finished, many are of the opinion that the traffic will exceed that of Trans-Canada No. 1 as the country northward has so much more to offer in scenery, in parks, in lakes, than the flat expanses through which, for the most part No. 1 runs, until reaching the Rockies.

Letter to Editor

Dear Editor:

My wife and I were quite interested in the article written by Jim Thompson in last week's Standard regarding "Swagger" the Vermilion's first name. In that final last summer we stayed in a place named Swagge in Cornwall in fact my wife's father, Alfred Johns, was born in the parish of Bryan in 1880 and was married in Swagge parish church in 1906.

At one time a lot of the mining was done in this part of the country and one can still see numerous mounds of mining as well as mine shafts all around, but in 1891 the mines were all closed down owing to cheap tin being imported from Dutch and the Straits mines, but to go in all parts of the earth it is quite possible that some mine-owner from Swagge in Cornwall was responsible for our name of Vermilion first being given to, after his old England home.

Yours truly
Graham Skinner

GREEN ACRES

By H. HORLEY DOUGLAS
Farm Business Analyst

FARM BUSINESS ANALYSIS

D A work has its rush periods. January and February are the peak. Like a farmers' combine the D.A. could be used to better advantage and serve more people if time would allow. Things never seem to get done so important jobs until either spring comes or a man-made time limits do the same. Meanwhile time marks have cut off. Farm Business Analysis for another year. Analysis is truly a scientific way of making sound recommendations. It is time consuming but it really helps the twenty or so farmers who use the service. If most farmers availed themselves of a service which allows them keep track of financial side of the farm, there would be more wealthy farmers in the county. If more people availed themselves of this service or demanded the service a hundred farm management specialist may be made available to them.

LIME IN FERTILIZER

I have to say farmers get taken. The following article written by Mr. J. Fitzsimmons Supervisor of Soil Alberta Department of Agriculture would indicate that for what happens when a fellow purchases a barrel of liquid fertilizer.

The use of liquid fertilizers on cereal and forage crops in Alberta is not an economical proposition.

A W Goettel provincial superintendent of soils, reports that tests conducted in Alberta have shown that although liquid and granular fertilizers containing the same amount of plant nutrients are equally effective for normal growing crop yields, liquid fertilizers are not economical at current prices. He points out that the same amount of nutrients cost more than five times as much in the liquid as they do in the granular form.

If, for example, 25 pounds of phosphate were required per acre it would take 8 gallons of 10-20-10 liquid fertilizer to provide this amount of plant nutrient at a cost of $12.00 per acre if the other hand the same amount of phosphate in the form of 90 pounds of 11-48-0 granular fertilizer would cost less than $3.60 per acre. These figures were arrived at by using liquid fertilizer weighing 12 pounds per gallon at $6.75 per gallon and granular fertilizer costing $130.00 per ton.

Although liquid fertilizers can be applied to the seed, the row or the leaves, of crops none of these application methods are economical says Mr Goettel. In the case of cereal crops the application of liquid fertilizers may prevent some plants from. For example, 20 to 25 pounds of nitrogen and 25 pounds of phosphate could not be applied to a good treatment because liquid fertilizers applied in this way would only supply a few ounces of plant nutrients where as a 10 pounds are required.

The application of liquid fertilizers to the seed row, can supply sufficient quantities of nutrients provided enough of the fertilizer is used. This may be accomplished using from 10 gallons of liquid fertilizer per acre.

The benefits of liquid fertilizers applied to the leaves of cereal crops are limited however the required additions of nutrients cannot be supplied entirely

WEEDS IN OUR ECONOMY

By RALPH WILSON
County Agricultural Professor

Weeds, according to the economist, could probably be the most costly pests of farmers, more money than do all of the other hazards put together.

If we translate their figures as they would apply to our part of County it would show a picture is startling like this

We have in our County of Vermilion River some 780,000 acres of cultivated land Of this amount roughly 400,000 acres are seeded annually to cereal crops. The remaining 380,000 acres being made up of agricultural crops cultivated like hay crops and summerfallow The losses are as follows:

1 Roughly 15 to 16% of the crop potential is lost each year to weed competition $2,880,000.00

2 Additional tillage made necessary by weed infestation. In seeding summerfallow the cost is figured will run about $600,000.00

3 Delayed seeding and the planting of early maturing varieties yielding approximately 25 per cent less than the later varieties or about 20% of our crop land will not be harvested costing $575,000.00

4 Dockage amounting to about 1.5% of the total crop value is also another $500,000

5 From 65% of the total crop area is sprayed each year with other chemicals at a total cost of $100,000.00

Thus it is seen that weeds pose an annual cost to the farmers of this County of roughly $4,555,000.00 or about $5.85.00 per farm.

It made money to grow weeds as a foliar spray

Fertilizers, says Mr. Goettel, should always be purchased on the basis of their price per pound of plant nutrient rather than on their price per ton. In Alberta, the granular form of nitrogen, phosphate and potassium costs approximately 11c 8c and 3c per pound respectively The cost of the equivalent amount of nitrogen phosphate and potassium in the liquid fertilizer 10-30-10 is 40c 30c and 60c per pound respectively

Accordingly Thomas should try some liquid fertilizer on a field

leave a strip and apply a strip of dry fertilizer. Anyone wishing assistance may have trials set up on their fields by the County of Vermilion River

Kinsmen Celebrate 46th Anniversary

This month is the 46th Anniversary of the Association of Kinsmen Clubs throughout Canada.

Kinsmenship was born in a small cafe in the city of Hamilton, Ontario, February 20 1920. Hal Rogers, with an urgent desire to continue enjoying the fellowship of fellows he had met during the First World War, invited twelve young men to that dinner meeting. Now it is big and sprang up as a result of members having transferred to various parts of Canada

In some 46 years, Kinsmen throughout Canada have spent more than $25 million on service projects. One of the more significant national projects was the Milk for Britain fund. From 1941 to 1945 $2,630,000.00 had been raised and delivered 50 million quarts of milk shipped to the children of Britain.

The Association of Kinsmen Clubs is a truly Canadian organization of young business and professional men, who, for the betterment of service and fellowship are a way of life throughout Canada.

Two of the objectives of Kinsmen are to foster the highest modern business and professional methods and ethics and to carry on services within their communities.

So fellow Kin let's join with some 13,000 Kinsmen in members and salute our founder Harold (Hal) Rogers on the 46th anniversary of the Association of Kinsmen Clubs.

Alberta Will Provide Free Measles Vaccine

The Hon. J. Donovan Ross Minister of Health, has announced that measles vaccine will now be available for all children in Alberta who are between three months and three years of age and who have not had the disease The measles vaccine will be given at clinics to be held throughout the province by City Health Departments, the Health Units and Municipal Nursing Services.

Measles vaccine has now been in use in North America on a large scale for two and a half years and has been shown to be a safe and effective way of preventing measles Contrary to popular belief measles is not just a simple childhood disease but can be very serious with complications. In 1961 in Alberta 15 preschool children died as a result of measles and many more were made seriously ill.

Dr. Ross said that the new group from three months to 3 years had been selected to receive the vaccine since children in this age group are likely to be most seriously ill as a result of measles.

Alberta is the first province to undertake a program of providing new vaccine to all young children. It is estimated that 80,000 children will be eligible to attend the clinics.

The schedule recommended is three doses of killed vaccine one month apart followed 7 months later by a live dose of measles vaccine. The Health Department officials said that this schedule provided the best protection for the child and at the same time the least reaction from the vaccine. Killed and live vaccines cannot be used in combination before in the polio vaccination program where a series of daily injections a killed vaccine is followed by a dose of Salk's oral polio vaccine (a live vaccine).

Local Bob Cats Advance In Juvenile Play Offs

Vermilion Legion Bob Cats have advanced to the second round of Alberta Juvenile playoffs, eliminating the Lac La Biche Katchewan entry by a total of 15 goals to 4.

The Bob Cats had come home from the Fort with a slim 5 to 1 victory, then on home ice with a nice crowd of rooters in attendance on Monday afternoon, romped to a 10-3 win, and looked very impressive in chalking up the margin.

Only one sour note entered the picture as hefty defenseman Norm Anderson suffered a dislocated shoulder. He was taken to hospital where the shoulder was set. He might miss the rest of the play-offs. Norm is a real leader and will be missed by the Bob Cat defence when the going gets tough.

Derek Beattie, nicely recovered from his bout with pneumonia, topped home 4 goals. Darryn Heinemann had 1 goal and 3 assists, Scott Williams 2 goals and 1 assist, Richard Nelson 2 and 1. Evan Hughes 1 and 1. Assists went to Wayne Maughan 2, Mel Reid 2, Gary Tkaczyk and Kevin Gannon.

Scoring for the Fort was done by Stroeve, Christie, Elliott from Cummings, Christie

Coach Les Kreller and team manager Bob Maughan were all smiles after the game as their Bob Cats had given a very polished performance.

FOOD COSTS

The Farmers Union of Alberta supports the Calgary group protesting the rise in food prices and agrees that a "good look" at the industry may be necessary.

Statistics released to the Canadian Federation of Agriculture Convention in Toronto in the latter part of January showed that farmers are receiving approximately the same today for their products as they were 15 years ago yet their costs of production have increased more than 30%

This coupled with the Dominion Bureau of Statistics report that in the 1953-63 period the consumer price index rose by a yearly average of 1.4 while the labor wage index rose at an average of 3.1 makes us wonder if the farmer would be today had the farmer received an equivalent price increase for his produce.

Volume one of the Royal Commission on prices spreads of food products states in paragraph 1 page 13, that "the profits of chain stores were substantially higher than profits of wholesale-retail profits of the five major chains were more than double than 13% in any year) 1948-1957 period." This refers to rates of return on investment after taxes.

We question whether all the so-called refinements that have been built into our food processing are necessary, or if they have been jolted for by the consumer.

The Mayans invented their calendar about 300 B.C.

ROTARY Marks A Milestone

Rotarians of Vermilion are this week observing the 61st anniversary of the founding of the first Rotary Club. Within the next few days, more than 581,500 Rotarians who belong to 12,640 clubs in 131 countries will have celebrated this occasion.

Rotary began in Chicago on February 23, 1905, when four business associates came together to lessen the loneliness in their lives and to test the founder's belief that business relations could — and should — foster friendly relations. Business practices, thought the founder, need not be a barrier to friendship.

Since those early days, Rotary has become a prime mover in community betterment work, youth activities, helping the crippled and the handicapped, raising the standards of business and professional practices, and in forming friendly personal ties among men that have contributed to better international understanding.

It has long been our observ-on that Rotarians believe in practicing rather than preaching. They are more concerned with finding new opportunities for service than with patting themselves on the back for past achievements.

The Rotary Club of this community, as do other Rotary Clubs in their communities, helps in many ways to make Vermilion a better place to live and to work and to raise happy, healthy families.

Our congratulations to Rotarians of this community on this anniversary. We wish for the Rotary Club of the world continued success in rendering the kind of creative service to humanity for which Rotary is especially suited.

Local Club Marks Rotary Anniversary

This week the Rotary Club of Vermilion observes the 61st anniversary of the founding of Rotary in Chicago, Illinois. The local club's plans for marking the milestone include a review of the club's achievements from 1955 to 1965.

J. V. Kunka, president of the local Rotary Club in announcing the anniversary observing said "The celebration of the occasion by clubs in every of the three are more than 12,200 Rotary Clubs and 581,500 Rotarians in 131 countries. Thus Rotary meetings marking this occasion will be held in many languages including Arabic Burmese Flemish Gaelic, Korean Japanese and Persian."

The Rotary Club of Vermilion, organized in 1933, has 44 members, each a business or professional man of this community

The membership at the club is composed of one man from each business or professional activity.

Rotary provides a cross section of the town's business life. Its aims for membership begin with the first club and has continued through the years to become a major characteristic of every Rotary organization.

The program of Rotary in each community is determined by the club itself. Here in Vermilion the Rotary Club sponsors the skating carnival, Youth Exchange program and sends a student to Ottawa as an Ambassador in Citizenship.

The local club is grouped with 30 other Rotary Clubs in this area to form a Rotary district. The district's programs is being grouped with two other districts one in Lebanon and one in France, with a view to mutual understanding and world peace.

THE ROTARY CREED

Rotary has a creed which it lives by. Rotarians live up to it. It is known as the four way test. It is as follows:

Is it the truth?
Is it fair to all concerned?
Will it build goodwill and better friendships?
Will it be beneficial to all concerned?

Fire Destroys East End Home

Fire of unknown origin called the Vermilion Fire Brigade into action on the night of Wednesday Feb. 9th at approximately 7:30

Mr. Wes Lamport and a young lad, Terry Gibbons, were in the basement of the small house at the time and were doing some work in the floor above when they heard a noise and strange noises. On coming up from the basement they found the whole east wall in flames.

Both Mr. Lamport and Terry suffered slight burns to their hands.

The fire brigade responded in record time and soon had the fire under control in the main part of the house. The fire however, had reached the attic where there were shavings used for insulation purposes. As there were two attics in the house it was harder to penetrate this area and the fire burned furiously, making it difficult to bring under control. By about 9:30 the trucks were able to leave the scene and checks were made throughout the night to make sure all was safe.

Under the fire damage were extensive and it is not known yet if it will be feasible to repair the burned structure. The property which belongs to Mr. Lamport, was insured.

Fortunately no one was living in the house at the time as there was only a stove, a heater and a washing machine in it. The property of Mr. Tom Watt, the former tenant. These articles were destroyed.

WHAT IS A GENERIC NAME?

A generic name is the basic name for a group of similar drugs. But, it does not mean that all of these products are the same in quality. This fact may not be important for some types of products but it certainly is when it comes to medicines. This is why your physician specifies a brand name in which he has faith when he writes you a prescription.

Brand names may sometimes cost a little more but the assurance of quality and effectiveness more than makes up for this. When it comes to health no one can afford to buy off-brands. We prefer only those drugs made by the reputable pharmaceutical firms.

A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

ELECTRICITY

...the biggest bargain in your family budget

Think of your electric utility bill in terms of the work electricity has done for you, and see why we say electricity is the biggest bargain in your family budget.

Electricity does so much for so little. It cooks, cleans, heats, cools, freezes, washes, illuminates and entertains for only pennies a day.

The use of electricity in the home is growing constantly, yet the average unit price of electricity is less than half of what it was thirty years ago. Power-saving research and planning for the future by your Canadian Utilities Limited electrical engineers enable your Canadian utility companies to provide greater and more dependable electric service at a lower cost.

Make electricity do more work for you — It is the biggest bargain in your family budget.

RATS

By RALPH WILSON,
County Agricultural Fieldsman

Mr. Gurba, supervisor of crop protection and pest control for the province of Alberta in his year end report, states that Alberta is once again rat free. This statement should not lull us into complacency. Constant vigilance is the price that we must pay if we are to remain free of this pest. It must be remembered that one pair of rats undetected, could cause a large area to become infested within a very short time.

Rats are notorious for their habit of hitching rides on trucks and other vehicles. Outbreaks have been known to occur many miles from any known infestation. Hiding in feed stacks or under granaries, chicken houses and feeders should be carefully investigated.

County residents are urged to report any suspicious sign to your local Pest Control Officer at the County Office, Kitscoty.

Sun Life To Increase Dividends $60 Million

Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada had record earnings during 1965 and will increase dividends in participating policy holders in 1966, according to an announcement following the company's annual meeting in Montreal. This will be the seventeenth consecutive year in which dividend disbursements have been increased by changes in the dividend scale.

Sales in 1965 amounted to $1,317,125,000 bringing total life insurance in force to $13,502,907,000 up 7% over the year. Ordinary life insurance sales increased by 9% to $915,389,000 and group life insurance sales were substantial at $399,736,000.

Health insurance in force with premiums per annum amounting to $14,796,000 showed an increase of 18%.

Payments to policy holders, beneficiaries and annuitants during 1965 established a record at $214,005,000.

Assets of the company increased $136,754,000 to $2,970,295,000. The gross rate of interest earned on the assets in the life branch was 5.62% or .22% over the 1964 rate. After adjustment for investment taxes and expenses, the net rate of interest earned during 1965 was 5.38%.

As a result of increased earnings, control of expenses and favorable mortality rate, the company will adjust dividend scales and pay an estimated $60,384,000 to participating policy holders in 1966. This is $5,400,000 more than in 1965.

Outlining the contribution life insurance has made to the welfare and well-being of Canadians, Mr. Campbell commented: "I do not believe there has been a full realization of what life insurance and health insurance have done, are doing and will continue to do to fulfill such a noble objective."

POSTMASTER TED HERBERT WISHES GEO. MARTIN WELL ON LAST TRIP

Mailman For 27 Years George Martin Retires

After seeing over 27 years of service as mailman on three mail routes operating out of Vermilion, George Martin has decided to call it a day. George is seen in the above picture as he started out on his last rural mail trip.

When R.R. No. 3 was first started George started with it and he says that it was a day to remember! It had rained for three whole days, and with little or no gravelled roads, a fifty four mile trip was a day's work. Besides the mail routes there were five country post offices to serve in the south.

In 1941 following the death of Harry Armstrong the former mail carrier, George took over the operation of Rural Route No. 2 for the unexpired term of the contract which had over a full year to go. He was then awarded the contract and has held it until the present time.

In 1942 he contracted for R.R. No. 4. This contract had been held by George Hilvert but was operated by Johnny Brady

Each of the mail routes has been extended since their beginnings. The original R.R. 3 which was 54 miles to start is now 89 miles and is due for an addition of eight more miles. Of the original householders on R.R. 3 #2, 3 and 4 there are only six left, although most of the boxes are still in the service of the same families.

George remembers that some of the people who were sitting on the roadside that very first day, still meet him occasionally and reminiscences of old times and old neighbors are exchanged.

"Yes" said George "I have had some nightmarish days but also some wonderful memories and by the time the people read this in the Standard I will have finished the job and turned over the routes to my appointed successor I trust that you will all treat him as well as you have treated me through my years of service My best wishes to each and every one of you." And so with these thoughts George Martin mail carrier on rural routes for the past 27 years retires. A book could be written on his experiences particularly on the early days of his service when travelling conditions were a far cry from what they are today and a book could be written on the many favors and services he rendered services far beyond the call of duty

Mr. Martin is now succeeded by Valley Watt who carries on as mail carrier on Rural Route No. 2.

A History of Alberta's Agricultural Colleges

Copies of a book entitled "Alberta Schools of Agriculture" are now available from the Director of Agricultural and Vocational Colleges, Alberta Department of Agriculture Edmonton.

Written by E. B. Swindlehurst, a graduate of the Vermilion School of Agriculture and former supervisor of the provincial Radio and Information Division, the book traces the developments and main events which took place in the first half century of these establishments, now known as agricultural and vocational colleges. In doing so, it provides a great deal of interesting information on prairie practices from 1913 to 1963. Much of this information was taken from personal interviews with people who have been connected with the colleges over the years. The illustrations provide a comprehensive picture of college life of 50 years ago up to the present.

Graduates of the provincial agricultural and vocational colleges will find it well worth their while to get "Alberta Schools of Agriculture" for the modest price of $2.00 a copy.

Cost of Living Reaches New High

The cost of living index reached a record 141.2 at the end of January, according to a report from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, representing a rise of slightly more than 3% over what it was last year at the same time. In addition, the latest available data show that average industrial wages and salaries rose by some 6 per cent between November 1964 and November 1965.

While these statistics may give immediate cause for alarm, they do indicate an economic condition that should be carefully watched, for they signal lurking inflation. In the years ahead, Canada will have to move into domestic and international markets under increasingly competitive conditions, if we are to achieve sustained and balanced economic growth. Inflation affects, therefore, to have its competitive position eroded by ever-mounting costs. Nor can Canadians, particularly those with fixed incomes such as pensioners, afford ever-rising prices.

RURAL LEADERSHIP

Wonder what happened to the Vermilion D. A. seminar? Man by Douglas was drafted to the Rural Leadership Course at Banff from Feb 21 to Mar 4th. There is some question whether he will be too sent.

Morley reports the weather is wonderful. Snow are 23 men and ten women prospect Students are sponsored by the University Extension Department F.U.A. Alberta Wheat Pool and Victoria Grain Growers. Norman Jones and Cole Hall from Vermilion are attending. Norman is sponsored by the Alberta Wheat Pool and John by the United Grain Growers. There are two D.A.'s and two D.H.E.'s sponsored by the Alberta Department of Agriculture. This is the first time that the Department has seen fit to send staff.

The Leadership School teaches communications, public speaking, public relations, executive, group, dynamics, etc. Leadership is difficult to describe. Leadership must be experienced to be understood. Consequently it is rather difficult to describe what such a course involves.

There is however, no doubt in question in Alberta that Leadership Course has been going on since 1938 every-one knows we must have more leaders, better leaders, but it has become increasingly difficult to get people to attend. Directly it is certainly to be congratulated for having chosen two young farmers to be sent to this Rural Leadership Course. Perhaps in years to come Rural Leadership Courses may be offered through out the province.

SLOW MOVING TRAFFIC!!!

Last spring most 646 Cubs in Alberta participated in a program of selling slow moving vehicle signs. These emblems are [illegible] strike them on the rear of public roadways. In all the most cars produce still having marketing in a few years.

The emblem, which is stand and all across Canada is a red triangle with an orange border. The red triangle is visible in daylight and the orange [illegible] border is reflectorized so night-time and The idea of this emblem is to warn faster moving traffic and prevent rear-end collisions. Most effective the emblem will be depends on the fastest publicity about it and safety use being made of it as it does indeed serve as a warning to operators of fast-moving traffic.

While we commend the 646 Cubs were quite successful in their sales campaign, we have only one shortcoming to make problem to us. We do notice a lot of travelling about in the country as it appears that a lot of these emblems have been [illegible] they are on the "things that might be useful someday" pile to be used on the back of a truck. This is a misuse of the sign and such misuse will frustrate the whole purpose of the campaign.

The slow moving vehicle emblem is designed to [illegible] fast moving traffic from slow moving traffic but it also works the other way round for the operator of a tractor or truck is from behind by a car is in more danger than the car behind.

The 146 Cubs will be selling [illegible] Monday afternoon [illegible] Vermilion and we strongly urge anyone operating such vehicles on or public roads to procure emblems and to use them and use them correctly.

PARENT EDUCATION . . .
How Can It Be Helpful?

This article is being written in the hope of improving understanding and further develop ment of education in child rearing. The term parent education is sometimes used to cover discussion ways by which parents are assisted in bringing up physically and emotionally healthy children. This applies to every mother from your doctor's advice during the period up at a parents' meeting. There is an enormity of this information and from so many sources that it is little wonder that sometimes parent education appears to be so confusing! Let's take a look at what it is receiving this attention these days. (1) We now have found for the existence of a true science to be from behind by a car is in more danger than the car behind.

is also the president of the C. of C. This event is met by a telegram from Ottawa and is paid by the businessmen, not the residential taxpayer. Other questions and quibbles arose but all were either answered or the question referred to a meeting to be held soon.

HOSPITAL STATEMENT

W. L. Roderick put a new and simplified hospital statement, showing receipts and disbursements in operating costs. This was compared to the provincial figures of 12 per cent for 1965 as opposed with a deficit of $4,077, mainly owing to the very increased cost for meals.

TO SPEND $30,000

The hospital board is in the planning stage of numerous projects involving the expenditure of some $30,000. Included in these are remodelling and modernizing the nurses' residence facilities, and providing air-conditioning in certain areas of the hospital. Also, proposed changes in the Provincial Salary Act would necessitate changes in this department. The money for these alterations is in hand. Also looming are increases in the rate structure.

OTHER BUSINESS

Prior to the adjournment of the meeting discussion centered around the problem of water breaks and pressure and of the traffic problem now existing on 52nd Avenue near the United Church. Both problems are presently under Council's consideration.

ENLIGHTENING MEETING

For the ratepayers who attended, the meeting answered many of their questions, and the factual reports given during the evening gave much food for thought. A vote of thanks was extended to all principals, including taxpayers.

St. Jerome's Presents Enjoyable Drama Night

Drama Night, February 5th was an enjoyable one for both parents, staff and students at St. Jerome's School. A large cast of Grade VII students presented a comedy, "The Stolen Prince". Fine costuming and make-up transported the audience to the Far East for some hilarious entertainment. The highlight of the play was the excellent characterization, by Carl Kaz lewhke, of a bored prepperty man which character started in the pompous narrator played by Alister MacMillan.

"Way Way Down East" a tragic roaring melodrama of the 90's was the second performance by the Grade VII class. The fine acting of Albert Schrander materialized the villain perfectly, eliciting appropriate boos after each appearance from the audience. Alberta's expressive voice led the cast in the role of blessing and being of the villain providing those present with fine class entertainment.

Mrs. McGaughey's fine direction and casting for both Grade VII plays was commendable.

Sister Rosanna's choice of Robert Gard's "Johnny Dunn for her Grade VIII class was a real hit. The audience joyfully relived Alberta's past by means of Johnny's (John Ganton) tall tales. The lively participation of the large cast and the narrator, Helen Martinew urged Johnny on to bigger and better tales. The superb performance of the part of Mrs. Johnny Dunn, by Marilyn MacMillan, delighted all.

A dramatic play, "A Mother's Curse", was Grade VIII's second presentation. It enabled us to share the hardships and trials of a poor fisherman's widow (Laurie Herzog) in Brittany, France.

"O riches here am some of your cruel tricks," presented by Mary Agnes Killen the rich lady, summarized the great dis tress that resulted in the young girl (Theresa Jensen) who had been living in poverty. With great energy the widow pro vided for her nurse upon her daughter. The scene ended with the prodigal daughter returning to her mother.

The main occasions at St. Jerome's this year the Clay Club under the fine leadership of Sisters Helen and Rosanne have entertained their members at Hill Walk with God" and "If You Could Sing Whistle" an Drama Night were once again greatly enjoyed by all.

Congratulations to play directors Mrs. McGaughey and Sister Rosanne members of the cast and to Mrs. Jessie Wheeler who assisted in making St. Jerome's fourth and most successful drama night a real success.

The Salvation Army To "Go With The Gospel"

The Salvation Army in Canada has launched a nation-wide evangelistic "Go-Go" Crusade.

In a recent communique to the Army's 1000 officers in Canada, Commissioner E. Ernstad expressed great concern over the growing spiritual apathy and self - centred materialistic pursuits of people today.

Further concern was evidenced on behalf of the multitude of children and undisciplined youth who would feel lost and confused, are brought up with a selfish view of life.

The thrust of this widespread deterioration in Canada's social and religious conscience the Army Commissioner has called upon all adherents to pursue with renewed vigor and zeal the Salvation Army's National Leader has mandated his Pastoral emphasis on spiritual renewal. The Salvation Army's National Leader has mandated his Pastoral emphasis on spiritual renewal. "Christ's cause I ask you to make it your cause to make things right in Jerusalem. Your deepest desire to go to the people with the gospel."

WHAT IS A GENERIC NAME?

A generic name is the basic name for a group of similar drugs. But, it does not mean that all of these products are the same in quality. This fact may not be important for some types of products but it certainly is when it comes to medicines. This is why your physician specifies a brand name in which he has faith when he writes you a prescription.

Brand names may sometimes cost a little more but the assurance of quality and effectiveness more than makes up for this. When it comes to health no one wants to rely on off-brands. We prefer only those drugs made by the reputable pharmaceutical firms.

A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

J. R. Robson High Wins Two Trophies

(By Margo Bitney, P.B.H.)

On February 12 the Marauder teams left town bright and early for a long day of victories. Late that night they returned home bearing two large trophies.

Both of Vermilion's first games were played against Provost.

Unfortunately, the boys' scoresheet has been misplaced but we won with relative ease and Blake Tidsbury is believed to be the high scorer. Karen Richardson and Wendy Brown scored six points each in the girls' game and we won again 24-10.

The next games were played against Saint John High School. For the R.H.S. girls this was an easy victory and the score could have been much higher. The score was 18-6.

The R.H.S. boys had a little more difficulty, but not much. The second half the Robson team was at the end of the first quarter when Vermilion led by 6. The final score was 47-25.

At 4.45 the Marauder girls played another scrimmage. This time against Glen Avon School from St. Paul. At the end of the first quarter Beatrice by Wendy Brown and Karen Kennedy had put Vermilion ahead 6-0, and the score rose much higher as the game progressed. The final score was Vermilion 24, Glen Avon 14.

Meanwhile the Vermilion boys were battling with the even more efficient Vegreville Vegabonds and things were looking tough. At quarter time Vermilion was down by eight. The second half was much closer and at half time Vermilion had taken the lead by only four points. During the third quarter the Marauders managed to stay on top but barely. Then in the final quarter led by Bob Thrasher the Marauders pulled away ahead and won 43-33.

This was the final exciting game for the boys and Vermilion was pleased to have a victory day scoring 21 of Vermilion's points.

WIN FINAL FROM IRMA

The girls' final game was against Irma. This team from Irma was to be the same condition the Marauder girls had been in the week previous — exhausted. At the end of the first they were down 23-3. Just as they had all day, the Marauders' plays clicked and they scored again and again. When the final bell rang, the score read 35-12 and the Vermilion girls walked off with their first trophy in three years!

WIN FROM WAINWRIGHT

Wainwright was the boys' final competition but did not put up much opposition until the third quarter. In the fourth quarter, excitement rose as Wainwright slowly seemed to gain. But Blake Tidsbury a continued accuracy increased the Marauder score. Game over, the Marauders had won 54-41. Once more the boys had been victorious!

ON TO PROVINCIALS

The advance prize lists for Ladies' Work and Cooking for Vermilion's 1966 Fair are now available. Any person who has not received one through the mail and who would like to have a copy should either write or phone the secretary, C. N. Brownell. The Ladies' Committee of the Agricultural Society urges everyone to compete and help make the exhibition a success. Several new classes have been added this year including 3031 Dowry and Leather Carving.

Handicraft groups in the area will find several interesting classes which they can enter.

Again this year many special prizes will be awarded both by the national as well as local committees. Any local business in the community district that would like to support the exhibition by contributing a special prize may do so by contacting either the secretary or the convener Mrs. R. C. Heckbert.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

The Department of Community Medicine is the new name for the former Department of Preventive Medicine at the University of Alberta. Dr. Stan Greenhill, Head of the Department, stated in making the announcement that the change in name was more than a mere matter of words. It reflects a change in attitude to meet the changing social and health needs of today and tomorrow.

New Era For Scouting

Boy Scout Week, February 20 to 27, not only marks the 58th Anniversary of the Scout movement but ushered in a new era for Scouting in Canada.

The more than 430,000 Canadian Wolf Cubs, Boy Scouts, Venturers, Rovers and Scout leaders from coast to coast will see changes in many things from organization to activities during the next few years.

By the time the Centennial is over, Scouting in Canada will be well on its way toward a new look combining the best of past traditions with all the freshness of the future.

MEET YOUR LEADERS

There is only one word to describe a Cub or Scout leader and that is "Dedicated". There just wouldn't be any Cub or Scout training if it were not for these unsung citizens who give so much of their time and of themselves to train these boys. Cub and Scout Week in Canada is a tribute to them as well as to the boys under their guidance.

Alberta Legislature Opened Feb. 17th

(By JOHN WARREN)

The newest thing about the Throne Speech opening of the third session of the 13th Alberta legislature was the man who read it — Lieutenant Governor Grant MacEwan. He was no new lit fact, that the tailor, didn't have time to make a tire-regal uni form to fit his six-foot, three-inch frame and the former Calgary mayor read the speech garbed in a morning suit.

Although the main items of legislation to be dealt with had already been outlined by Premier Manning following a caucus of M.L.As last fall, the complete speech gave added emphasis to certain areas of activity.

AGRICULTURE IN SPOTLIGHT

Agriculture came in for more of its normal share of attention. Included are measures to establish an agricultural research trust to increase financial aid to that department at the University. The promised Livestock Dealer's Insurance Fund and an extension of the crop insurance plan (including compensation for those who lose animals to careless hunters) figured prominently in the list of proposed legislation.

Extension of the community development program to help residents of marginal and underprivileged areas was promised. And the long-term water conservation program for agriculture, industry and recreation was outlined with a promise that money would be sought as part of capital this year.

COOLING OFF PERIOD

There was a definitely protective tone to much of the planned legislation. One bill, for instance, would protect Albertans against "hard-sell door-to-door salesmen". It would provide a "cooling-off" period before contracts signed with such salesmen became legal.

MEDICAL PLAN

Another would extend the services available under the Alberta Medical Plan (prescription drugs for instance). An increase in subsidization of medical insurance premiums for low-income groups was also forecast.

And a long-discussed code of human rights will be introduced "to ensure respect for human rights regardless of race, color or creed."

CAR INSURANCE

The 39 government members and four opposition spokesmen will also be asked to appoint a special committee to inquire into auto insurance. The move is in response to rumors that the 10 per cent boost in premiums is less than a year

SAFETY TESTING PROGRAM

The speech also forecast a safety testing program for motor vehicles and a highway construction program that will provide for a secondary road grid through the province. Pensions, welfare, the university adoption, Sunday sport, home-owner grants and a variety of other matters will be dealt with during the session.

LITTLE ISE EXPECTED

The program appeared to be a thorough one. It answered many of the demands Alberta residents have made in the last few years, and it left the opposition disappointingly little to shoot at.

Bill Dickie Calgary's Liberal M.L.A. suggested revisions in the proposed home-owner assistance to give more help to young couples. And he said the cut in surface committee was just a move to get Highways Minister Gordon Taylor off the hook for not taking action earlier.

He said most of the road items were stolen from the Liberals although he failed to remember any of them.

Tory leader Peter Lougheed was in the spectators gallery wishing he were on the floor of the house. In interviews the next day he said he was disappointed in the government's legislative proposals. He said the government failed to plan for an automated industrialized Alberta in which small towns will die in the 1970's if they are not helped.

Other opposition spokesmen described it as a "mish-mash of planning" and a "hash and lousy" speech.

ROGER ROWE

Chairman of the Vermilion Boy Scout Association and upon whom falls all the problems of keeping the Cub and Scout organization running smoothly.

Scout Leaders

Three of Vermilion's fine Scout leaders: Bill Heller, Murray Gratz and Laurence Lagroix.

See those giant wide doors? Handi-Van is easy to load and unload. Two curbside doors may be specified, and then there are a number of extra window combinations available.

Handi-Van can turn on a 38.5 foot circle. Lets you meet and get out of packed traffic and park almost anywhere and when you promised.

Look at all the space. Handi-Van measures 211 cu. ft. inside. That well hold up to a ton of payload. Loadspace length from engine housing back is over 92 inches.

The engine is a 120-hp engineering gem. And if you want more muscle, you can specify a 140-hp or 6-cylinder. Powerglide is available too.

The metal floor is built to shrug off abuse from most any kind of load. In fact, it's a heavy duty floor at no extra cost.

Handi-Van's body and frame are unitized. And the heavy-gauge steel has extra resistance to corrosion, giving you longer service.

You can see how great Handi-Van is from the back.

But the most important thing is on the front.

It's that GMC comaptcote that makes the difference. Not the plain kind, of course, but what it takes to make a GMC. GMC stands for Engineering Leadership. For instance: realizing most households would have to be equipped to haul outdoors and sail, GMC engineers started at the bottom. Front sheet metal is exposed areas is first galvanized, then covered with acid-etch paint, primed... then, after all that, undercoated! No wonder Handi-Van stands up so well. Or that there's a Canadian winter has to offer. And no wonder GMC has more than its fair share of leadership. When you're thinking trucks, think GMC first by miles.

Some Prescriptions Are Compounded

Because we take great pride in our profession, the opportunity to prove our skill in compounding prescriptions is a welcome one. Many physicians prescribe special mixtures for their patients and whether it be powders, capsules, pills, suppositories, ointments or lotions we can prepare them.

If we tell you it will take some time to fill your prescription, the odds are that your physician has requested a compounded medication. The finished product may look the same but a great deal of time, training experience and effort have gone into it.

A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

★ MARCH IS 'GOOD SEED' MONTH ★

NO SEED LIKE PEDIGREED SEED

One of the essential factors in ensuring a paying crop is to select the variety suited to your district and to make certain [illegible] guaranteed to be variety pure seed. The winter months are a good time to purchase certified seed for spring planting. They should be ordered well before the rush of spring. Art Wilson, Alberta Registered Seed Growers' Association, has this to say on the subject:

Mr. Wilson suggests that out of every variety have grown as high as 150 bushels per acre. Such yields could be farmers should operate at maximum efficiency. To maintain these high yields, at least of all, the investment in producing the crop is the cost of the seed itself.

Mr. Wilson is a pedigreed seed grower and has always approach. It will be the guarantee of purity sought after by the purchaser. Inspectors have regularly examined the crop from which seed was drawn to first rate it grew. They have examined the plants in the field after the plants have reached their mature stage and when it was ripening. This is used before it was offered for [illegible] Sections will be able when standards of quality based on the Old have been met, the tag on the Harbor Western Canada and each or container is the final Pioneer Land

HEALTH UNIT NOTES

How Can It Be Helpful?
(Concluded)

Parent education supplies an [illegible] answer adviser. But [illegible] which arises when it comes to be applied. Why is this so?

Education is most useful [illegible] related to the individual family situation. Emotional events between parents and children are related to development but this doesn't mean that everything you do to a child under five is going to affect him for good or bad for the rest of his life. So making mistakes needn't cause the slightest it often does in some parents. For example, when experts say too much frustration can't good for a baby" it doesn't mean never frustrate the baby. It is up to the parents to determine just what may be frustrating when it is too much and when it is necessary. This principle should be applied to all rules for bringing up children. There is no simple list of advice because children differ. This is perhaps one of the main difficulties parents face failing to appreciate individual differences among children. And too often, they try to be "perfect parents".

The more parents know how children grow in a healthy way, the better prepared they are to meet their basic needs, such as to be loved and to have freedom to develop. They want to learn what situations call for restraint and when to give full rein to the child. Filling the child's needs shouldn't mean avoiding unpleasantness but rather helping him to be more happily.

Also raising children cannot be a really planned process because so much of what we say or do is on the spur of the moment without stopping to reason things out. We are just not tired and calculating all the time and who would want to be? But to rely entirely on snap judgment won't work either, unless the make the necessary fund of personal experience not usual among present - day young mothers. Parents should find satisfaction in knowing they are doing their best, relax and enjoy their children. After all, parents are people with needs, too. The father working at home must have quiet and the mother with too much to do and no help must be forgiven if her nerves are edgy. The individual interests of mother and father just have to be fitted into the situation.

In summary, used wisely, parent education can reduce worry and increase enjoyment in being a parent. Don't try to follow a general rule without adapting it to your own situation. Don't expect to find an easy solution to every problem. Expect to have all parents differ, including you. Don't forget parents as well as children have their special needs.

The do's are just as important. To keep aware of the informational materials available to parents in the [illegible] advantage of meetings, lectures etc. Do seek expert help when necessary. Relax and stop trying to be "perfect".

Strom Declares March 1966 Good Seed Month

In declaring March 1966 — Good Seed Month in the Province of Alberta the Hon Harry E. Strom, Minister of Agriculture, recommended the use of high quality seed to farmers.

One certain way, he said, of increasing good quality in seed is to purchase stocks of certified seed of recommended varieties. The varieties suggested for use in various areas of the province are outlined in the publication of "Varieties of Grain for Alberta" and available at the District Agriculturist Office. The varieties listed have been tested for years and have been found to provide the best yield in certain areas because of their characteristics.

Mr Strom also urged seed dealers and handlers to support the drive for better quality seed.

He suggested that seed of known high quality was the best investment a farmer can make if a man wanted to maximize returns from the land.

Charles Moore, from Debolt, president of the Alberta branch of the Canadian Seed Growers Association, in commenting on the Minister's declaration of Good Seed Month compared the use of good seed to the foundation of a building. He said "Without our good seed, our entire production program would crumble, our ambitions could collapse and pleasant dreams would fade into disappointment."

Members of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association make available all stocks of pedigreed seed for crop improvement by commercial grain growers.

GOOD SEED

By RALPH WILSON,
Agricultural Fieldman
County Vermilion River No. 24

The very words produced a tingle of excitement in the heart of the early homesteader. In those days good seed was hard to come by.

Settlers from many lands brought with them wheat in a multitude of varieties, much of it polluted with weeds from every corner of the globe. Fortunately indeed was the pioneer who was able to procure some good wheat. "Red Fife" seed for his first crop in Northern Alberta.

Probably the most important agricultural achievement of the century was the development of "Marquis" Wheat as a successor to the old "Red Fife". "Marquis" was a strong strawed, heavy yielding and reddened to ripening. Although late by today's standards it would usually ripen during our short prairie summer and would produce the high quality milling flour that the world had ever known. It was upon the matchless quality of Marquis wheat that the high reputation of Canadian milling grain was developed. From the end of the first World War until about 1930, more than 90% of the western Canadian wheat crop was grown from "Marquis" wheat.

Over the years many new varieties of hard red spring wheat have been developed in Canada. Red Bobs, Thatcher, Reward, Redman, Chinook, Cyprus, Sarnebers, Canuck, Garry and Selkirk have enjoyed good popularity. Most important by far of all the newer varieties is "Thatcher".

"Thatcher" wheat has been growing well all over the prairies for the past thirty years. It is still popular Canada's top station today as a world wheat producer is largely based upon "Thatcher" wheat.

Newer varieties are now, however, being grown in place of "Thatcher". "Canthatch" equal to "Thatcher" in every respect is increasing each year. "Park", an earlier variety is becoming very popular. The new "Manitou" may very well be another "Marquis". A new hybrid wheat may soon be developed that will be better than anything that we have known.

Good seed has brought prosperity to the western farmer and wealth to the nation. There is no substitute for it.

Good Seed Is A Good Buy

If it had not been for the development of improved varieties of grains, our standard of living would be much lower than it is today. Green Bravicol, Superlba and Selkirk were developed by varied Pfle or even Marquis which was a big step forward. And when rust threatened to wipe out wheat production in Manitoba and Eastern Saskatchewan varieties such as Pembina and Selkirk were developed.

In connection with adaptation of a variety through plant breeding, it's interesting to note, said Dr. Harrold, that alfalfa was first a semi-tropical plant. Later it could be grown in the Southern States but had not winter hardiness. Today, such varieties as Rambler, Vernal and Beaver are grown commercially at Fort Vermilion and Peace River as well as in international border.

These are the benefits made available to the farmer through plant breeding. He should be taking advantage of them by planting certified seed of recommended varieties.

A committee of four was set up to choose a quilt design, and set blocks ready for all members to work on. A donation was sent to the Heart Fund February being Heart Fund Month.

Flowers were to be sent to Mrs. Dagmar Holman, who is in hospital, a speedy recovery is wished her.

Two poems were read, one was "Tan Hills", an appreciation on ailment many feel coming on at this time of year.

A few hands of whist were played, our annual February social party. A contest was given by our hostess on ten questions. Mrs. Pierce Lee was found need to brush up on. A lovely lunch was served by the hostess assisted by her sons and daughter.

Plan 138,000 Volt Line Vermilion To Derwent

Canadian Utilities Limited plans to use a portable electric generator to maintain electric service in the Vermilion-to-Derwent area during a line conversion.

SHORT INTERRUPTIONS

Construction of the line has already begun and given normal conditions should be completed in about three months. Engineers stated that short power interruptions to some farm customers may be necessary from time to time, but every effort will be made to notify customers who will be affected, and to keep interruptions to a minimum.

INCLUDE R.F.A. LINES

Three miles of the Ottawa Rural Electrified — Association lines, 37½ miles of the Campbell Lake R.E.A., and a mile of the Derwent line will be taken down and transferred to the new line as a second circuit.

Long range plans call for extending the line to Elk Point when demands in the area increase sufficiently to justify the increased transmission capacity.

Riverton News

Held over from last week:

Mrs. Edward Hyatt was in Edmonton, last week-end attending the wedding of her nephew Lloyd Hyatt of Lloydminster. Other visitors to the city were Mrs Dick Vivian and Mrs. Norman Mathison.

Last Sunday Janet Vivian had the misfortune to slip and fall in her home and is now a patient in the Elk Point hospital. We hope no bones were broken and that she will be home soon.

Miss Ellen Tinsmeer spent a few days in Riverton lately visiting with Helen and Bernie and calling on a few old friends.

Congratulations to the Lorne Timsmeer rink which carried home the grand challenge prize from the Marwayne bonspiel.

On Friday February 25th, a very successful whist and crib bags party, followed by a bake sale was held in the hall. This was sponsored by the Riverton Community Hall Association and while not too well attended, was enjoyed by those who were there. Winners in cribbage were Mrs. P. Hansen and Raymond Haskell and in whist Mrs W. Hansen and Herb Spear.

Two rinks of Riverton ladies entered the Marwayne ladies' bonspiel and one of them was the winner of third prize in the third event. This rink consisted of Mrs C. Ledbetter, Mary Mathison Beth Boreham and Grace Madden.

Congratulations to Miss Annie Parr, known as Grandma Parr to all her friends, who celebrated her 98th birthday on March 11th. She is a patient in the sanitorium hospital and while confined to her bed and wheel chair, her general health is as good as can be expected for her age. All her Riverton friends join in wishing her a happy birthday

Waiswright — Phone 843-3454
Vermilion — Phone 853-3353

Statistics show that more and more people are going to the supermarket without shopping lists. Are their memories getting better? Do they resent being told what to buy? Perhaps it's how does this affect the choices and quantities bought. In the survey area, only about 37 per cent in 100 now use a list, a drop from 45% in the last five years.

Evidently an increasing number of shoppers now are deciding what they will buy after they reach the store. As a result, marketers of consumer goods are vitally concerned with attractive, convincing packages. They definitely have to be eye-catching because the survey shows the average supermarket shopper spends about 28 minutes on a shopping trip. And since many of the supermarkets have 6800 or more individual items, each item has about ¼ of a second to influence the shopper.

Another point the survey makes is that the modern shopper does not restrict herself to the proverbial weekly expedition. About one shopper in four goes to the supermarket once a week. But just as many go twice a week and almost as many again go three times a week. 10% shop six times a week or more.

Another surprise perhaps, is the predominance of the small household. More than half the supermarket shoppers are buying for three people or less. Only about one shopper in four is buying for a family of 5 or more.

These are statistics compiled from a limited field so perhaps do not apply specifically to our area. However, they do point out the trend of the times and we are definitely a part of this.

Increased shopping without a list means more impulse buying. This is where the grocery bill runs up and crowds out the intention of how much we planned to spend. The second effect that impulse buying has is affecting the sizes and the packaging and amount of goods. Packages are made to be eye-catching and in some cases deceiving. Next time you are in the store, pause and take a good look at the soup counter. Colorful* Gimmicks? By gimmicks I mean "fillers" as towels, dishes, lace cloths, tumblers. Remember that you are paying for these — they are not gifts. If you choose a "package deal" consider: How much would you have to pay for the towel if you bought it as such? How much room in the large box was taken up by the towel — rather than soap? Do you take the time to compare prices and weights? These are your guides as they can be very deceiving. Large boxes which are not filled are deceiving and so are tall, wide and very thin boxes. However, the weight of soap must be stated on the package so this is your guide

What does all this mean? It means that we must become critical shoppers, that shopping wisely is a skill and requires the powers of reason and planning. Thus, the role of the shopper is an important one, as partially in this, the trend of the future.

Sugar is the cheapest agricultural product in Canada. It costs less here than almost anywhere in the world. The average cost of one pound of refined sugar in Canada — except for such years as the "Cuban crisis" — has been about 10 cents for the past 65 years.

DON'T OVERWATER YOUR HOUSE PLANTS

Most problems encountered with house plants at this time of year are due to overwatering, says P. D. McCalla, assistant chief of Horticulture with the Alberta Department of Agriculture.

He points out that many people unknowingly cause the yellowing of lower leaves, dropping the plants with more water will overcome problems which are actually caused by low humidity, excess heat and lack of light during the winter months.

Mr. McCalla advises watering plants about once and certainly not more than twice a week. He says the best way to water them is to put the plant pots in a pan of water and let the water percolate up through the soil until it reaches the surface.

Putting flowering plants in a southern window may help to make them more healthy, says Mr. McCalla, but there are some classic always be avoided. Supplementing the natural light may also help. Foliage plants will do well under fluorescent light, but flowering plants need both fluorescent and incandescent light.

The recommended temperature for house plants is about 70 degrees in the day time and about 60 degrees at night.

Health Unit Notes

NATIONAL HEALTH WEEK
March 13th to 19th

What is National Health Week? National Health Week is an event of national significance designed to make Canadians conscious on a year national objective the promotion of health, and the prevention of ill health and disease. During this period citizens all over Canada are requested to take seriously the matter of planning for a healthy Canada.

Why a National Health Week? Most sickness is preventable. The building and maintenance of healthy and stable institutions is no safeguard against preventable disease. Of far greater importance is the spreading of advice and instruction on how to maintain health and prevent sickness has made available the means by which many diseases can be prevented. These means are not widely used because they are not generally known.

WHAT CAN BE DONE?

What can be done? Education in the first stage of a higher national standard of health. The health of the nation can be bettered only when the nation becomes fully educated as to the methods and disease prevention. Educational education on health would eventually bring about a large reduction in governmental expenditures for ill-ness. There would be fewer hospital beds occupied by preventable sickness and fewer cripples.

The Health League of Canada, the national voluntary organization which has worked since 1919 for the prevention of disease and the promotion of positive good health by means of public education, is the moving agent behind National Health Week — but the officers and members of the League are the first to acknowledge that by themselves they could never make it the resounding success that it is.

It has always been of great value to the Health League in this important campaign to have the endorsement and co-operation of Ministers and Deputy Ministers of Health and of health educators. Through the Provincial Departments of Health we reach the various municipal departments and health units and from our message sinks in right to the grass roots. We feel sure that the same collaboration holds running this year will pay dividends to all the citizens of Canada in the form of improved mental and physical health.

ELECTRICITY

...the biggest bargain in your family budget

Think of your electric utility bill in terms of the work electricity has done for you, and see why we say electricity is the biggest bargain in your family budget.

Electricity does so much for so little. It cooks, cleans, heats, cools, freezes, washes, illuminates and entertains for only pennies a day.

The use of electricity in the home is growing constantly, yet the average unit price of electricity is less than half of what it was thirty years ago. Never-ending research and planning for future power requirements enable your electric utility companies to provide greater and more dependable electric service at a lower cost.

Make electricity do more work for you — it is the biggest bargain in your family budget.

Kill This Myth

Canadians frequently resort to the fact that the U.S.S.R. has six million inhabitants living north of latitude 50, whereas Canada has only 45,000, with the blunt statement that the Russians are a hardy people who willy nilly, to salt mines or anywhere else in the Finnish Post communists. Arthur Laing, Minister of Northern Affairs has done a good job of shattering old stereotypes by publicizing the differences and similarities Russia will be realized in early the spring for a work bee to the true line a government 500 miler further north than in Canada, leaving a comparatively narrow strip of treeless Arctic land. At least seven large, navigable rivers flow north in Russia as against one in Canada, the Mackenzie. Erosion is the last we age carried off much more of the Canadian Northland's soil than it did in Russia.

Red Cross Appeal

Dear Friends

Once again we are asking your support for the work of The Canadian Red Cross Society and I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation for your generous support last year.

Any one of us who has suffered a severe illness and required a blood transfusion can be thankful that this life-saving fluid was available at a moments notice from your Red Cross. It is free of charge. We may not all be in a position to give our blood; however we can assist in it's procurement by giving generously during the campaign for funds.

Your dollars make it possible for the Red Cross to supply blood tests for expectant mothers, disaster victims with food, shelter and clothing, support for crippled children, safe water supplies such as hospital beds, wheel chairs, Outpost, etc., Junior Red Cross and Water Safety Programs. All of these are supplied free. This life-saving program might cost you, or could have your support.

None of us can foresee when disaster or illness may strike one of our loved ones, a friend or a neighbor, and we or they may need assistance in one form or another. Give generously to keep your Red Cross on the job. No gift you will ever give will mean so much to so many.

Your contribution is needed!
Don't forget
Don't put it off
Do it now!

Yours sincerely,
Bernard A. Hart

GREEN ACRES

By H. MORLEY DOUGLAS
District Agriculturist

SOIL DEPRECIATION

Soil depletion by erosion is de-preciation as certain as machin-ery depreciation. Economists, as yet, haven't accepted this fact but it happens.

Canada Department of Agri-culture Research reports that rates of nitrogen on cereals is advisable to broadcast nitro-gen. A common treatment is about sixty pounds of 33.5-0-0

SUNFLOWERS

Growing acreages of recently introduced Russian Hybrid Sun-flowers have stimulated a wave of interest. Enquiries at the D.A. office have increased and I ex-pect many farmers are making decisions on their own. The va-rieties introduced from Russia — Peredovik" and "Armavirec" require 130 and 120 days for maturity in Manitoba. They are from one to five days earlier maturing than Advent 1A Can-adian Hybrid!! Possibly they may mature earlier or later in other areas.

Sunflowers have been grown on a few farms in the area south of the Saskatchewan river. The results have been startling but probably the Russian Hybrids were not used. Last year a few fields of these were grown in the Battleford area but I haven't heard with what success. Gen-erally speaking sunflowers are successful in areas that can get some maturity on grainwork. To my knowledge I haven't seen a field of sunflowers on the dark grey soils but have seen them with a bright and attractive appearance.

FIREFIGHTING RAPESEED

Rapeseed fertility requirements are similar to cereals. Rapeseed like barley is potentially a heavy feeder of soil nutrients but in certain growth periods is some-what limited in its ability to take up nutrients. This is particularly true in a stubble crop. Consid-erable higher rates of nitrogen are necessary for rape on stub-ble than on the other hand is less susceptible to nitrogen drilled in and to be harvested for grain with the seed. The limit is ten pounds of available nitrogen per acre. An example of maximum nitrogen would be ninety pounds of 11-46-0 or about forty-three pounds of 33-35-0. To use high rates of nitrogen on stubble it

Vermilion Bears Advance In 'D' Hockey Playdowns

Vermilion Bears supplied action a plenty on Sunday when they advanced to the next round of the Intermediate D Playdowns by eliminating the Wainwright Commandoes in an action packed two-game series by a total score of 14 goals to 13.

The Bears won the opening game at Wainwright by a 9-6 score but the Commandoes came back on Vermilion ice Sunday to win 7-5. The final belt saw the Commandoes dominating a terrific attack led by former Tiger Ryan Lehr and the Bears fighting grimly to protect their slim one-goal margin. At 10 minutes Ross Riedaker put the gate and the locals were at an added disadvantage. They managed to weather the storm and the game ended with the whole crowd in a swirl of excitement.

Wainwright fans did the Commandoes proud, coming to Vermilion by chartered bus and cars to swell the attendance and the excitement.

EIGHT HEARD

The Bears started out like world-beaters with the first period ending 4-1 in their favor. Scoring was done by Stan Hartwell from Gerry Hartwell; Gerry Hartwell from Stan Carpenter and Gen. Cruthers. Gerry from Stan Hartwell; Stan Hartwell unassisted. Hlady from Bevins for Wainwright.

Wainwright gathered in the two penalties, Lehr and Shaw.

Penalties were the undoing of the Bears in the second as they gathered in five to Wainwright's one. Cruthers went out and Dibton served. Roger Lehr served with Ross Riedale out. Gerry Schmidt served the Bear's 5th goal and the period ended 5-3 for the Bears.

FEAT THIRD PERIOD

The comfortable margin vanished quickly in the third when the visitors unleashed a terrific attack which netted four goals at the same time keeping the local sharpshooters scoreless. The Commandoes outshot the Bears 15 to 8 in this period and the sustained attack had the Wainwright fans in an uproar. Scoring were Hlady, Lavitt, Carbe and Lehr.

BEARS ADVANCE

The Bears advance to the next round and play the winners of the Hardisty - Montville series. Watch the Standard for game announcements.

BEARS — Ian Cawthorpe, Gen. Cruthers, Bert Riedale, Stan Hartwell, Gerry Hartwell, Ross Casseron, Gerry Schmidt, Ken Hemmingway, Dave Barr, Clarence Mintal, Neil MacLean, Ross Riedale, Rob Reid, Coach Brent Hartwell.

MODERN NEW BEAUTY SALON FOR MILADY

The ladies of Vermilion are in for a pleasing surprise when they visit the new premises of Kay's Kut and Kurl Beauty Salon in the Boston Cafe Block on 55th Street.

Mrs. Kay Chalmas, who has been in the hairdressing business in Vermilion for the past nine years, has shown excellent taste in the planning and decorating of her new salon.

The decor is predominantly white gold with red velvet adding a touch of elegance.

The 22' long area, comprising four chairs in dull gold, flows a mirrored wall, above which are Turkish styled drapes of deep red velvet. Complementing this are dainty gold m.5 crystal candelabra.

The drying area, also with four chairs, fitted with the latest air-cooled dryers, is also covered with gold flocked paper and accentuated with a deep band of red velvet. The carpeting which is of Atlantic Blue broadloom is edged with a wrought iron railing.

Where necessary the gold flocked paper, which was imported from the States, is used very effectively.

There is a color room and shampoo room at the back; completing the whole is a rest reception room, with soft, gold-colored "BonetyPlast" drapes at the large window. Blue-lined Queen Ann chairs complete the very pleasing appearance.

It has to be seen to be appreciated, so ladies, see the advertisement in this week's Standard and plan to drop in for a friendly evening of coffee on Saturday afternoon, March 19th. See you at Kay's Kut and Kurl!

Some Prescriptions Are Compounded

Because we take great pride in our profession, the opportunity to prove our skill in compounding prescriptions is a welcome one. Many physicians prescribe special mixtures for their patients and whether it be powders, capsules, pills, suppositories, ointments or lotions we can prepare them.

If we tell you it will take some time to fill your prescription, the odds are that your physician has requested a compounded medication. The finished product may look the same but a great deal of time, training experience and effort have gone into it.

Mannville Building Permits Over $100,000 For 1965

MANNVILLE — Thirteen ratepayers, Council included, attended the annual meeting of the Village of Mannville held in the Village Office on Monday, Feb. 28th. Mr. L. Malin was elected chairman for the meeting. Secretary Mrs. Johnstone read the last minutes of the 1965 annual meeting and with very little discussion, these were accepted.

MAYOR'S REPORT

Due to the unavoidable absence of Mayor Dr. D. Hasinoff, Deputy Mayor M. C. Malin read the Mayor's report. Building permits for the year to the value of $100,000 were issued: new houses $66,500; additions and renovations $2700; garages and sheds $2400; laundromat $4000. An old building on Main Street has been demolished and a new two-office building built.

There are now 243 water and sewer services with five sewer services. A dragline was used at the lagoon and it will suffice for the time being, but anaerobic pits may have to be dug in the near future. The nuisance ground was bulldozed. It is planned to plant a hedge of trees around the nuisance ground which will eliminate paper, etc., flying into neighboring property. The library was moved into the old telephone building and the extra space is much appreciated. A well was dug at the cemetery and much brush-clearing and brushing was done last fall. There have been many favorable comments about the Mannville Cemetery. Mr. Christenson, is planning on planting trees and contributing to improve the cemetery grounds.

All debentures and coupons ments have been met and the year ended with a surplus.

A one-inch overlay of asphalt was put on Main St.; sidewalks were laid from the theatre west to 53rd St. It is planned to continue the sidewalk project again this year and until such time as the village is adequately serviced.

Water and sewer extension to the property on the east side of 47th St. (creamery road) is still pending, but due to the length of these lots, a replat of the property had to be made.

Lighting was improved in all parts of the village and with the reduced rates by the Canadian Utilities, the new lights will cost under $15 a month extra.

The village is very fortunate in having Mr Malin as the representative on the County School Committee. His school visits keep the council well informed on school operations.

A general assessment was made in 1965 for use in 1966. The assessments on the new houses is down considerable from the last general.

The municipal inspector's report was read by Mr. Malin, which reported that the office administration continues to be conducted in an efficient manner with mention of each member completed in detail and giving a clear account of business transacted. Copies of by laws passed were properly completed, filed and indexed, and all taxes and requisitions paid to date.

FIRE DEPT. REPORT

The fire department report was given by Mr Ivan. There are 8 volunteer firemen, fifty fire practices were held. Two fires, both out of town, were attended. Flushing sewers, burning grass, washing streets, were among the activities of the firemen along with the practices. A new auxiliary pump has been purchased.

RECREATION REPORT

Recreation Board report was given by Mr. Corkery. In the ice hut, a sun shade has been built and the sand was improved. At the fair grounds the ball diamonds were improved and backstops put up. Much of this was done by volunteer labor. Baseball and softball were organized in the spring and as usual was difficult to obtain coaches. Hockey was organized and rink hours set. A driving range on the recreation grounds has been contemplated but this is in the future. The Recreation Board has been pushing the arena fund in conjunction with the Arena Association.

SCHOOL REPORT

The school report was given by Mr Malin who reported that the schoolgrounds at Mannville had been improved, rocks removed, black dirt hauled in and a portion seeded. Three new furnaces were installed; lighting was improved in 4 elementary rooms; an electric typewriter and tape recorder were purchased; a snowblower was purchased and many small alterations and repairs were completed in 1965 to both the school and the teacherages.

Honor awards were standard and this year with all awards being engraved plaques. We in Mannville were proud to have had an Honor Student in Gr. XII throughout the County in the person of Miss Marnie Park. Awards in other grades were very good.

The school committee with the cooperation of the Department of Agriculture will set up a Centennial tree planting project throughout the County during 1967.

Mr. Malin commended the teachers in our town school and the bus drivers in this area for their continued competent work.

GENERAL BUSINESS

The location of the County Shop and the repairing of the theatre were discussed.

H-C In Review

(By Ellen Williamson)

On Feb. 13th First United Church was the scene of a Youth Service by H-C with C.G.I.T. assisting with the Hootenanny. Ron Herbert led the service with Nancy Hill and Pat Honeyford helping. Jane Heckbert spoke on "C.G.I.T. and I", followed by Bill Callin with the theme "Highway to Christ". Unfortunately, due to hockey, many H-C members were unable to attend. We were sorry this happened but the service went over smoothly regardless.

The following Sunday night, H-C was privileged to have Miss Windsor speak on her career in public health. Unfortunately the attendance wouldn't work so her film could not be shown until much later but her "on the spur of the moment" talk was very informative and interesting.

A member of H-C executives from Vermilion planned to attend a week-end rally in Lloydminster Mar 12 and 13.

Home meetings were held at Ron Herbert's and Margo and Patsy Husby's during these two months.

Sunday Mar 6 a tobogganing party was held after which all returned to the church for a potluck supper.

Hospital Care To Cost More After July 1st

(By JOHN WARREN)

Legislation making major changes in hospital and medical care in Alberta was introduced on the final days of a busy week of budget debate.

Among other things the legislation will make it more expensive to get hospital care after July 1st and will extend the range of services covered by the province's health insurance plan.

RATES UP TO $1.50

On that day Alberta residents will be $2.50 per day in all active treatment hospitals. They will also have to pay a charge of $5 on entering hospital. Dr. Ross, Health Minister, said the rate was being increased to bring the patients' portion of hospital expenses more into line with spiralling costs. Present fees range from $1.60 to $2 daily.

The revised in-service plan will make prescription drugs, artificial limbs, dental and hospital appliances and the services of optometrists, physiotherapists and ambulance available. These would be separate from the comprehensive plan and services now covered by the plan and add might involve a small deductible charge for benefits.

The Ross plan also outlined a "range in premiums" presumably for people with low incomes, and he said he thinks the proposed new plan will result in federal insurance of about 90% of Alberta's population within a year.

SECURITY OF YOUTH

Last week also saw introduction of a bill that will create Alberta's 14th cabinet post. But while the Ministry of Youth will be created at this session, the man who will head it won't necessarily be named before proclamation.

Premier Manning said the youth department is being established because more than half of Alberta's population is 25 and under and because "it has become one of our greatest needs to see that everything we can to develop human resources."

DIRECTORS NAME A BOARD

Those certainly weren't the only developments in a busy week in the legislature. It seemed that everyone who didn't take a turn to speak during the three-week debate was taking a crack at it now — and a few members were getting up for a second turn during the budget debate.

Among them was Rev. Robert Sinclair of Calgary North who attacked proposed legislation that would reduce the majority needed on a fluoridation plebiscite to 51%.

Keith Everitt of St Albert didn't take any chances by tackling an attack on the provincial government or his Social Credit colleagues. He aimed he barrage at the federal government for failing to establish a bank from which municipalities could borrow at low rates of interest.

Opposition Liberal Jack Mazzagno took the first of two turns he will have in the budget debate to warn the government about possible problems in the development of the Mackenzie Basin. He said the Great Canadian Oil Sands plant is going to cost more than expected and expressed concern for Albertans who have invested in it.

He gently twitted the provincial government for its statement that comment about it "fabulous budget for a fabulous province". According to the Lac La Biche Liberal, "fabulous" embodies real or imaginary. And that, he said, is probably correct.

Agriculture Minister Harry Strom answered earlier queries by Mr Mazzagno about special assistance to Peace River farmers. He said the Alberta government will not assume what it considers the federal share of this aid. It now appears that 12 Ottawa doesn't pay half the bill the assistance it has promised will be given. The opposition had suggested that Alberta pay the whole sum required and then collect half, if possible, from Ottawa.

Hanging Pictures N ...

To get full enjoyment from the pictures you select for your home, here are a few guides to follow:

(1) Consider the wall space. Is it square, rectangular or vertical in its general proportions? Usually a picture of the same proportions as the wall space looks best. For example, a long, low picture or arrangement of pictures will require a horizontal space created over a sofa.

(2) Consider other furnishings. Pictures are a part of your total room design and therefore should be placed near to the other furniture. A picture will belong to a grouping if the space between it and the furniture is less than the narrowest dimension. Too much space here will isolate the picture. Keep in mind the other accessories used in the grouping — lamps, candles, plants, etc. A picture will be distracted if surrounded by accessories are placed too close or in front of it. Probably the most common error in picture hanging is placing them too high. Remember that people in a room remain standing in a room. Hang your pictures accordingly so that they can be enjoyed from a sitting position. This is especially important if there is a child's room as well. Hang children's pictures where they can enjoy them.

(3) Consider picture size — relative to the furniture and the wall space. If you want to use a small picture with large furniture group it with other pictures or wall hangings.

(4) When grouping pictures, they should have something in common—subject, color medium, or framing. Various shapes can be combined to add interest. However, do not combine too many different shapes in a collection. Keep the space between the pictures should be less than the width of the smallest picture. This gives the arrangement a unified appearance.

(6) Not all bare wall spaces need pictures.

The Rotary Foundation Pioneers New Paths to Understanding

This week, Rotarians around the world are joining in activities which prove that their object of international service is no empty phrase. From Aabenraa, Denmark, to Zushi, Japan, Rotary clubs in 130 countries are seeking ways to promote understanding between the peoples of their communities. It is World Understanding Week.

From almost all three 12,000 Rotary clubs financial support and personal effort has been directed toward The Rotary Foundation, which has provided Fellowships for International Understanding to name two thousand graduate students at universities in countries other than their own. This year, The Rotary Foundation is striking out in new directions that should contribute significantly to world understanding. Thirty-four teams of six young business and professional men are being sent by The Rotary Foundation to other parts of the world, where Rotarians will be their hosts for a study tour lasting two months. Having been shown many facets of life and forming many personal friendships in their host country, the team will report widely on their experiences to the people of their home country.

Every Rotary club in the world has the opportunity this year to nominate two young artisans as applicants for technical training in another country. The Rotary Foundation will pay all expenses for up to one year. All Rotary clubs have been invited to report on institutions in their communities which might welcome these technical students.

Lifelines For The Elderly

For many elderly Canadians who live alone, the telephone is virtually a lifeline to the outside world — to the doctor, druggist and the corner store. But what happens when, through sudden illness or accident, one of them cannot make a call? Concerned over several tragic cases in which this happened without anyone being aware of the fact for several days, the Leaside branch of the Ontario Red Cross have come up with a very commendable practical idea. They have formed telephone chains of elderly persons to check up on each other every day. If one member cannot reach his neighbor, within a few hours, the Red Cross is alerted and a visit is made to the home to find out why the phone is unanswered. This simple but effective way of insuring that old people are not left alone, perhaps for days, is worthy of emulation. Besides its humane aspect, a cheery phone call does much to brighten a lonely day.

SEED BED

A good seed bed is the foundation of a cereal crop. The seed bed must be level assuring a uniform depth of seeding and emergence. The seed bed must be firm so there is close contact between seed, soil and moisture. Extensive tillage dries out the soil but limited shallow tillage prevents surface evaporation. Spring tillage after summerfallow is kept to a minimum. Three inches is considered deep enough and the soil should never be left rough and loose.

Spring tillage on stubble is more difficult because of the straw problem. A good straw chopper simplifies the operation but not many are used locally. Poorly incorporated straw dries out the soil and makes clean contact with the seed impossible. Chrysler or other drag harrows spread and break up straw to a certain extent. Working the field to cross directions with a heavy duty cultivator and harrows is a popular method of preparing a seed bed. The entire job can be wasteful of soil moisture. Where wind erosion is not an important factor a good disc implement makes an excellent seed bed on stubble ground. Disc implements must be used with discretion.

Wild oats or green manure complicate before seeding tillage. One of the best methods to eradicate wild oats is delayed seeding but it is costly from reduced yield. If a farmer was to assume long time results of the reduced yield from delayed seeding Carberne and Avadex would appear more acceptable. Certainly the best method to handle green fusteil is with 1½ pounds of TCA salt.

Whatever implement is used for preseeding tillage, the whole operation must be designed to produce a level, firm seed bed free of weeds. Assure the crop with high fertility and God will have to look after the rain

COUNTY TEAM

FU and CDA County Team, Agricultural Advisory Committee, Agricultural Committee, are new and complicated terms appearing in our rural community

Definite steps were taken on Wednesday Mar 16 at Kitscoty to organize an FU CDA team for the County of Vermilion River in 1966. The Farmers' Union is the main organizing force behind the team. The objectives of a county team are to further leadership training, youth work crop information and to coordinate rural development and research. The team will be made up of the presidents of the FUA locals, representatives of the local rural local government, directors and sub-directors of FUA.

The Agricultural Advisory Committee was set up by County Council in January to advise the Council, the Provincial and the Federal Governments, on matters pertaining to Agricultural policy. This committee is made up of nine men and three women chosen geographically through out the County. Each member is chosen for a four year period of service. The Agricultural Committee also advises the County councillors responsible for County Agricultural Policy

The FU CDA County Team and the Advisory Committee activities will overlap considerably. Perhaps there is room for both one sponsored by the FUA, the other sponsored by County and the Extension Service.

NO SUMMERFALLOW

No summerfallow is possible and many local farmers are currently reducing summerfallow acreage. A change in practice will alter farm problems. Elimination of summerfallow will bring more returns for the good manager but disaster to those who can't adjust.

Mr. No Summerfallow must be prepared to survive that one crop failure in ten. The ratio is higher toward failure on sandy land and frantically enough summerfallow is of less benefit. It would appear that the no summerfallow farmer will have to carry crop insurance to survive that failure when it does come.

When the summerfallow is reached a farmer will spend perhaps three times as much money on fertilizer He will need more credit. He will also produce at least one and three quarters more crop annually Increased production demands more precise practices.

There will be new weed problems. Dr. George Friesen, University of Manitoba, says perennials like Canada Thistle and annuals like barleymead and green foxtail may be expected to increase. Wild oats seem to decrease under continual cropping.

There are problems from continual cropping but none of them cannot be overcome.

SIMAZINE

By Ralph Wilson

One of the new weed control chemicals "Simazine", is a potent herbicide with long time residual action. When used according to directions for shelterbelt weed control, "Simazine" need only be applied once every two years. The chemical dissolves very slowly and acts upon the roots of germinating plants. The plant dies upon emergence It is suggested that "Simazine" should be applied to fairly clean ground at about the time weed seeds are germinating in the spring. Some rainfall is required in order that the chemical may reach the weed roots

Healthy trees are not affected by this chemical if it is used according to directions, thus one may spray right over the top of small shelterbelt trees.

This spring we will be doing just that The County spray truck will be used to apply dormine spray to many field shelterbelts throughout the County. This chemical promises to largely do away with the hand labor in field shelterbelts

Sugar is a pure food made by the sun's energy in the cane or beet plants. There is more sugar in sugar cane and sugar beets than other plants and that is why they are important for that purpose. Claims that synthetic or artificial sweeteners (under whatever trade name given them by drug manufacturers), are "natural" sweeteners like sugar is misleading. These sweeteners do not come from "natural" plants; they are chemicals made from petroleum and coal tar products. The safety of these sweeteners has been questioned that the British government refused to permit their use in food stuffs.

Each Rotary district, there are 378 in the world, is matched with a district in another part of the world. Rotary clubs in these matched districts exchange correspondence programs, publications and visits. An interesting development is "world community service" in which Rotary clubs in the developing countries receive support from other Rotary clubs for projects to alleviate hunger, ignorance, and disease in their communities. World Understanding Week is a target date for completing arrangements for such projects.

The week also calls attention to the activities of the Rotary Foundation which draws contributions from Rotarians in all parts of the world. The opportunities which the Rotary Foundation provides for study in other countries by university graduates, by teams of young business and professional men, and by young artisans is supplemented by a great variety of Rotary district and club projects which send thousands of young people abroad for study and recreation every year.

World Understanding Week serves as a spur to all these endeavors.

Three or four times during the next several hours water was again required to extinguish the fire. The store is in the process of entirely to several other buildings, one of which is the new Recreation Centre under construction.

Sincere thanks are due both Vermilion and Myrnam fire brigades for their rapid response and whose help would have been invaluable and irreverendus had the flames gained control.

Pres. Paul Babey Seeks Investigation

Farmers' Union of Alberta President Paul Babey says government should launch an immediate investigation into spiralling food prices to determine whether or not increases have been justified. He says he bases his statement on his observation that the gap between producer, consumer prices is widening, as evidenced by the announcement early this week of major increases in bread prices.

Commenting on the announcement, he says, "Canadian Bakeries are using misleading statements to justify bread price increases."

"The announced 9% boost in prices has been attributed, among other things, to an increase in the price of last-refined flour. The main ingredient, the statement infers that wheat prices have risen accordingly. This inference is completely false. Farmers have just received their final settlement for wheat showing an average price decline ten cents per bushel from the previous year.

"The price farmers received for wheat (No. 1 Northern) in the 1950-51 crop year was $1.86 per bushel compared to $1.76 for 1964-65 — an increase of less than 2%. Bread prices over the same period have increased almost 50%.

"A commission similar to the food inquiry in the United States would examine whether increasing food costs can be substantially by cost factors, or integration of bakeries and food marketing chains, is resulting in improvement of the net profit position of the industry at the expense of the consumer."

The F.U.A. president concludes, "Our organization urges all elected representatives, both federal and provincial to support the establishment of this inquiry be-mediately."

"Ye Are My Witnesses" Is Theme Of Women's World Day Of Prayer

MANNVILLE — The annual Women's World Day of Prayer was held on Friday, February 25 at the Anglican Church in Mannville. Forty-three women were present, coming three denominations were represented.

Mrs. H. A. Richards gave the address.

The theme of this year's service was taken from Isaiah 43:10 "Ye are my witnesses". Christians must witness to Christ in all aspects of their daily lives. They must be able to give reasons for their faith to be able to speak with confidence about something they are sure of, something they have proved by personal experience and that nothing can take from them. Their life must be involved in the world but not conformed to it. There is no area in life that should be left untouched by the Christian influence.

BUDGET DEBATE ENDS

March of the second and fury wound up last week as the budget debate ended its fortnight in the legislature. The huge budget was passed — naturally. And it's now time to go into detailed study of legislative items, financial and otherwise.

RAPS GOVERNMENT

Before the heavy speech-making was ended there was a flurry of activity among the opposition members. Bill Switzer, Liberal, Edson, rapped the government for neglect of planning and education. He commended the government for its huge public works program, $117,000,000, but said it should have been planned more than five years ago. And he said he was shocked at an apparent shortage of apprenticeships for rural school districts.

LACK OF PLANNING

Mike Maccagno, Liberal Lac La Biche opposition leader clamped the government with losing the Western Canadian Voter Harry Collings "through lack of planning" and Frank Gainer, Social Credit-Cochrane, supported him.

The latter argument was ably countered by several government members who said education on the college side was largely up to the federal minister of agriculture. At the time that Saskatchewan was chosen, Harry Hays held the job. Mr. Hays, they pointed out to those who might not know, was a Liberal minister.

Government members themselves got together to come up with a new idea. They suggested that Canada change grain-marketing policies to ensure a growing world shortage of food and that more thought be given to the world-wide crisis in food.

Canada could help starving nations and at the same time regard some wheat on long-term credit, the members suggested.

The idea was taken one step further, and concluded with a statement of the provincial treasurer. Mr. Aalborg gave fairly solid support to the idea that Alberta give $5,000,000 worth of wheat to a hungry nation — as a Centennial project, noting that "people in some other parts of the world live under appalling conditions."

The legislature resolved to ask Ottawa to carry out special studies on juvenile delinquency. They call them young offenders. Leo Leavitt of Calgary opposed, South Peace, which are now said to judge young offenders in many American cities, might be a possibility here. Dr. Hugh Buchanan, Okotoks-Highwood River, E. P. Benoit, added that there are "basic microdeficiencies" in both prevention and treatment of young offenders.

Everybody agreed that young people hadn't gotten a fair shake and the only thing in doubt was who had made the best bid for the next job of Youth Minister of Alberta.

SPORTS ON SUNDAY

Among the new bills was one that would permit certain commercial sports on Sunday in a municipality where 51% of the voters favor such a move. Regardless of what voters decide in a plebescite, the legislature will prohibit such activities as horse and dog races, boxing and professional wrestling matches.

RELIEF FROM BALDNESS?

A bill that may provide hair-tied housebuilders some relief from hard-eyed assessors also got first reading. It provides that anyone who buys goods and services from door-to-door salesmen may cancel the agreement within four days of the sale. If goods and services are not supplied within a month of the date specified in the contract, the agreement may be cancelled at any time during the next year.

A promise of legislation to meet the widespread complaints of farmers was also made by Agriculture Minister Strom. He said it would allow establishment of cooperating boards by majority vote of registered producers. Current legislation says all producers must be registered and a marketing board can be established only if 51% of the total support it. The proposed change would those who "couldn't care less".

Health Unit Notes

THE FACTS ABOUT INFLUENZA

Influenza has been known to man since ancient times. Italian astrologers thought it came from an influence of the heavenly bodies. That's why they used their word for influence, "influenza", as a name for the disease.

Today we use "influenza" to mean a specific sickness in which the throat and windpipe are very sore and hot. Muscles are weak and aching. Usually a lot of people in a community have it at the same time.

Flu is much more severe than the common cold, which Charles Dickens said made one "deaf in the ears, hoarse in the throat, red in the nose and weak in the gills, damp in the eyes, tetchy in the odors and fractious in temper". But a cold usually does not hurt much more than a stuffy nose and wrathy disposition. Flu, you feel so sick you want to go to bed. You are never as sick as that with a cold. And flu keeps you down longer.

WHAT IS INFLUENZA?

Flu is a fairly brief, severe sickness that is very catching. It is spread from person to another by one of a family of viruses. When flu strikes, it may decrease the living membrane of the breathing passages. Then it may spread to the air cells of the lungs. Pneumonia germs are also said influenza. They may also crack into little sacs, causing the disease to be worse. Pneumonia or threat to get streamed with blood. But these things are not damaged permanently. They are repaired in about ten days. Fever does provided no other germs taken over.

Anyone can get flu — especially when it is widespread in the community. Babies and children are most vulnerable the sickness is most common among ten-year-olds. From then on, you are less and less likely to get it. Half to many adults do come down with flu. And it is likely to be severe for those with chronic diseases of the chest or a chronic disease and for people over 65 years old or women who are pregnant.

Flu seems to come on sudden-ly. But actually, it takes 1 to three days to develop. When it comes out in the open, you may notice chills, fever, headache, backache, loss of appetite, lack of appetite. Other common discomforts include a cold in the head, sore throat, dry cough, hoarseness, pain or burning in the eyes, sensitivity to light and nausea.

Temperature goes up quickly during the first day, usually to 101 or 102. Then it reaches a peak, probably not higher than 103. Your temperature then may go down gradually over a few days. Or it may go down quickly only to rise again in the third day. Fever usually lasts almost three days. But it may go on for as long as seven. As your temperature begins to go down, you will probably notice more stuffiness in your nose. Your cough may get worse. And there may be pus in the discharges from your nose or throat. From that time on, you will feel more and more tired for a week or more. Come down rough for a few weeks is also common.

Vermilion-Hanmeville 4-H Club Meeting

On Saturday, March 5th a special meeting of the Vermilion-Hanmeville 4-H Club was held at the V.A.V.C. for the purpose of hearing the story for the contest sponsored by radio station CFCW under the kind assistance of Mr. Ken Stone.

The regular meeting of the club was held March 12th with nine members present. In the absence of the president the vice-president, William Haines, was in the chair. The pledge was led by Dan McPhee and the roll call was answered by giving a reason for joining the club.

The semi-finalists gave their speeches in the following order: Kneale and Mr. Rampling. The winner was Ken Cornish. A vote of thanks was extended to the judges for giving their time and effort to this worthwhile cause.

It was decided that the club should enter a float in the dog-sled, with Harvey Haines and Harvey Dixon as stars. Arrangements were made for a trip to the Beaver Dairy Farm at Wainwright during Easter week. The members are to meet at the 4-H's office on Wednesday, Apr. 13th at 1 o'clock.

Considerable discussion was held on the thematic design for the fair. It was decided to have a special meeting at the Dixon home March 13 to work on the project. The meeting adjourned.

On March 1st a son celebrated Mass in the Clandonald church to celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of Mr and Mrs James Martin. The Pastor, Father D MacDonald was the principal celebrant along with Fathers J Murphy, E. Purcell, J. Leacey, and A. Hessel. Fr. Nowakowski, Fr. Cordeau, H. Nowakowski and L. Scriven. Father Ling was Deacon and Very Reverend B. Gorman assisted in the sanctuary.

Father J. Nowakowski gave the homily. The choir under the direction of Sister Bernadette with Mrs. H. Schneider at the organ, sang at the Mass. Gerald and Maurice Martin and Pat Cusack, three grandsons were altar boys.

After the Mass the jubilarians renewed their marriage vows and a message from Archbishop Jordan was delivered to them.

Mr. and Mrs Martin were born in Co. Fermanagh, Ireland. Ten years after their marriage they moved to Canada and settled in the Clandonald district where they and their fourteen children were home for the occasion.

Dinner was served to the immediate family and priests after Mass at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas. A three tiered cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. O. Ormeus centered the table.

Deanie McGuire Jr. was MC for the day. Father Gorman said grace before the meal. Father Lesarzyski proposed the toast and Father Purcell gave thanks after the meal.

Later in the day the community joined the family in honoring the jubilarians at the home of their son-in-law Mr. Hugh Hagen proposed the toast there. Numerous gifts and a purse of money were presented to them. Messages were read from Provincial and Federal Government leaders the Governor General and many grandchildren in Ireland. George Family pictures were taken by Father Kowalewski and Wonders of Photocraft.

News of Riverton District

Honor Couple On Golden Wedding

Last Sunday evening Mar 20, wrote. His sister Amy (Mrs. saw another happy gathering. This time it was the occasion of Mr and Mrs. Andrew Woods' Golden Wedding Anniversary. The hall was filled with friends, neighbors and members who came to offer their congratulations and good wishes. Mr and Mrs Wood have lived all their married life, and some years previously in the Riverton and Iron Springs districts, and in that time have made many friends. The hall was gaily decorated with gold streamers and gold and blue wedding bells, and in the centre of attraction was the huge three tier wedding cake, beautifully decorated by Mrs. Walter Jones. Mrs. Lethbridge entertained the company by showing some really outstanding slides of Norway, England, etc.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

On the evening of March 7th the many friends of Mrs. Raymond Raymond Haskell gathered at the hall to honour him on his birthday. A pleasant time was enjoyed visiting and playing cards. Raymond was presented with a hardware reclining chair and two birthday cakes, one from his family and the other from the Riverton Ladies Club. He thanked everyone graciously and the evening ended with refreshments being served.

On Friday evening, Mar 18th, a terrific gale blew up from the south-east, resulting in the worst drifting of the winter. A number of buildings were damaged somewhere in the ditch or stalled in the drifts on the roads and cars had to be abandoned until morning. Fortunately however, the force were mild so no hardships were suffered. The next day was a beautiful March day sunny and mild, a complete contrast to the storm of the previous night.

Owing to the mild weather drifting is about over but may make a comeback if we get some more cold weather. Caution is the word to all the Riverton carters who have won trophies and prizes in various bonspiels during the past few weeks.

Mrs. Herb Vivian is home from the hospital and will have to get around on crutches for some time yet. At present she is finding these more of a handicap than a help. We hope she will be up with the fit for family life before long.

El Salvadore Visitors Welcomed at V.A.V.C.

An article in a Peru newspaper concerning a young man, Juan Nemi, who attended the V.A.V.C. in 1959 resulted in a somewhat unexpected visit from two gentlemen from El Salvadore, Central America.

Mr. Raul Amaya read this article and decided that his youngest son Raul Jr. might profit from a similar experience. Raul Jr. thought this a good opportunity to learn to speak English and to study practical general agriculture. The two gentlemen arrived at the V.A.V.C. on Sunday morning, they spoke no English and the principal spoke no Spanish and a partial impasse was reached. However the situation was corrected and conversation was flowing freely and warmly thanks to Miss Anna Blanc and Mr. John Yurkiwsiski.

Mr. Amaya Sr. operates a large coffee plantation in the Republic of El Salvadore. He has a family of nine and is very interested in providing his children with the advantages of a good education, experience in a foreign land and a second language. Raul will work on the grounds at the V.A.V.C. during the summer. Besides working, naturally he will be learning to speak English as well. He hopes to be fluent enough by fall to take the basic courses in Agriculture in the fall semester.

It took courage to leave a land of palm trees, a warm humid climate and a familiar tongue and to come all the way to Vermilion. Mr. Amaya is staying at the College for a few days to experience the environment his son will be living with. Vermilion has made friends with these people and he will be going home as a good ambassador for the town and College. In the meantime the staff and students have all learned at least a word or two in Spanish — "Buenos dias, Signor."

Another District Land Mark Passes

On March 31st, 1966, the post office at Hinde will cease its last patron. After 38 years of faithful service to many, it is found that it can only operate entirely right or else remain to be served and it is deemed best to discontinue the service.

In 1928 with the settlement of Hinde, the post office came into being with the name of Hinde.

COMMENCED IN 1908

His successors were Mr and Mrs John Fortune who operated first as postmaster and then postmistress for the next twenty-two years. Then Bill and Mrs. Crocker had the little post office for three years.

At this time, 1938, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Young took over the present premises. After her husband's death, Mrs. Young was postmistress until 1957.

For the next nine years up to the present time Mrs. Hilda Crocker had the little post office in her home.

In now, with the passage of years, the changing times — call it progress, the time very necessary little post office is no longer needed. As of midnight Mar 31, it will have ceased to exist . . . left with one more landmark.

24 YEARS OF FAITHFUL SERVICE IS REWARDED

On Sunday afternoon, Mar 6, at the Island Hill Community Centre, some 60 people sat down to a most enjoyable potluck dinner. The occasion marked the retirement of Mr George Martin after 24 years of delivering mail on Rural Route 4. Three years were the families which have been served as well over the years by Mr. Martin.

Seated at the head table with Mr. and Mrs Martin were Mr. and Mrs. Phil Pacholuk, Mr. and Mrs. Orley Cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hall, Mr. Bill McIntyre, and the emcee for the afternoon, Mr. George Bond.

At the conclusion of the meal Mr Cousins spoke of the joys and tribulations involved in delivering mail in the rural areas and told of the days when the route was simply the mailed ... Bond thanked Mr Martin ... for his faithful service ... Mr. Martin by saying that the mail was always delivered unless conditions were absolutely impossible

The conclusion marked the presentation of George's many years of faithful service and revealed how we had all come to rely on our postman. Pat also thanked the ladies of the district for assisting such a tribute possible. He then presented George with a gift made by Allan Mead, and well-known to all Islanders.

In reply, George thanked the people for the help he had been given over the years, and for the presentation made to him.

V.A.V.C. Color Night Climaxes Activities

The climax of student activities was celebrated Saturday evening, March 19, at the Vermilion Agricultural and Vocational College with the observation of Colour Night.

During a session at the college many students display married talents in many fields, such as participation in the athletic, literary and social life of the residences as well as in the course of studies itself.

Recognizing the need for high achievement in all of these various efforts and further recognizing the desirability of honoring those students who have contributed so much to the well-being of the College, the Students' Council and staff set aside the last social evening in each session as one in which acclaim can be given as merited.

Color Night began this year with a banquet, to which the students and staff were invited. Later, in the college auditorium the principal and chairman Mr. W. S. Baranyk announced the winners of the academic awards.

The Standard is indebted to the correspondent at Kitscoty who has taken some trouble to have the above picture identified as the Kitscoty hockey team of 1911 and 1912. The identification was made by several old time residents of the village Reading from left to right, the referee not known, probably a Vermilion man; Charlie Shelton, John H. Drew, Sydney Gilmour, Ralph Hutchinson, goal, Aubrey Miller, Milton Brown, James Lowery, W. O. "Bill" Harmer, John Dale, the other two not in uniform are unknown, Messrs Drew, Miller, Lowery and Harmer were residents of Kitscoty and district for many years, and are now deceased. John Dale resides in Saskatoon with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Waller. He is the father of J. C. Dale, president of Canadian Utilities Ltd., and grandfather of Mrs. Gary Green of R.R. 3 Vermilion who also sent in identification of many in the picture. ## Canadian Library Week

Canadian Library Week is not to be celebrated as an isolated news days but as the culmination of a year of continuing promotion of Books, Reading and Library Services by Educators, Readers, Librarians, Trustees, Publishers and Booksellers and many other Canadians who believe that READING IS THE KEY for all time and all persons opening the door to continuing education, to inspiration, wisdom and enduring pleasure. It has been said that the first person to take a book out of the library was involved with adult education whether this was realized or not. No matter what his purpose was he was involved in ideas and growth and that is basically what adult education is. Libraries are the heart of adult education, adult learning or continuing growth in the changing world.

Today Canada's population has reached more than nineteen million persons. Statistics clearly indicate that more adult educational and public libraries will be required to prepare Canada's ever growing population to assume its important role in a changing world. A little more than five million of our people today are enrolled in elementary, secondary and university education. Statistics show that there is another group of a little more than five million of fifteen years of age and over who have only elementary education or no schooling at all. In addition to these more than ten million persons there are many Canadians trained in the professions and trades who must constantly enhance their jobs because of the rapid advance in knowledge and skills.

This is a tremendous challenge and an enormous task for Canada's libraries. Reports and statistics show that most of these libraries are below the minimum requirements with regard to books and professional librarians. Leading rail libraries in Canada libraries alone reveals the shocking figure of less than one volume per capita. Recently it has been observed that some of Canada's university libraries have been adding during the last few years one volume per student. And added to this lack of books is the need for more and more librarians — more than three thousand more by 1967.

Canadian Library Week points not only to the need for books and libraries but also to the plight of mankind, and indeed to Canada if reading Canadians continue to be docile about the age of automation and new knowledge which economists have already recognized as a threat to our economic status, alone if education continues in any phase to be treated as a charity. A library, for example cannot operate on charity and play its role in this automated space age.

It is all too true that Canada's public and university libraries are lacking in financial subsistence and require continuing and greater support from governments, who are rarely aware that these libraries are expected to provide information and books for all Canadians from childhood through life.

Assisting In The Development of Canada

The Chamber of Commerce movement, as well as many other Canadians, is concerned that too few Canadians appear to be interested in investing in their country's development. Why is the investment process so important, and what does it mean to be a shareholder?

Canadians who invest in Canadian enterprises become shareholders and through our investment money is provided for research, better machinery and tools, better facilities for employees and new and better products for the consumer. The resulting benefits affect all Canadians through the creation of new jobs better working conditions and a higher standard of living for all.

As shareholders, Canadians are part-owners of Canadian business and as such are concerned with efficient and profitable management of their enterprises. Investors in progressive Canadian enterprises enjoy the profits but more importantly they contribute towards keeping Canada growing and prosperous.

"Dreadful Decade" At Ottawa

It is conceivable the Spencer case and the Munsinger hearings provide the shock treatment needed to bring Parliament to its senses. John Bird comments in the Financial Post. It may force the nation to face up to the state into which politics have fallen during the Dreadful Decade since the pipeline debate of 1956. Meanwhile, some probable effects of last week's shenanigans are: Prime Minister Pearson's command of his government has been shaken and renewed the question of his early retirement. It has strengthened the major parties appeal and rendered majority government less likely than ever unless one major party gets a new, contemporary leader while the other does not. It has made so much bad blood in the House of Commons that maximum public pressure will be required to hold Parliament down to its workaday tasks on the national basecamp.

GREEN ACRES

By H. MORLEY DOUGLAS
District Agriculturist

Congratulations George Mead, Vermilion and Dennis Webster Lloydminster who on March 17 were both awarded a two thou sand dollar Bank of Montreal Scholarship. I couldn't help but say to each of these gentlemen living in the County of Vermilion River that it was nice of them to leave my favorite scholarships for the remainder of western Canada.

Dennis plans to study livestock nutrition and management in Denmark and West Germany. George Mead's project is rural electrification. He hopes to study methods currently used in B.C., Washington Montana, North Dakota and Manitoba. Not that rural electrification hasn't been studied before but it has not been studied for and by the consumer.

Dennis Webster and George Mead are outstanding men in agriculture and will bring useful information back to this area.

SILAGE

A mixture of green oats and partially mature barley will make a high quality feed. The silage mixture can be stored in a pit with less than two inches of spoilage. Compared to hay there are losses in hay this sounds like a most efficient way to put up winter feed.

No this is not a fairy tale. The story is out at Ernie Living stone's farm south of Claymore corner.

Livingstones have studied all stage for three years. They allow the crop to get a considerable maturity. They then cut the silage short about two inches and pack the feed into the pit. There is enough grain in the silage so the cow herd is in good shape and the protein content of the feed is 16% per cent. Eleven to the inventoried cows and four tenths of a per cent is not worth arguing about.

Ernie and Doug Livingstone packed the feed and sealed it on well that there wasn't any spoilage.

After three winter silage tours plans are currently being organized for a road trip for silage day next August

WATERING BOWL COSTS

Like most farmers, George Mead Vermilion, was curious as to how much it cost him to keep his UFA Cheap Watering Bowl ice free. George enters thirty-five cows and thirty-five feeders at the bowl.

Unlike most farmers George Mead did something about finding out how much it cost to keep that bowl ice free. He secured a government sealed meter and purchased the, 850 watt thermostatically controlled element. The pipe was wrapped with a 65 watt heating tape and it was never plugged in. Mead's power has been averaging 133 cents per KWH all winter From Nov 16 to Dec 16 1,16 KWH were used costing $1.61. January 16 the meter read 170 KWH costing George $3.60 February 16 192 additional KWH were used at $3.84. March 16 163 additional KWH were used These were 615 KWH used from Nov 16 to Mar 16 which cost Meads $9.33 If the electricity had cost 2 cents per KWH the cost would have been $12.20 to keep the watering bowl ice free during the winter 1965-66.

DR. ROY REMO SPEAKS

Vermilion's Short Course really was an send out March 17 and 18 1966. There were many topics made it out to the agricultural session Thursday to hear Dr. Roy Remo professor of animal science University of Alberta Edmonton Probably Dr. Roy was the keynot soul driving all the way from Edmonton to by roads

Dr Remo told the small audience that results from Kinsella would seem to indicate that the advantages in cross-breeding any breed of beef cattle The advantages of hybrid vigor The saving weighs the purebred breeding of commercial beef cattle There are two catches in crossing the ordinary commercial beef herd (1) you must know the weights of the cattle and calves on the basis of eighteen month weight (2) the feeder accepts cross breeds and hybrids only in large groups It is doubtful if the 255 western market accepts of red cross animals at all

The increased weight of animals produced by the hybrid herd at Kinsella is about 10% heavier than the purebred herd Dr Remo says. Alberta is probably the freest country in the world because it is the only place in the world where established groups would permit such research. Who knows we may be leaders in beef production in the next 100 years

LARGE SHORT COURSE

The ladies' special sessions at the Short Course also ran into difficulties with the weather Several speakers were unable to attend and Mr Ron Tibbitt, local lawyer Vermilion, volunteered his services with less than 24 hours notice Ron did an outstanding job and the theme of the ladies' session, "Interest for Today and Tomorrow" was carried out to the full.

"Warfarin"

It frequently occurs that researchers, testing for a compound to be used for some specific purpose, discover a substance that is useful in an entirely different field. Such was the case in the discovery of our common rat poison "Warfarin" Warfarin is the most effective rat killer ever developed, is an anti-coagulant which when ingested in an animal over a period of several days, will cause a slow and relatively painless death through internal bleeding

Workers at the Wisconsin Alumnae Research Foundation (WARF) when attempting to develop a substance to reduce blood clotting in humans noticed that their lab rats were dying off. Further tests proved what we now know Here was a chemical that might turn the tide in the battle to rid the age long war against the rat

Tasteless, odorless, and readily accepted by the rodents, Warfarin must be eaten over a period of several days by any animal before death results. In this way, accidental poisoning of other animals and man is prevented. Bait stations too which is run men among rat when fast acting poisons are used is largely overcome

Thus we have at our disposal, a weapon, safe, economical, and very effective, forged for our benefit entirely by accident.

Ronald Tibbitt Addresses Auto Racing Association

The Vermilion Auto Racing Assoc. had a very interesting guest in Mr. Ron Tibbitt, at its last meeting held on March 23. He explained the benefits to be derived from incorporating the club as a limited company. Discussion on this move will be continued at the next meeting. Some time was also spent in discussing the proposed Kinsmen swimming pool project.

Plans for this coming season of stock car racing have been underway since last fall. Some changes will definitely be made in the track itself and in spectator accommodation and protection.

It is expected that we will again be exchanging race meets with Lloydminster and the possibility of Wednesday evening races is also being discussed.

From all reports there should be a record number of cars from the Vermilion area competing this summer. Several new drivers are busy building cars, while practically all the veteran drivers of last season will be back with either new cars or remodelled versions of their old ones. Anyone interested in getting started in this sport is invited to attend the club meetings, and by all means pick up a copy of the rules and regulations before you start building a car. One new feature this year will be a clown car to entertain the spectators between races and during the intermission.

The next meeting will be a very important one for all members and prospective members as the election of officers will be held at that time. The future of the club and of stock car racing in Vermilion depends largely on the choice of officers, so come out and express your opinions by voting for the candidates of your choice. This meeting will be held at 8:00 p.m. Wednesday, April 6, at Cuthy's Rib Cafe.

Three Deer Killed On Track

Three deer were killed on the railway tracks at a point 3¼ miles east of the Borradaile siding early Sunday morning March 20th. The herd was apparently feeding along the railway right of way when they had taken refuge from the deeper hard crusted snow. The hard snow cuts their legs and the animals seek the roads and the railways where the traveling is easier for them.

The Borradaile area abounds in deer as a favorite feeding ground in the large pasture acreage owned by Luther Thompson in that district.

Tragically enough, eight deer were killed in the same place about the same time last year.

George Benz, local game official, was notified by the C.N.R. officials of the accident.

A SPECIAL MESSAGE

Yes, your old store put on a new dress and looks as young and progressive as ever.

Many of you will hardly recognize the old premises and we are proud to present this new and better service to you.

Our Hardware Department, due to increased volume, became too small to handle all the merchandise required by the members. Besides, we could not handle many of our regular services in a satisfactory manner. And now we can and will!

Present service has been expanded and many new lines added. You will be able to enrich your home with furniture and appliances, selected by you from our new lines of merchandise.

Budget terms will be available.

Furthermore, the farm supply service will be greatly improved, since someone will be present, ready to serve you at all times.

We welcome you to be at the opening on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 31, April 1 and 2, to participate in this new undertaking.

There will be a draw for a door prize on each of these three days. Everybody is welcome and we hope to see you all at the opening.

Health Unit Notes

THE FACTS ABOUT INFLUENZA

In most cases, flu leaves no permanent after-effects. But healthy people do develop after-effects.

The most common complication is pneumonia. When your body is weakened by something like flu, pneumonia germs can easily invade your lungs. Also there is another type of pneumonia that is less common but particularly serious. This second type is caused directly by the "flu" which gets deep into the lung structure

Other sicknesses that follow flu are persistent cough or bronchitis, ear trouble and ear infection. Your doctor will probably suggest bed rest. He may also tell you to take something if he suspects he may be pain and bring down the fever. Or urge you to drink a lot of fluids if your fever is high. If the sickness you have is really flu, penicillin and other wonder drugs won't help because they are not effective against viruses. But the doctor may give you one of these drugs if he thinks you are getting another kind of infection as well.

Doctors say you should stay in bed at home as long as the sickness is severe, and probably for two days after the fever is gone. The temperature of your room should be moderate. And the humidity should be kept high.

Vaccination is the only satisfactory way to prevent or control flu. The vaccine now in use contains substances that are effective against past flu viruses as well as those currently causing the trouble.

Today's vaccine is said to be "75 per cent effective in preventing the disease" by the Surgeon General of the U.S. Public Health Service. In 1961, he said, the vaccine might have prevented 50,000 of the 70,000 extra deaths that occurred during flu epidemics from 1958 to 1961.

Every year people with 75 chronic illnesses — emphysema, cancer, heart trouble, diabetes, or other chronic illnesses should be vaccinated. So should pregnant women and people over 65. If you are not in any of these groups, ask your doctor whether you should get the vaccine.

IF YOU HAVE symptoms of influenza, you should:

1. Call your doctor.

2. Go to bed. Even if your aches and pains and sore throat turn out to be nothing but a cold, bed rest will help you get well sooner.

3. Keep warm and drink plenty of liquids if your doctor can't see you right away. . . . wash with soap out of cold water and placed on your forehead may relieve your fever.

4. DO NOT take medicine your doctor does not prescribe.

5. Stay in bed until the doctor says you can get up. He will probably tell you to stay in bed for at least two days after the fever is gone.

6. Avoid exposure to other sicknesses after you are out of bed. Flu lowers your resistance.

Space Age Medicine Will Effect You

There are nearly as many physicians and medical researchers involved in the flight of an astronaut as there are engineers and technicians. The effect on the astronaut's body is studied very closely and the data collected is already being used in the development of new and more effective medicines.

Someday soon we will start to get these new medicines in our pharmacy and physicians will be writing prescriptions for them. When we see a spectacular space feat we know that it also represents a big step in the conquest of disease and the maintenance of good health.

A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions May we compound yours?

Premier E. C. Manning presents an award of merit to the Hon. Henry Ruste, Minister of Lands and Forest, on behalf of the National Rifle Association of America, while Hunter Training Officer Paul Presidente looks on. This was the first year Alberta has entered the annual International competition for hunter training programs. The award program was one of nine selected from 30 states and provinces for the award. Inscription on the plaque reads: "National Rifle Association of America presents to the Province of Alberta this award of merit for outstanding achievement in the field of Hunter Safety during the year 1965 as determined by a special committee of International Association of Game and Fish Conservation Commissioners". Alberta's two-year-old program covers a much wider range than safe gun handling. Instruction is also given in game management; rules and regulations; the game act; general prohibitions; identification, habits and habitat of fish, birds and animals; sportsman's responsibilities; hunting courtesy; forest fire prevention; care of firearms; code of ethics; hunting hints and techniques; first aid; survival; and archery. The program is handled through the Fish and Wildlife Division, Alberta Department of Lands and Forests.

Vermilion Bears Trim Hillmond 6 - 1

The Vermilion Bears a team of local players which was organized last fall, sponsored by Vermilion Merchants Ltd. Bears are enjoying a great season and on Saturday won the Town and Country Tournament here. This event is sponsored annually by the Vermilion Tigers Hockey club.

LINE-UPS

VERMILION — Cawthorpe, M. Reid, G. Cruthers, R. Rissling, W. Maughan, S. Barr, G. Tidsbury, H. Hartwell, R. Hemingway, G. Schmidt, C. Mistal, G. Hartwell, R. Cameron, B. Reid, B. Risshin, R. Young Coach, Brent Macnab.

HILLMOND — G. Mucllenlin, L. McCreadi, M. Glasse, E. Priest, V. Priest, B. McKenzie, G. McKenzie, E. Priest, M. McHillmond All Stars, names of the event last year. The game was evenly contested as far as territorial play was concerned, but the Bears' puck handling and Cawthorpe, was sensational, and the Bears out front were plenty sharp around the Hillmond net. The game was thus much more even and exciting than the score indicated.

BEARS vs. HILLMOND

FIRST PERIOD

Russ Cameron opened the scoring on a pass from play-making rewire Stan Hartwell, who turned in a top-notch performance Gerry Schmidt and Ron Hemingway combined for another by the end of the first period.

DOUBLED IN SECOND

The Bears added their counts in the second, with still no reply from the All-Stars, goalie Cawthorpe robbing them time and again. Marksmen in the second were Gary Tidsbury from Ron Barr. Russ Cameron with his second of the night and a beauty from team captain Stan Hartwell.

SPOIL SHUT OUT

Early in the third Hillmond broke into the scoring statistics and spoiled Ian's shutout. Vern Priest from Bob Noble on a ringwraw made it 5-1 on a three-way play from Merb in Reid and Carewor Mists! Hillmond's last goal finished off the scoring hostilities in the puck game. A fine bee outside the All-Stars' goal mouth making the final count 6-1.

The game was rugged in spots as members of both teams showed a readiness to reach it and mix it up so that four-man penalties were handed out to Referee Joe Brower and Neil McLure.

Shower At Alfandale Honors Young Couple

A very successful shower was held at the Alfandale Community Hall on the evening of March 25th when the bride and groom-elect Miss Danielle Mathieson and Mr. Leslie Bowers were honored at a miscellaneous shower. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Mathieson and Mr. Leslie Bowers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Bowers. Mr. and Mrs. Mathieson were assisted in receiving the guests who were passed by Mrs. Dave Bowers.

Mr. Dewey DeFreez as an emcee in part introduced the bride-elect and on behalf of all extended best wishes. An address from retired friend by Grace Gamore and Doreen McGuire, both of which were delightful presents.

Parents of Danielle, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mathieson of Pierceville and Mr. and Mrs. Durward Rasmussen of Vermilion, parents of Leslie, assisted in unwrapping the gifts which were passed by Mrs. Dave Bowers.

The future bride and groom were impressive of the kind and were shown and thanked for the beautiful gifts and extended an invitation to join in the dance which followed and to visit them in their home.

Friends and relatives were present from Vermilion, Dewberry, Vermilion Isles and Clandonald. A delicious lunch was served and refreshments provided all.

The Bible Society In Three Expo Projects

TORONTO — The Canadian Bible Society will participate in three Expo '67 projects.

The announcement was made today as the Society completed three days of annual meetings at Glenview Presbyterian Church in this city.

District secretaries and other officials from all parts of Canada learned that the Society will donate 100 000 souvenir copies of the Gospel of St John (70,000 in English, 30,000 in French) for the Sermons from Science exhibit. Copies of the scripture will also be made available for Expos Christian Pavilion. Finally a special edition will be printed on the grounds of Christ Church Cathedral in downtown Montreal and opened May 15, 1967. The exhibit will include Dead Sea Scrolls and other ancient manuscripts, translations of Scriptures, examples of old and modern printing methods and illustrations of the Society's work in the modern world.

Delegates to the annual meeting also reviewed the Society's work outside Canada, chiefly in the fields of translation, printing and distribution of Scriptures. World distribution of Scriptures also rose in 1965 to a total of 80 million copies, an increase of 10 million over 1964.

Maybe someone can recognize the milker. Pencilled caption on the picture says "General purpose cow."

Centennial Report

1867 1967

BY JOHN W. FISHER
CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

When I took over the job of organizing Canada's biggest celebration in history, I ran into a number of pessimists even a few cynics.

This is the sort of line they gave me: "Canadians aren't really patriots. You'll have a tough job stirring up much flag waving for 1967."

Well, some of their facts were correct but the [illegible] in which those few pessimists presented them was a [illegible] to despair. As I travel [illegible] and [illegible] this country to [illegible] that Canada really has [illegible] positive feelings about our country.

I could agree with some of the statements by the pessimistic friends if they were a different country. Canada is not given to wild [illegible] or partisanship in the [illegible] such things our attitudes [illegible] more thoughtful [illegible] emotional and that is why I believe so fervently that our Centennial will be a successful, [illegible] fulfilling event in our history.

Yes we may have difficulty at times in deciding what we are, what we are for and what we are against in the world. But we know what home is and though we may be embarrassed to express it we feel much [illegible]. Perhaps I discovered this through travel abroad when I met Canadians far from home. When we [illegible] travelling we are more apt to open up and reveal to other people our inner thoughts about our country. One particular instance comes to my mind. I was staying at a small hotel in London England a few years ago and became engaged in conversation with a young man across the table from me. He was a Canadian working at an airline office in London. After prodding from me he poured out all his thoughts about Canada and what he missed.

"I'm not a nationalist," he said, "in fact I'm against nationalism. It is one of those myths in organizing Canada's biggest celebration in history. I ran into a number of pessimists even a few cynics.

System Requires Sugar For Health

Don't put the reducing chart before the nutritional horse, leading home economists and dietitians advise. You need a well-balanced diet even while reducing. The trick is staying slim and healthy at the same time is never down on total food intake — but on any one particular food. And the trick to staying off hunger pangs? Eat sugar. It satisfies and gives you energy, quickly.

Now is the time to think about sewing that new wardrobe for summer. Summer fabrics are starting to appear in a wide variety of colors, textures and patterns. Before you rush into your sewing pause and consider these points.

CORRECT SIZE OF PATTERN

You must know your own measurements before you select a pattern. The size you buy is a ready-made dress is not necessarily your correct pattern size. You must be carefully measured with a good firm tape measure. At the front or back of every pattern book are charts showing the measurements that correspond to the various types of patterns, e.g., Junior, Misses, Half Size, etc. Select the type of pattern you most closely corresponds to your measurements. Very few people have perfect figure types so some alterations may be necessary. Buy a pattern according to your bust measurement as it is easier to alter skirt patterns than blouse patterns.

PRINTED PATTERNS

Printed patterns are the best to purchase, most patterns that are available today are printed for the beginning seamstress. McCall's Needlework and Butterick patterns are the best, easiest to read and follow construction methods. Vogue and Advance patterns offer patterns of high fashion but also include in their construction details. Avoid ordering patterns covered with paper services as these are usually not printed or are not in correct proportion. Poor directions are also given. You will be wise to order from a reputable pattern company and save yourself many problems.

MARGINS

Printed patterns have a narrow margin all the way around outside the cutting line. DO NOT trim the margins off before using the pattern. There are good reasons for this margin: 1. If you need to make slight alterations in seam lines you have this extra paper available; 2. When cutting a slippery fabric you may pin the pattern to the material twice — one row inside the cutting line and one on the margin. That way, tissue and fabric are held firmly together — no slipping and sliding; 3. When cutting, you cut through tissue paper and fabric in one sharp cut — giving a truer and crisper edge.

OTHER POINTS

1. Use fine steel dressmaker straight pins, rather than ordinary straight pins. This prevents the pins from marking the fabric. They are inexpensive and well worth the investment and pester to use too.

2. Do not cut the garments out with pinking shears. Pinking makes it hard to determine seam allowance and cutting through paper and fabric pinking shears quickly. Never cut paper with pinking shears.

WHY NOT TRY A WANT AD?

Great Canadian Oil Sands

Dr. A. E. Moss, recently elected a vice president of Great Canadian Oil Sands Company Limited, discussed the status of his company's huge tar sands project in the annual convention of the Pipeline Contractors Association of Canada at Vancouver recently.

Dr. Moss stated that this project is one of the most challenging mining and processing ventures ever undertaken and promises to open a great new source of energy in Western Canada. The supplying of the processing plant with crude land will be the largest mining operation in Canada. Several hundred new jobs will be created and at long last the town of Fort McMurray, which has waited 50 years for the development of its famous tar sands, is experiencing an unprecedented boom.

The bituminous bearing sands will be mined by giant bucket wheel excavators capable of digging 9000 short tons per hour and loading the mud onto high speed belt conveyors for transporting the crude level into the extraction plant. There the bitumen will be separated and the barren sands placed in an adjacent tailings area. Eventually, the tailings will be placed in the area excavated. The bitumen is then processed to remove coke, sulphur, nitrogen and any other impurities and the resulting crude oil will be piped 265 miles to Edmonton through a new 12 inch diameter pipeline, which will be completed within the next few months.

Some 1000 workers are currently employed in the construction phase of the 220 million dollar complex. This number is expected to increase to 1800 this summer. The plant is scheduled to go on stream in the fall of 1967 and has a rated capacity of 16,425,000 barrels of synthetic crude oil annually. Thirty percent of the construction has been completed.

The immensity of the recoverable synthetic crude oil present in the tar sand reserves of northern Alberta was stressed by Dr. Moss. He pointed out that although the proposed annual production by Great Canadian Oil Sands is appreciable, it would require some 20,000 years to exhaust the presently known reserves at the proposed production rate

This is the Centennial Symbol.

What does it mean? What does it mean to you?

We hope it means more than any other symbol you have ever been exposed to. Because this symbol is Canada. And Canada is you.

It is composed of eleven triangles. Ten representing the Provinces, and the other, our northern territory. The triangles are arranged as a stylized Maple Leaf, the identifying symbol for Canada and Canadians.

It is your symbol and it can help stand for your hard-earned in Canada. It can show your pride. It can interpret your enthusiasm for a greater Canada. From this point on, all Canadians will be caught up in the growing excitement of the coming 100 years of Confederation. Individuals will soon be involved with their own Centennial projects. Many communities have already begun to embark on large scale Centennial endeavours. Industries have initiated widespread Centennial efforts of varying degrees. All Canadians wanting to say "Canada" to the world.

You will be seeing this symbol everywhere. Like in its use of three isolated 1's? We'd like you to use the symbol in your home, your office, at school, in your plant, wherever you can. The Centennial period before may help to explain how you can best use it.

Remember, this is an opportunity for all of us to understand Canada, its history, its present and its future. Let's explore what can now be called a great country. Let's all be a symbol for Canada, the more way this is a symbol for Centennial.

The Modern Approach

Alberta farmers should be commended for the adjustments they have made during the last 15 years to changing agricultural conditions.

This statement was made by Jerry Jones, Supervisor of Farm Management with the provincial Farm Economics Branch, who went on to point out that a continuation of the farm cost squeeze will demand still more adjustments.

Mr. Jones says that decisions which were fairly simple only a short time ago, now require much more rigorous analysis. Each farm must be examined piece by piece and enterprise by enterprise to find the "blocks" that are holding up the income per acre during potential of the farm.

Business analysis and partial budgeting, says Mr. Jones, are the keys to unlocking farm resources. These tools, which are far more effective than the trial and error methods, are designed to dispose of trouble spots in the farm business.

Land capital, labour, equipment and management must be put to work in the right places and in the right proportions to reduce uncertainties and unknown if a reasonably high standard of living, security, recreation and enjoyment are to be attained.

According to Mr Jones, an ever increasing number of farmers are finding it necessary to use these tools, techniques and principles in managing their business, in order to enjoy farming as an occupation and a way of life.

Successful farmers are the best evidence that these tools and principles really work. Skill in their use can be obtained by participating in a Farm Account-ing Club or a Farm Home Group or a Farm Management Association.

Contact your local district agricultural home economist or regional farm economist for information on these programs designed to make Alberta farms the best place to work and live.

Grandsons of Confederation

Individual projects for the centennial celebration in 1967 may include the growing and nurture of beards. A fairly high percentage of the male population seems to be going in for them this season

It is possible that they want to look like the Fathers of Confederation instead of merely their grandsons or great-grandsons. Those men in the early photographs and paintings of Confederation proceedings had a great deal of statesmanship and determination in them. A country was established that, it has been said, had no right to exist.

If the grandsons of Confederation are as smart as were their grandfathers, the country will survive and flourish for at least another hundred years

MENTAL HEALTH

These are some of the characteristics of people with good mental health:

1. They are comfortable about themselves. They are not bowled over by their own emotions by their fears, anger, love, jealousy, guilt or worries. They can take life's disappointments in their stride. They have a tolerant, easy going attitude towards themselves as well as others that can laugh at themselves.

They neither under-estimate nor overestimate their abilities. They can accept their own shortcomings. They have self respect.

They feel able to deal with most situations that come their way. They get satisfaction from the simple, every day pleasures.

2. They feel right about people. They are able to give love and to receive the interests of others. They have personal relationships that are satisfying and lasting. They expect to like and trust others, and take it for granted that others will like and trust them. They respect the differences they find in people. They do not push people around, nor do they allow themselves to be pushed around. They can feel they are part of a group. They feel a sense of responsibility to their neighbors and fellow men.

3. They are able to meet the demands of life. They do something about their problems as they arise. They accept their limitations. They shape their environment wherever possible to suit their needs. They adjust to it when they cannot change it. They plan ahead, but they don't live entirely in the future. They learn from their experiences. They can make decisions. They can tolerate frustrations in themselves and others. They can express their feelings. They can be reasonably consistent.

4. They are able to learn and grow. They want to know more about themselves and others. They recognize their own needs and feelings. They can set realistic goals for themselves.

Many persons have only fair mental health. Others think that they are learning more and more about this business of keeping mentally healthy. In your community there are organizations and people who can give you the facts.

How Long Should A Light Bulb Last?

There is probably nothing more irritating than walking in to a dark room to switch on a light and finding that the bulb has burned out.

The householder immediately begins a grumble about the bulb manufacturers and his "planned obsolescence". He feels about the cost of bulbs, how long they last, and the bother of replacing them in hard to reach locations.

But what is the actual cost? How long should a light bulb last?

Electric light bulbs are probably one of the most economical essential commodities on the market today. The price per unit purchased is small when compared to the amount of light given off.

The design of the bulb and its not burning filaments are continually controlled in the manufacturing process to give the customer the most light for the money.

In a 60-watt bulb, the filament is only 18.10 inches of an inch in diameter. But if it was made one per cent thinner in one spot the life of the bulb could be reduced by 25 per cent.

Or if the tiny coils of the filament were not carefully spaced, lamp life could suffer by 20 per cent.

A little coil is not like a tire or a pair of shoes that you want to get all the "miles" you can out of. It is merely a device for changing electricity into light. A 100-watt bulb uses about $1.95 worth of current in its lifetime. The measure of its worth is how much light it will provide (i.e. not $1.95).

Bulbs these days are burning out more frequently as the average Canadian home becomes more modern. Using light have more bulbs in their homes and leave them lighted longer than they used to.

With a regular household bulb it is impossible to have both high efficiency and long life. This is inherent in the way a tungsten filament operates.

The brighter a bulb burns the hotter a filament is and the sooner the bulb burns out. At lower temperatures, less light is produced but the bulb last long er.

To commemorate Thomas Edison's 100th birthday, General Electric engineers designed and made a 100-watt bulb that they predict will last for a century. But the amount of light coming from that bulb is far below normal household standards.

To get the same amount of light produced by a standard 100-watt bulb you would need more than 100 year's bulbs and electricity would cost $36.20 every 750 hours instead of the normal $1.95.

The lamp manufacturer strives to make bulbs that have the best balance between good efficiency and reasonably long life. The best "balance" rests on two factors that concern every customer — the lowest cost of light per the utmost efficiency.

WHAT IS A WASHING LOAD?

Maintaining the correct relationship between the volume of the washer tub and the space required by the articles is the principle to go by when loading a washing machine.

Weighing the load is not an accurate measure because different fabrics have different weights. For example, 4 pounds of sheer curtains will not fit into a washer tub while 14 pounds of asbestos gloves will go in nicely.

The way to get clothes clean is to make sure they have enough room to move about in an adequate quantity concentrated detergent solution. Never pack them to get in these last few items. This is when your washer becomes overloaded. If the clothes cannot move freely some of the dirt will not be loosened and some of it will have room to float away from the clothes and fabric softener in getting clothes clean stem from overloading the washer tub.

FABRIC SOFTENERS

A type of laundry aid known as a fabric softener has become very popular with many homemakers in recent years.

Fabric softeners make clothes feel soft and fluffy, reduce wrinkling and make ironing easier by lubricating the fibres with an oil-like film. Their antistatic properties reduce static electricity which causes materials to cling and also causes sparks.

A fabric softener's all-the film gradually builds up on materials if it is used in every wash. The build-up produces a waterproofing effect which is a common complaint of mothers using baby oil softeners on infants' clothing.

Be sure to follow label directions for the amount of fabric softener to use and the correct time to add it. Usually, it should be added to the last rinse water, especially when it is used on chenilles, terrycloth, corduroy and other pile fabrics.

"Along Highway 16"

By ALLEN BOUGHAN, Kinsella, Alberta.

"Going for Mac? I don't usually pick up hikers, but today I feel like it. I've been a long time traveled it so many times."

"Not far, just to Lloydminster. Thanks for stopping. Boring? I've travelled it many times myself . . . That was the Vermilion River. Not much to it, is there? Historic stream though. Rises in the Sweetgrass Hills. We'll see it again further on.

"Now it starts to get interesting. Ever hear of Saskatoon pioneer days? Well, I've lived all my life around here. Remember the Saskatchewan Rebellion? Yes, I'm that old. Was a kid then, but I remember it as though it were yesterday. Dad was a scout for General Middleton. Fought at Batoche. Got a land grant for his services. Settled on it after the rebellion. Farmed it all his life. Died there. Left the land to me. Sold it and moved to town. Didn't like it. Bought a half section back. Been there ever since. Retired now. Rent it out. Keep busy though. Can't stand being idle.

"Over to the right are Birch Hills and Birch Lake, a pretty stretch of country. There's a survey camp up there somewhere but I've never found it. I'll have to t..y again . . .

"That marker is on the western edge of Range 10. The range between here and the meridian were in the District of Saskatchewan until 1905.

"That's Borradaile There was a scout by that name in the Alberta field force in 1885. I wonder if there's a connection . . .

"Here we are. This is the finest scene in the Four Black Gold Hills; Five Hill Hill over Kenilworth Lake. The British have worse scenes on travel posters . . .

"This is Blackfoot Coulee. It joins the Battle River 35 miles south of here and on the Saskatchewan side of the meridian Meridian? The county meridian of the Dominion Land Survey. They didn't mean Lloydminster to be on an interprovincial boundary, and it wasn't until the boundary was moved in 1905 . . .

"The country has changed again, hasn't it? It's easy to see what Bishop Lloyd saw here for the settlers. He was a young man when he first saw the country as a soldier in 1885. Lloyd? Yes, with the Barr Colonists Barr" That's a long story with many interpretations. Why they named the town after Lloyd anyway . . .

"Well, thanks mister. I'll get out here at the light and walk north on the border. I always like to have somebody to talk to about this country along high way sixteen."

Enthusiasm For Centennial

Dr. Oscar Ritchie, Canada got off the psychological notch and emerged being Canadian" was the advice given by Hon. Fisher, Centennial Commissioner in Toronto on Saturday.

Speaking to the Toronto Chapter Group of the Association of Administrative Assistants or Private Secretaries Commissioner Fisher said "No country in the world spends so much time in self examination and worry about its future Maybe a good self-examination occasionally will quash pride and enthusiasm a bit."

Because, that many Canadians think they will only be spectators of the Centennial events in 1967, because the government is doing it for them, Mr. Fisher said that the government can only promote interest in the 1967 festivities by organizing some of them. "The enthusiasm must come from within all of us" he added. "We must be able to say not only that we have seen Canada grow, but that we have been part of it, then in one way or another."

Check Oats For Germination

Farmers should check the germination of their oats to be assured of a seed supply this spring, according to Dr. L. J. Piening and D. M. L. Kaufmann of the Lacombe Experimental Farm. Germination trials at Lacombe indicate that the late-fall harvesting conditions last fall may have favored a fungus which has reduced germination by as much as 50 per cent.

The extent and severity of the germination problem is not known for sure, says Dr. Piening. Germination tests on part of last year's oat crop at Lacombe indicate a germination as low as 50 per cent. Many of the seeds that did germinate resulted in weak slow growing plants. Not much can be done about it now he adds, except test the germination and look around for a good seed supply if the germination test is not good enough.

The problem results from the fungi getting into the seed and sapping the food reserves required by the plant for germination. It is a non-parasitic type of fungus that doesn't affect the plant while it is growing. Rather it is a saprophytic type of mold that develops on the plant after it has matured. This is not something to become alarmed about, he adds. These molds are always present on the seed and the wet weather about harvest time last year favored their development. This is the first time he has seen the damage so severe, he says.

Letters to the Editor

The Vermilion Standard
Vermilion Alta

Dear Mr. Cooper:

As you personally report the auto theft and subsequent recovery of another automobile in Vermilion on Christmas eve, I simply can and do not have unanimous support from the citizens of Vermilion. I am sure that the R.C.M.P. are completely satisfied with the cooperation on the part of the public especially of persons making application for permits to purchase firearms. Such methods employed in our province for the detection and apprehension of criminals and other law breakers are of the greatest importance to the safety of Vermilion and our fellow citizens and I would like to express my appreciation on behalf of the members of the R.C.M.P. with the hope that such cooperation will continue.

Yours sincerely,
F. J. King, Publisher
Alberta Typewriters Ltd.

Vermilion Alta

Dear Mr. Cooper:

I wish to express our appreciation to the management and staff of the Vermilion Standard for the splendid co-operation they have given us during the Vermilion Area Campaign for the Canadian Cancer Society. Without this co-operation we would not have been able to reach our objective.

Yours sincerely,
Mrs. Ken Hall
Campaign Chairman

LIQUID FERTILIZER

Quoting from an article appearing in the Manitoba Co-operator on liquid fertilizer and its application, we find that there are many advantages of applying fertilizer that way. Manitoba, for example, has a number of commercial companies in the business of supplying liquid fertilizer and the number is increasing. Some of these companies have been supplying liquid fertilizer for a number of years. Most of the companies have their own mixing plants and some of the larger companies have several plants. Some companies have their own application equipment and others rely entirely on the dealers to provide the needed application equipment.

Alberta and Saskatchewan and researchers failed to find the manufacturers recommendations applied on plots of 13-20-0 liquid fertilizer to produce results of any fertilizer product 13-20-0 now selling for $105.00 per ton. Recommendations for Manitoba Department say they would not recommend liquid fertilizer for the treated wheat produced 23.6 bushels per acre and the check produced 23.4 bushels per acre.

Liquid fertilizer 20-20-0 is recommended and used in Manitoba for wheat. Rates of application for this liquid fertilizer were bought at 10 gallons per acre. If there is a dry fertilizer product 11-33-0 now selling for $105.00 per ton.

All Out For Production

Mrs. Bruce McLennan of Islay brought in to the Standard Office, six eggs, all laid by one hen. Not unusual? Maybe not until you see them. The first laid in December measures 9¼" by 7¼", the second 8¾ by 6¼ and the third 8" by 6¾" and so on down. Then they began to peter out until in February the good biddy produced her final effort measuring 4¾ by 3½". She is a one year old hen, a cross between New Hampshire and Barred Rock. Surely this stalwart bird was trying to increase production on the egg-laying front.

4-H Club Members Will Exchange This Summer

The 4th consecutive Interprovincial Exchange of 4-H Club members will be conducted July 11 to 25, 1966. The exchange, as organized by the Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs and financed by the 10 pvt. Boards of Canada, had achieved national prominence and has become one of the major 4-H projects carried on in Canada.

A total of ninety award winning 4-H members, 9 from each province, will be participants in the exchange. Each delegate is awarded a two-week educational tour in a province other than his own.

The delegates will leave by air from their home provinces on the morning of July 12. In each province, ceremonies the evening before the departure, with government extension and Royal Bank officials in attendance, have become a tradition.

On arriving at pre-arranged destination points the travelling 4-H members will be guests of the host provinces. In the provinces the visiting delegates will be assigned to host farm families. These families will show their guests points of interest and provide them with opportunities to observe agricultural practices and to participate in local 4-H activities.

Delegates will return home on July 25. Provincial Boards of the two-week period will emphasize the farm to farm aspect of the exchange. Education Departments and other Boards assist early in the programme behind the scenes. Their help ranges from providing buses to take part have been selected through careful screening of individual leadership abilities and records of 4-H achievement.

Appeal To Parents

Dear Mom and Dad

We are short of help in the pack. This is a continual problem in cubbing and scouting. As it is we can't actually accomplish very much — it's a busy sitting service for an hour one night a week. However, your son is likely getting the wrong impression of what cubbing is all about. We have no apologies for the way things are.

For the boys to feel they have accomplished something by spring when many will go to bonspiel, build a palace, etc., we need more help fast!

It's not difficult, just it likely get a real kick out of it. If you could help even for one evening, give me a call, a time and we will let you choose what you would like to help with. If you study it in you son's hand book, you'd be well enough prepared for most of the things.

So if your dad or your mom would like to see what goes on Thursday evenings, let us know and we'll also be a spectator for an evening first, bring your self.

Yours truly,
Murray Grain, Cubmaster,

A Big Buck Rat Invades District

By H. Morley Douglas, B.A.

A big buck Norway rat was caught on a farm north of Vermilion, Wednesday, March 16.

This is the third single rat to be caught in and around Vermilion in the last nine months. In every case the persistence of the people involved resulted in the capture of the pest.

During a sow's farrowing on or around March 13 something was trying to pull at a newly born pig's foot. The rat, as it turned out to be, was attempting to take the pig's foot into a hole. The observant farmer rescued the pig and investigated further. He found something that he thought was a rat. Marvin Horpestad, County Pest Control Officer, was called in. Marvin did not note any particular rat evidence but took the precaution of putting out Warfarin bait.

The dead rat was brought into the D.A. office. March 16. Mr. Horpestad checked the dead animal and declared it was a perfect specimen of an adult male Norway rat. There were no scars or scratches on the animal indicating the rat had not lived in a rat colony since birth. Normally, rats fight and scar one another.

Marvin Horpestad says it is very fortunate that the rat was a single bachelor. If it had been a female there may have been an outbreak of rats near Vermilion.

Marvin added that all three rats at Vermilion were caught by observant and rat conscientious individuals. The success of Alberta's program depends upon an alert and watchful people. Any rat encounters should be reported to the D.A. or County Office immediately.

Ski Enthusiasts Form Club Here

On Wednesday evening, March 30th eighteen enthusiastic people turned out at Reggies Restaurant to give their views on forming a ski club and associated recreation facilities.

After considerable discussion and suggestions it was felt that there were enough interested people in this venture so the meeting settled down to the business of electing officers. Dr. R. Attenborough was elected president, Lawrence Welsh is vice president and Tom Lysons secretary-treasurer. A suitable location will now be looked for and information relative to skiing in general.

All those interested in helping this young organization get its way are asked to leave their names with any of the above executive.

Islay Still Has Old Country Store

ISLAY Listening to "Neighborly News" on CBX Edmonton, Sunday, Mar 27th the documentarian told of an editorial in a paper about the 93d Country Store", here the meeting place is for the homesteaders, the open cracker barrel and how they helped themselves and got a bit of cheese. Well we here in Islay still have our store but it is "pop" in place of the crackers. It has everything that a meeting of consumers needs . . . a meeting place but — and do we like it! Yes Sir!

THE VERMILION STANDARD

Man Of Many Voices

Whether it's a fugue by Bob Goulet, Jimmy Durante and Perry Como . . . a comedy routine by Jack Benny and George Burns . . . or a debate between Canadian political leaders, impressionist Rich Little can handle all the voices to perfection. And these are among the things he does on 13 Rich Little specials to be broadcast on CBC radio's new Sunday Showcase series during the 1965-66 season. To add to the comedy and musical entertainment, Little will have top Canadian artists as guests on the various broadcasts. The new series is heard Sunday afternoon on the CBC radio network.

St. Paul Canadians Win Juvenile Title

By virtue of a 7-3 victory over the Vermilion Bob Cats, the St. Paul Canadiens won the Eastern Alberta Juvenile League title by three games to one.

St. Paul won the first two, the Bob Cats came back to win a close one on Friday night, only to drop the Sunday game.

The Bob Cats went into Sunday's game short-handed, Derek Beattie out with injuries suffered at St. Paul, and Jim McLeod. The game was only seconds underway when Scott Williams was hurt and rushed to hospital. Of the high-scoring first string of Heinemann, Williams and Beattie, only Heinemann was left, so that juggling of lines was necessary and the combination plays which usually resulted in plenty of goals for the Cats was lacking.

Scoring on Friday evening for Vermilion Darwin Heine and Pat Conway from Ron Garwasiuk for St. Paul.

Scoring Sunday for Vermilion: Gary Tilsbury from Rich Nelson; Darwin Heinemann, Rich Nelson from Heinemann

St. Paul: Garwasiuk 2, Noel 2, Rosichuk 2, Demaine 1.

The Vermilion Midget Hockey team defeated the visiting Edmonton Cyclone Tyro team trimming them in a doubleheader Saturday and Sunday.

Despite the one-sided scores the Edmonton team kept the game interesting, all the way but lacked the ability to score goals the way the Saskatchewan Midgets do.

Vermilion Pipers Attend Mannville Ice Carnival

MANNVILLE — The Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 33, and its auxiliary recently sponsored the annual ice carnival here at the skating rink.

The evening's entertainment was heralded by the Color Party of the Royal Canadian Legion as it paraded to the music of the Vermilion Pipe Band.

Many young people of town and district made the ice surface look like a scene from fairyland as they skated about to music time, such a delight of fantasy.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Carnival Queen. Miss Helen Swenson of Minburn, who was chosen by her classmates of the Mannville High School as their candidate. Others participating were Misses Heather Morrison and Barbara Wilson sponsored by the Royal Canadian Legion and the Mannville Junior High respectively. These two young ladies were princesses at the evening were as monty mentioned by Mayor Harold The trainbearers were Tommie and Terry Pearson and crown-bearer was Herbard Swenson.

The queen was presented with an engraved silver tray and a gift from the local Legion. Each of the princesses was presented with an identical gift.

The main features of the evening were pairs and solo performances of fancy-skaters, ably recently sponsored, lovely rendered by local talent as well as three young ladies from Vermilion, Linda Walsh and Patricia Norton in a duet and Peggy Sinnigrove in a solo performances, all well received.

Local talent, abeting in pairs was by Mr. and Mrs. Florus Groeneveldt who delighted the audience with their precision skating. Other Mannville performers, as a team were Misses Doreen Manz and Cushaw with Noreen taking the lead. This team proved victorious, but of course some of this honor was due to the ladies of the Legion Auxiliary who were doing their bit in the evening service.

Finally door prize was won by Mrs. I. J. Seuth of Mannville.

During the intermission the Oldies were retired the skirt of the princess adding much to the pageantry of the closing ceremonies

Capital Report

By JOHN WARREN

The legislative pot very much bubbled over last week. The usual heat of the heat was generated by debate on one or two subjects. And by far the hottest of these was again the matter of aid to Peace River farmers.

On Tuesday, some fourteen members spoke during a three hour debate on the subject. Charges of irresponsibility and extravagance were thrown and the air was rent by the heated oratory of Premier Manning and his first several times and the finally successful Opposition Leader, Mr. Hill. So, how about Social Credit? Surely there must be someone who ought to speak. Another day, another session.

Although this thing was prompted by opposition questions stemming from a television program on conditions in the Peace River region.

The premier replied testily that this house has to base its decisions on that type of program rather than democracy in its finest way. Our information was not based on the discoveries of a CBC cameraman running around to a few Liberal farm MLA's.

He added that the province has devised a comprehensive program to the extent of its responsibility and that it is not based on isolated cases in the region. Most members also pointed out that the problem was certainly not general. All the farmers' members have been support of the government stand and called on the opposition to stop creating bad publicity for the area by constantly bringing up the issue. At week's end the opposition showed no signs of quitting.

BILLS BILLS

One of the things the legislature is supposed to do, however is legislate. The govern ment left no doubt about its intention when it introduced a number of bills during these times by bringing in more than 80 bills last week, 35 of them in a single day. Each must be studied in detail and we can do no more here than mention the highlights of a few of them.

Prorogation by Easter seems doubtful, despite the wishes of many of the members.

Here are some of the legislative items given first reading.

DAYLIGHT TIME

An amendment to the act pro- Edmonton Daylight Time which has been in force for nearly 20 years. It provides that D.S.T. may be proclaimed through the province if a majority vote is obtained in a provincial plebiscite on the issue.

JUVENILE LICENCES

An amendment to provide for juvenile driver- licenses for drivers between 16 and 18 years. Highways Minister Gordon Taylor said it is designed to help pinpoint the irresponsible young drivers and low-er insurance for the safe ones. He said the government chose 16 to provide lowest as an alternative to raising the driving age to 18.

CREDIT & LOAN ACT

An amendment to the Credit and Loan Agreements Act that will be a make step towards having all lending agencies state, in simple terms, the interest they charge. It would also provide for the appointment of a supervisor of consumer credit who would, among other things, deal with public complaints about credit terms and loans.

REHABILITATION TRUST

A change that would make it an offence to refuse to take a breathalyzer test when asked to do so by a police officer.

INSURANCE FUND

A bill that would establish a hi-storic insurance fund to cover up to 90% of the loss to livestock producers resulting from default by a licensed livestock dealer. It will be retroactive to 1963 to cover those affected by the Yeregin bankruptcy.

LOAN RAISE TO $15M

A change in the Farm Purchase Credit Act to raise the allowable maximum loan $24,000 instead of the present $10,000.

A new non-profit corporation to provide prepaid pharmaceutical services. It would be established in connection with the Alberta Health Insurance Plan.

An amendment to the Jury Act that will allow women to sit on certain criminal cases and another legal change that will provide a closer check on the sale of securities by certain organizations.

SCHOOL LEAVING AGE

4-H Bonspiel Held At Manmville

MANNVILLE — 4-Hers have enjoyed what was, in all probability, their last bonspiel of the season in the curling rink during the recent past.

The bonspiel included all those 4-H members who could not participate in the town-wide spiel held in Vermilion on April 2nd.

Rink winners were: 1, Nina Jackson; 2, Doreen Nicoll; 3, Melinda Weyerhin.

Second event winners were Brenda Gordon 2, Bernie Watling; 3, Beverly Weyerhin.

Third event: 1, David Seymore 2, Russ Nicoll; 3, Marlene Tyler; 4, Chris Bauer.

The hard luck prize was won by Crystal Jackson, Karen Bauer and Clifford Weyerhin.

The reason for only three players being on some of the rinks was that several of the members were ill with flu at the time of the bonspiel. However, much fun was had despite the illness.

Of the 32,415 manufacturing establishments in Canada in 1961, 27,704 had less than 20 employees.

Centennial Report

1867 1967

by JOHN W. FISHER CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

A few weeks ago I made a statement during a luncheon address that we at the Centennial Commission in Ottawa are so busy we don't have time for coffee breaks.

The next day I was passing an open door in our office build ing and was lured by a scream which belied my remark of the day before. Two Commissioner staff members were in spirited conversation over coffee! Only the fact that the time was 9:15 a.m. (after office hours) prevented the shock to the sensibilities of a stern administrator.

I was invited into the session. The two young staffers were Marcel X, a French Canadian and John Y an English Canadian who had come to Ottawa a couple of months earlier to work on Centennial projects.

"We have made some interesting discoveries about the Fathers of Confederation," remarked Marcel X. "For example did you realize that D'Arcy McGee was a Fenian sympathizer? And another John we I recently learned from history lessons at school that Sir George-Etienne Cartier had been exiled for being a rebel with Papineau."

A member of the Fathers of Confederation on 666 the other hand, is the letter box which stemmed from Montreal Internal and worries about territorial rights all of which then eventually subscribed to the Hindu hoped lies in Federation. In fact some of these men were abandoned by their constituents at home for being too "pro" confederation. Joseph Howe of Nova Scotia, one of the most talented orators of the confederation period, turned against confederation but he joined the Cabinet of Sir John A's first government. Now in 1966 those documents which he used to whip confederation.

I believe that involvement in the 1967 celebrations will get Canadians, through their reading, viewing and listening, a better understanding of themselves and their place in their country and in the world. We Canadians in 1967 should be in a mood to look at history calmly and objectively and I believe that when we do this we will be better able to adjust to ourselves a tolerant attitude which will enhance our approach to some of today's problems of nationhood.

The coffee break turned out to be something of value after all. I think that discussions of this sort — particularly among students who with their parents and predecessors will be drawn to them during our Centennial year are good for Canada.

The Centennial Commission is actively engaged with Canada's universities in developing a program to stimulate the sort of discussion I have mentioned. It will encourage legal change that will provide a closer check on the sale of securities by certain organizations.

SCHOOL LEAVING AGE

An amendment to the provincial School Act to raise school leaving age from 15 to 16.

Claysmore Clippings

Winners at whist the last card party were: Ladies' high, Doreen Weyerhin; 2, Mary Mikulinski; consolation, Nellie Woywitka. Men's high, Frank Pelzer; 2, Henry Nesbitski; consolation, Mike Mosko.

The draw was made for the Easter Hamper. Mrs. Vi Leversedge was the lucky winner of this attractively done up parcel.

The Claysmore Community Society is making an application for a recreation grant from the County of Minburn. The school is used for social functions throughout the year and during the winter card parties and dances are held. These are the only means used for raising funds excepting the odd raffle. Main events held are the annual picnic and the Christmas concert. These are for the children as well as the adults. We hope our wishes will be met.

Mrs. Allan Olstad was the winner of a recliner chair draw at the opening of the Merit store in Mannville.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervel Batchelder have been gone for the past week. They attended a United Grain Growers' course in Calgary and Jasper and Mundare visiting relatives at Alix.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Wilbe received a phone call last week stating a son had been born to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilbe in California. Congratulations to Bob and Jessie. They also have a daughter, Joanne.

Deepest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hinton on the passing of their infant son.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Warawa and Janice were Sunday visitors at the Pete Zaharko home. Chris donald.

Greenlawn Goodwill Club

The March meeting of the Greenlawn Goodwill Club was held at the home of Miss Verna and Miss Gladys Boyce with an attendance of fourteen members and four visitors. St. Patrick's Day was very much in evidence with the green being worn or a shamrock. The prize for naming the cigarette was a shamrock plant. Laura and Josephine were the lucky winners.

The Bowman-Mathison wedding reception and shower arrangements were completed by various committees being elected. A donation was made to the Red Cross in March was Red Cross month.

A delicious lunch was served by Verna and Elsie as Gladys had left in the afternoon to help take a sister to an Edmonton hospital from Islay.

$50,000 Aim Of Recreation Board At Manmville

MANNVILLE — Village and district residents headed by the Recreation Board are going ahead with another venture typical of this progressive town. In this instance, an arena, to offer better and more adequate facilities for winter sports is to be built in the near future. Main building will be the arena, one that will be large enough to provide a viewing area for spectators, sufficient space for wedding rooms plus a covered lobby area of regulation size.

The total sum of money being aimed at is $50,000. However various ways of acquiring this amount are being reviewed, one of 'hese being a house-to-canvass by the whole area. To date several persons have agreed to volunteer their services in the canvass. If similar volunteer labor is forthcoming when the actual building program com mences, several hundred dollars may be cut off the amount required at present.

So folks, it is up to residents of town and district, you and me, not the other fellow, to get behind this venture and make it another Mannville success story.

Canada's Cost of Living at New High

Canada's cost of living went up faster last year than in any of the past seven years, says an article in Marleen's Magazine.

Hilleman asked W. A. Beckett former federal government economist when and where inflation will end and why the 1949 dollar is worth only 82 cents compared with the 1935 dollar.

Beckett blames the rapid growth in our economy for the inflation. Tendencies. There has been money available to spend on goods and services but not enough to spend on them. So prices went up.

On the other hand he says only 9 inches of TV sets radios refrigerators and toasters are all made in Canada. Most of the cars and trucks are assembled in Canada. And other goods cars packaged foods and many hobbies are also manufactured in Canada. So the value

Beckett assumes Canada's economy has passed the peak of the present fast growth period. Even so, Mrs. Hilleman says, there is no reason why Canada should not continue to be a prosperous country. Canada has immense human resources and natural resources to be developed. Canada is a land of opportunity. Canadians will be wise to be optimistic.

Health Unit Notes

THE FACTS ABOUT PNEUMONIA (Part 1)

Only a generation ago, the statement "He has pneumonia" was a death sentence for one out of every four cases. Today, thanks to penicillin and other antibiotics, pneumonia is no longer a term of terror. It still has a death toll, but prompt treatment most often means a cure. These deaths that do occur are usually caused by other poor health conditions combined with pneumonia.

Pneumonia comes from the Greek word for "lungs" and means an acute inflammation or infection of the lung. As a result of this inflammation the lung tissues become consolidated forming into a solid mass.

There are two main types of pneumonia: (1) One type involves an entire lobe or more than a lobe of a lung and is called lobar pneumonia. (2) The second type includes all pneumonias that produce massing together of lung tissue but not in a definite lobe. This condition is called bronchopneumonia.

Lobar pneumonia is caused by bacteria. The bacteria to blame probably exist in every healthy throat. In 95 per cent of the cases the bacteria causing lobar pneumonia are the pneumococci. When body resistance is lowered by a severe cold, by poor health and/or by drastic changes, the pneumococci have an opportunity to move out of the throat down into the lungs. Pneumonia follows. The inhaled germs infect the mucus. This infection is quickly carried to the blood-stream and the entire body reacts.

Lobar pneumonia is most common in late winter and early spring among people between 15 and 40. More men get it than women. Alcoholics, miners and steel mill workers are all very susceptible. However, lobar pneumonia may strike anyone, regardless of age or physical condition. The healdest sometimes seem to be hit hardest. It is not considered a highly contagious disease, but small epidemics sometimes occur in Salvation barracks, or hospital wards.

When a patient gets lobar pneumonia, he knows he's sick. This is no creeping disease! It is an explosive germ invasion. A day or two after catching cold, the patient experiences a shaking chill. Within an hour, his temperature shoots up to between 103 and 106 degrees. He suffers severe chest pains and begins to cough which makes the pain worse. The cough usually brings up a red or rust colored mucus. As lung go on, the cough and spitting both increase. The patient's pulse and breathing rapidly increase almost two to one.

Today the doctor has effective treatment in penicillin. In the old days, a crisis, occurred between the fifth and tenth day of lobar pneumonia, and the patient either died or his temperature returned to normal. Today with penicillin and other antibiotics it is possible to lower temperature within a day or two and produce the same dramatic recovery formerly seen only after the crisis. However, the drugs are generally continued for at least a week after the temperature reaches normal. If the patient stops too soon taking the medicine his doctor prescribes, the pneumonia may return.

Plans Completed For Joint Spring Banquet

Plans for the joint banquet sponsored by the Vermilion Agricultural Society and the Vermilion Agricultural Society and Women's Institute are now completed and it would appear that those planning an affair are in for a free evening's entertainment. Through the kind cooperation of Mr. W. Barnick and the Vermilion Agricultural and Vocational College the banquet will be held in the recently remodelled dining hall. Prior to the banquet a reception will be held in the lounge of the College to enable everyone to meet and visit with His Honor Lieut. Gov. MacEwan.

Although tickets for this event have been encroached per sons who are anxious to attend and who do not have tickets should contact either Mr. Grover Halterman or C. N Brennan as last minute cancellations may enable the committee to accom modate a few more.

18 Compete In 4-H Speaking Contest

The Vermilion Rotary Club will again be sponsoring the Vermilion District 4-H Public Speaking competition this year. Every 4-H club in the area has the opportunity of naming one member to participate in the district finals which will be held in the auditorium at VA.V.C. on April 13th, at 8:00 p.m. All clubs have held local competitions to determine the participants in the district finals, many making use of judges supplied by the Rotary Club.

It is expected there will be eighteen competitors in this year's district finals, promising a tough job for the judges who will be supplied by the Rotary Club. The 4-H'ers began their march to the finals before Xmas when they first chose their topics and began to prepare their speeches. In most clubs every member participates and preliminary local competitions are held to narrow the field down to five or six. From these the representative to the district finals is chosen at a final club competition.

At the district finals two contestants will be chosen to represent the Vermilion District at the regional competition to be held in Wainwright on April 25.

Public speaking is just one aspect of 4-H work, but probably the one which will be most useful to the 4-H'er in later years. The 4-H clubs are to be commended for their active participation in these competitions and the Rotary Club for sponsoring them.

Your Chamber of Commerce

What is a Chamber of Commerce? A group of businessmen devoted to prove that the sun shines all the time in Vermilion and district.* Public-spirited citizens banded together to see that the community enjoys the highest possible standard of living.* Supporters of free enterprise and our democratic way of life.* Business men trying to bring new industry and more tourists to this area.* These are some of the most commonly held ideas about the Chamber of Commerce. Whatever is said about the Chamber of Commerce, there is one thing sure — it is, or should be, one of the most important organizations in the town.

The work of the Chamber of Commerce touches nearly every citizen. In most towns the Chamber of Commerce is responsible for tourist promotion. In many others it undertakes the work of an industrial commissioner, seeking new industry for the town and district. Usually, it takes a leading part in community affairs, improving relations between the farmers and the business men, sparking community interest in education, running "Get — out — the — Vote" campaigns at election time, taking a lead in fire prevention and health and safety work, sponsoring cleanup and beautification weeks, organizing the Santa Claus parade at Christmas and a host of similar projects.

Your Vermilion Chamber of Commerce is a volunteer organization which endeavours to do its best to make this community a good place to live

GREEN ACRES

By H. MORLEY DOUGLAS
District Agriculturist

There are good, better and the best varieties of grain to be grown in northeastern Alberta.

WHEAT '66

Canthatch and Thatcher are still king. The Alberta varieties (all suggests 120 days to maturity in this area. Either variety is susceptible to rust and a lot of other crop problems but the yield potential is high. Rust is not supposed to be a big factor in North-Central Alberta. North of Highway 16 the frost free period favors earlier maturing wheat e.g. Garnet. G a r n e t grades poorly and was almost eliminated by rust in the 1965 season. Park is an equally early maturing variety which grades equal to Thatcher. It will undoubtedly replace Garnet. Red Bobs and '222' Park actually out-yielded Thatcher and all the other varieties under 1965 conditions. Selkirk Fyfe, if any, other varieties of wheat should be considered in the area.

BARLEY '66

Barleys are divided into two groups: feed and malting. Jo Wise heads the list of feed varieties because of its good yield and stiff straw. Jubilee on commercial fields 60 pounds of Jubilee and good growing conditions has produced over 100 bushels per acre Jubilee on record crops is also over 100 pounds of 23-23-0 fertilizer produced 61 bushels per acre. Husky is a short yielder but has not quite the potential of Jubilee Both varieties are late maturing (108 days and subject to loose smut. Conquest may have the same yield potential and in view of its resistance to loose smut

THE POUND

By RALPH WILSON,
Agricultural Society of Vermilion River No. 24

In the old-time pound outdated?

Today we have within the boundaries of the County of Vermilion River no less than 18 municipal pounds for the control of stray livestock. Some of these have not been used for many years. Do we need all these pounds? Would not three strategically located pounds be enough to serve the whole county?

Once loaded in a truck, an animal is only one hour from any point in the County. No matter how he is brought there accord ing to law, any stray or trespassing animal may be placed in a pound. The animal impounded stands as bond or surety that the claimant will receive compensation for damages done The owner when located by the poundkeeper may redeem his animal by paying assessed damages plus the pound fees. Should the owner not be located, the impounded animal is sold by auction, and damages and pound fees are paid out of the proceeds of the sale Should the residue of the proceeds of the sale be not claimed within one month of the date of the sale, the money is forwarded to the municipality as general revenue.

The livestock pound used properly provides a useful service to the community Abused, it may become a grudge keeper in a neighborhood feud. However, the service may be used, it is likely that pounds and the poundkeeper will be required in this County for some time to come.

Your Assistance, Please!

Concern has been expressed over the state into which most of our Country cemeteries have degenerated over the past number of years.

Something must be done about it.

To help us formulate a plan of action, we ask you to forward to this office all the information you have on local cemeteries in your area — where they are located — how big they are — who is looking after them now — the name of anyone having a special interest in the cemetery — what background you can supply — anything which may be of value.

Gas Rate Is Cut For Islay, Minburn, Innisfree

Natural gas rates in 21 of the communities served by Northwestern Utilities Ltd. will be reduced May 1.

The savings to residential customers will range from $7 to $12 annually. Northwestern president Murray Stewart said recently.

The reductions are the result of a study conducted by the company on the use of natural gas in supplying natural gas to the area.

"This review indicates rate reductions are warranted in 21 of the communities the company serves," Mr Stewart said. The reductions will also apply to large volume users in the areas

The communities had been connected to the gas system in recent years and had been paying higher rates than other communities served for a number of years, such as Edmonton and Red Deer.

Communities receiving the reductions are Bentley, Breton, Brightenbank, Black Creek, Crossfield, Chipman, Hilliard, Innisfree, Islay, Josephburg, Lamont, Minburn, Mundare Peers, Rainbow Valley, Rocky Mountain House, Sunny Brook, Thorsby and Warburg.

Sugar is one of the cheapest foods in a Canadian housewife's budget. Its average retail cost has seldom topped 10 cents per pound in 50 years, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The exceptions of course were certain years — 1920 at 18 cents (world war 1); 1951-52, 25 cents (Korean War); 1957 12 cents (Suez); 1963 and 64, 13.7 cents and 14.1 cents (Cuban crisis).

Today, sugar is at its normal 50-year level and is expected to stay there. Total consumption is expected to increase regardless of the food-fad trend toward diet foods containing artificial sweeteners. The increase in total consumption is linked with increases in population. Individual consumption has remained relatively stable. Canadians consumed an average of 97 pounds of sugar per person in 1965. About 40 pounds of this was bought as refined sugar and the balance was consumed in confectionaries, soft drinks and in canned and baked goods.

At an average retail price of 10 cents per pound, the housewife spends about 84 per person for the year on sugar at the grocery store. On a weekly basis this means a little under 8 cents per person per week — or less than the cost of one candy bar.

The Canadian Sugar Institute says that despite the fact that we enjoy about the lowest average refined sugar prices in the world, we are far from being the highest consumers. The U.S.A., England, Ireland, Australia, Scandinavia and Gibraltar all have higher per capita consumption (up to 130 lbs. per person per year) than do Canadians, and they pay up to 20 cents per pound.

On the whole, therefore, and regardless of agricultural growing difficulties, rises in cost of living, and vagaries in international trade and politics, sugar refiners and retailers in Canada have maintained a steady, healthy flow of sugar to Canada's sugar bowls. It has remained one of our cheapest, most staple food on a year-round basis", The Canadian Sugar Institute reports.

Automobile Expenses Are Being Checked

EDMONTON. — "Automobile expenses are being checked more closely than before" said W. H. Dunwoodie, Public Relations Officer, here today

"Taxpayers may be required to produce vouchers to support their claims for the business portion of expenses" he said.

This tightening of regulations resulted from a survey of "executive account living" carried out by the Taxation Division.

A.I. Breeders Hold Annual Meeting

March 31, 1966, saw the fifth annual meeting of the North Eastern Artificial Breeders Assoc Ltd. The general feeling was that the Breakwater area in the Vermilion area are not aware of the service available

Many people residing on farms read in farm periodicals and dream of the day when they will be able to acquire a herd sire of the quality they desire and at a price they can afford. Through the local Artificial Insemination Coop the use of these high quality animals is available for a reasonable fee For instance in one of the breed magazines recently there was an 8-year list of dairy females, and those were daughters of two of the dairy bulls used at one time in the Vermilion local unit

In the beef breeds the animals used come from some of Western Canada's best known beef herds many with very impressive prices weight of gain, and carcass quality tests.

If you are a member or prospective user have a problem or a complaint, see one of the local A.I technicians, one of the board of directors, your veterinarian, or "not" the local cynic on the street corner.

The A. I. office would like to hear from members who have had success with A.I. If you have some animals that you are proud that the Breakwater area in the Vermilion area are not aware of the service available

Canadian Seed Growers To Hold Annual Meeting

The 1966 annual meeting of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association will be held in the Peace River area, in Fort St. John, B.C. July 6, 7 and 8. Plans are in progress to have well known authorities in Canadian Agriculture speak to the convention. It is anticipated that besides the events of the meeting itself there will be a tour of the new Portage Mountain dam site at Hudson Hope which will tame the mighty Peace River.

Other events will be sponsored to interest the entire family. The annual banquet promises a real feast of prairie grown foods. Theme of the meeting is "Come to the Peace — The Big Country" — The Peace River country is the

Lyons' Hatchery Closes Doors

Mr. and Mrs. George Lyons who have operated a thriving hatchery business here for many years, have decided to retire and have now sold their farm. As a result customers must look elsewhere for their baby chicks this spring.

Twice every week during the hatching season 4100 eggs were set at the Lyons' Hatchery and besides supplying the local area, chicks were shipped to all parts of Western Canada.

On Saturday, April 16th, Marshall Jackson is holding an auction sale at the Lyons' Hatchery just east of town.

Mannville High School Students Tour Tech.

80 grade 10 and 11 students from Mannville recently spent a day at the Northern Alberta Institute of Technology, Edmonton, during Open House activities. Above, Ken Dary, Phillip Wilkes, Ian Peden and Tedd Kuchera admire a blown and welded glass vessel, an example of the skill developed by N.A.I.T. students. The ship in background is of hand moulded glass. The out of town students were invited to tour the three year old Institute, and ask questions about technical education from staff and students.

The 820 million Institute also had two new buildings on display — the 8-storey Tower Building and the Industrial Arts Building, boosting the accommodation capacity to 5,000 students at any one time. At present there are 2,840 students enrolled in the day-time program and 3,000 in the evening program. Students from outside Edmonton account for over half the day-time enrolment in Apprenticeship, Business and Technology programs.

Farm Credit Corporation Conference At Wetaskiwin

George Linder, Farm Credit Corporation representative at Vermilion, recently returned from a four-day conference at Wetaskiwin attended by all the credit advisers from District 2 covering offices at Wetaskiwin, Camrose, Vegreville, Wainwright and Vermilion. Mr. W. O'Brien, Branch Manager for Alberta, attended for one day.

Two days were devoted to a seminar on Farm Management and two days to work organization in preparation for the appointed appraisal season.

Mr O'Brien reviewed the progress of the Corporation and the growth of loan applications which have increased substantially each year. This increase stated the recent re-organization of the administration and the addition of many field staff. He emphasized the improved service that this will possible to Alberta farmers who are interested in obtaining Federal Government assistance mortgage loans for production purposes. It is expected that loan applications in 1966 will total 2500 loans approved in Alberta in the past fiscal year as well as the final amount of $8,500,000.

After complimenting the credit advisers on the excellence of their work during the past year he stressed the growing importance of long-term farm production and adequate financing in the maintenance of family farm units in the rapidly changing economy Mr O'Brien assured the staff that the corporation is conscious of its responsibility to assist Canadian farmers to assemble economic farm units and thereby improve their net income potential

In discussing reduced costs he stated that farmers are showing greater interest in the Farm Machinery Syndicate of Credit Act which is administered by the Farm Credit Corporation. This act provides loans to groups of three or more farmers for the joint purchase of new or used machinery to be used co - operatively. Farmers who have taken advantage of this act were motivated by the desire to reduce their personal investment and operating cost on larger items of machinery, so often essential to efficient farm operation.

Capital Report

The betting now is that the MLAs will be able to go home on April 14 or 15.

Last week's sittings gave them lots to think about during the Easter break.

The major act it was unduly subjected by the government's study committee on public expenditures and revenue. It is a 306-page report that was two and a half years in the making. Mrs. William Stewart of Kitscoty were united in holy matrimony, Rev. Richardson officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her stepfather Mr. Jack Hurst.

Mrs. Batty of Kitscoty presided at the organ.

The bride looked lovely in a floor length gown of white, featherlite a full double bow-tied of satin lace and net which was brilliantly trimmed with sequins and seed pearls on the bodice; had a simple neckline and lily point sleeves.

The shoulder length veil was held in place by a crown of pearls and rhinestones and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses with streamers of yellow ribbons. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, a gift from the groom.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. Elaine Brown, sister-in-law of the bride and Mrs. Bill McColgan, the groom's twin sister. They were identical gowns of deep blue crepe with lace tops and three-quarter length sleeves. White shoes headpieces and gloves completed their ensembles. They wore pearl necklets and earrings, gifts of the bride, and carried bouquets of white roses.

The groom's attendants were Mr. Harold Brown, brother of the bride and Mr. Bill McColgan, brother-in-law of the groom. They were dark suits, pullover ties and identical black onyx cuff links.

ASK PENSION INCREASE

The house also voted to ask Ottawa for increases in old age pensions right now and to adjust them to future changes in the cost of living.

The move — and the debate that preceded it — brought Assiniboia Member Steve Lazorko popped up once again to say farmers who suffered financial loss two years ago in the Liberal Bill Dickie proposed that will receive $6 per cent of investment asking the province for legislation to give every superannuation — as much as an Alberta resident over 65 a pension dealer — other assets are also of $1000 a month immediately settled.

Included in their recommendations was one that provides for Indians on reserves to be added to voters lists in several ridings. Of the 21,000 Indians on reserves in Alberta, 9,000 are over 18 years of age will be eligible to through social allowance and vote.

Senator Chiarra H ms Anyone who needs more than $200 but not $75 a month pension gets it.

75% FOR VERIZON LOSSES

And Ty Verzuh Alberta's wrongly popped up once again in the east of living.

Liberal Bill Dickie proposed that will receive $6 per cent of investment asking the province for legislation to give every superannuation — as much as an Alberta resident over 65 a pension dealer — other assets are also of $1000 a month immediately settled.

MORE MEMBERS FOR CITY

The committee studying electoral boundaries came up with a redistribution scheme that will give Calgary and Edmonton each one more seat. However it also shuffle any other ridings so that the result will be to increase the number of members to 65, which it was before the last redistribution.

THE FACTS ABOUT PNEUMONIA

(Part II)

Bronchopneumonia, the type of pneumonia in which less than a lobe of a lung becomes consolidated, does not strike as dramatically as does lobar pneumonia. However, it is often more difficult to treat and patients must be especially careful to avoid relapses.

This type of pneumonia may be caused by many things — by bacteria, by a virus, by fungi, by breathing in poisonous fumes, by a physical injury, or by animal parasites, to name only a few of the possible causes. As in lobar pneumonia, the germs or other invaders are carried into the lung. There they affect the air sacs, causing them to fill with fluid which clots and forms consolidated patches.

Very often bronchopneumonia begins as a complication of some other disease, such as measles, or after a surgical operation. The temperature does not take a sudden leap, but it does rise gradually. It may swing from normal to 102 or 104 degrees each day for a week or more. The patient coughs, but he may not look extremely ill, as does the lobar pneumonia patient.

Bronchopneumonia usually lasts from five to ten days. There is not a crisis and a drastic drop in temperature. Instead, recovery is gradual and coughing and spitting may continue for some time.

Bronchopneumonia is leading in the diseases of people who have already been weakened by other illness, by alcoholism or by age. Children often get it, too, especially after bouts of whooping cough or measles. Older people may get it after an operation. Alcoholics are very susceptible and their tendency to have poor health habits makes their bronchopneumonia harder to treat.

Tourist Trend To Area Is Forecast

There is a definite tourist trend to North Eastern Alberta, Mr. George Les Strange, manager of the Alberta Tourist Association told members of the Lakeland Tourist Association at a meeting in St. Paul recently.

Mr. Les Strange, speaking to representatives from Lloydminster, Vermilion, Bonnyville, St. Paul, Vegreville and Lac La Biche, said that the province had been divided into 12 zones to cut out the competition between towns and Chambers of Commerce which has been detrimental to the promotion of a lucrative industry.

Much more can be accomplished if the towns in the area unite and combine resources for combined promotions designed to advertise all the beautiful scenic and recreation facilities this part of Alberta can offer.

The meeting was chaired by Bernard Brosseau of Bonnyville who gave a brief history of the organization of the Lakeland Tourist Association (which covers the area north of Highway 16 from the Saskatchewan border and west to a line parallel with Athabasca, north as far as Fort McMurray.

Holding its third meeting the group is still in the profitmaking stage of its existence but is moving ahead resolutely with the support of the main towns who have expressed enthusiasm at the potentialities of the Association.

Child Safety Day Observed May 1

More than 2,500 children in Canada died last year in accidents, most of them preventable. For this reason, the National Safety League of Canada and the Highway Safety Council will jointly sponsor a nation - wide Child Safety Day on Sunday, May 1.

Enlisting participation of parents, teachers, clergy, police, service clubs, women's groups, provincial and community safety organizations and others, the League and Council expect the one-day campaign to continue its effect through the year. It is designed to alert adults to their responsibilities in preventing child accidents and in training children to make safety a lifelong habit. "This can be called an awareness campaign," said C. E. Carson, president of the League. "While it lasts only one day, we believe the impression and emphasis of that day should contribute to the saving of young Canadian lives through the year."

Manifestations of Deeper Problems

Modern politicians find it so difficult to disagree about policy in this complex age that they have to resort to personal attacks to show that they are on different sides.

That's Douglas Fisher's explanation for the sensational Gerda Munsinger affair in Parliament. The burly former New Democrat MP from Port Arthur argues in the April 16 issue of Maclean's Magazine that Gerda, the petty and mean pace of Parliament, and the continual personal bickering, are simply manifestations of a deeper problem.

Fisher says that essentially this problem is the inability of any of the political parties to solve — or even state — such basic difficulties as French-English relations, the overpowering presence of the U.S. and the complexity of federal-provincial authority.

Like schoolboys faced with a tough exam, says Fisher, MPs grab every opportunity for a playground brawl because it sets the problems aside for a time and it also gives them the illusion that there is a real contest between the two major parties.

Fisher believes we can expect more Gerda-style bombshells in Parliament because it is too much to hope for a concerted effort by the parties to alter their style and accept the fact that differences on issues are only a matter of degree.

Canada's Biggest Child Killer

Accidents take the lives of more Canadian children than the other leading causes of child death combined, according to the National Safety League of Canada. The others are influenza, bronchitis, pneumonia, cancer, congenital malformations, gastritis, duodenitis, enteritis and colitis.

In an effort to alert adults to their responsibilities in preventing fatal accidents to children, the League and the Canadian Highway Safety Council will sponsor a national Child Safety Day on Sunday, May 1. Participating will be energy, safety groups, parent-teacher organizations, women's organizations and others.

Gay McLaren, general manager of NSL, said, "Child accidents are most frequently caused by a chain of events, rarely a single factor. Emotional factors, such as a mother's worry or a child's uncertainty, are heavy contributors to Canada's tragic toll of young life."

History of Farm Movement in Alberta

Work on a history of the farm movement in Alberta is now proceeding as one of the projects undertaken by the Alberta Agricultural Centennial Committee.

A substantial part of the history has already been written by the late Mr. Norman Priestley who spent a large part of his life in the interests of Farmer Organization in Alberta.

Research and writing for the periods 1921 to 1935 and 1940 to 1967 remain to be done, and for the completion of the work the committee have commissioned Mr. F. E. Swindlehurst, former Research Information Editor for the Alberta Department of Agriculture.

The Alberta Agricultural Centennial Committee was set up by Member Organizations of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture, and now consists of some twenty representatives of Agricultural Organizations and Associations throughout the province.

SOLONETZ

I was in Vegreville Tuesday timing up 566 fertility trials on Solonetz soils in the Tofield Lake area. Dr. Ross Cairns is the adviser in charge of the Soils Research Station at Vegreville. He will be putting out fertility trials on brome grass in that area this spring. Dr. Cairns has found that by using very high rates of nitrogen fertilizer Solonetz soils can become good hay producers. Solonetz soils contain what we used to call burn-out pits, an impervious layer develops that prevents water penetration. There are about four sections of this soil south and east of Tofield Lake School.

NEW EXTENSION

While talking to Dr. Cairns he told me to expect, we discussed with a farmer could make use of and testing fertilizer and moisture knowledge. We agreed that many farmers were getting into the bad habit of farming by faith alone. Faith in the experts' judgment, and this isn't good. It isn't good because the expert has nothing at stake. The man who makes the decision must understand how the expert arrived at his suggestion. If the suggestions a man should never allow an expert to make any more than a suggestion. The problem exists as to whether a busy farmer cope with all this modern technology.

A new challenge to Extension is to find twenty farmers prepared to study basic soils science, nutrition, modern breeding or Agricultural Engineering. The study would not be one hour one evening a month but twice a week for six weeks. The Agricultural College nurses into this by supplying the instructor. There could be guest lecturers but the College instructor provides the continuity. Something new in the history of Extension is that it will not be offered free to those who pay a deposit and instruction will be good. Any group of farmers interested in such an Extension Program for 1966-67 should contact me this summer.

IN CROP FUTS

I don't suppose everyone noticed the name of Bob Hopwood, Mansville, in the paper the other day. Bob placed second in wheat at the annual Calgary seed show in March. Bob had a very good sample of wheat (68%). He placed ninth at the Mansville 4-H Crop Competition last year, but to place second only to the World's Wheat Champion Larry Hint of the Brooker Crop Club is something. Bob's sample of Thatcher wheat will be sent to the Royal Winter Fair in November. Larry Bauer of the Manville Club placed 12th at Calgary. Both boys really worked on their samples to get the bushel weight up as well as they did. The Clandonald 4-H Club was represented at Calgary by Robert and Marshall Stachniak. Robert's sample of Glen oats placed 5th and Marshall's sixth.

BULL CONTROL

The County of Vermilion River has entered into an ARDA agreement to assist a limited number of farmers control gully erosion. Assistance in the past has been limited to help in the purchase of grass seed. The new ARDA agreement assists farmers in most aspects of conserving service and grass seed. Anyone with severe gully erosion which must be brought under control should contact either the D.A. or Ralph Wilson.

Champion Team of Bantam Bowling League

Canadian Utilities Expansion Program

Canadian Utilities Limited will spend nearly $91½ million on new plant and equipment this year, according to the annual report of the company, which was released at C.U.L. head office in Edmonton recently.

TRANS-CANADA

The largest item in the company's capital program will be progress on the $40 million project on site construction for a third generating unit at the Battle River station, 110 miles south east of Edmonton. The generator with a capacity of 150,000 kilowatts, will take nearly 2 million dollars of this year's budget. It is scheduled for completion in 1968, at which time the cost of the project, including extension of the building, will have reached an estimated $31 million.

300,000 KILOWATT TURBINE

Other major projects the company has underway include the completion of a 30,000 kilowatt gas turbine generator in the Simsonville oil field, 70 miles south-east of Grande Prairie, and the construction of 40 miles of transmission line from the plant to connect with the existing transmission system. The turbine, to be operated by remote control from the Sturgeon Lake plant, will utilize residue gas from oil producing wells in the Simsonville field.

COMPANY GROWS

C.U.L. President J. C. Dale says in his report, the company's 38th annual report, "General prosperity throughout the service areas, from increased farm income and expansion in the petroleum, mining and lumbering industries, contributed to the company's growth in 1965".

NORTHERN DEVELOPMENT

Commissioner of Yukon Territories which are having the impact of accelerating northern development are The Yukon Electrical Company Limited and the Yukon Hydro Company Ltd., serving the city of Whitehorse and 13 smaller communities throughout the Yukon, and the Fort McMurray Power Co. Ltd., which has had to increase its plant capacity and distribution facilities considerably to keep pace with growth due to the oil sands development.

Gideons Distribute Scriptures In Canada

An historic milestone is being commemorated this week as the five millionth Scripture is placed in circulation by The Gideons International in Canada. A beautiful gold-covered Bible will be presented to the management of the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, at a special function Saturday, April 23rd.

Travellers, hospital patients, prison inmates and many others are aware of the activities of the Gideons but few know how this organization started its world-wide operations.

A business conversation between two Christian salesmen, who were sharing a room in a crowded hotel, led to the founding of the well-known lay movement in 1899. Today there are 22,700 members in 73 countries in 150 of these members are Canadians, organized into 169 local branches, called Camps. Members work quietly and unobtrusively in their communities, seeking to give spiritual and moral uplift to others. Gideons them selves, voluntarily provide some 30% of the Canadian budget of $600,000. The balance comes from interested Christian friends and through the operation of a Memorial Bible Fund. Qualifications for membership call for personal faith in Christ as Saviour and Lord and a belief in the Bible as the inspired Word of God.

The first Bibles were placed in a Canadian hotel by the Gideons in 1911. By 1922 the first million were placed and distributed. The three millionth milestone was reached in 1956, indicating the ceaseless activity of this modern Gideon army. Internationally, 4 million Scriptures are distributed yearly.

A major program in Canada involves the annual presentation of more than 200,000 New Testaments to Grade 5 public school children. And thousands of Bibles have been placed in hotel guest rooms of colleges and university students. The Ladies' Auxiliary present attractive white bound Testaments to student nurses.

As a memorial of his Scripture placement activity, the Gideons receive a steady flow of letters from persons who have experienced spiritual help. The writers are old folk and youngsters, drunks and drys, saints and sinners, but all with the same basic message: "Thank You." Gideons look upon themselves as an arm of the Christian Church, helping to carry out Christ's great commission to take the Gospel to every creature.

In North-Eastern Alberta, local organizations, or Camps, are operating in Vermilion, Lloydminster, Wainwright and St. Paul. Since their formation in 1953 many thousands of copies of the Bible and New Testaments have been presented to school pupils in Grade 5 and in other institutions by these Camps.

MISS E. MARION BLADES
Wainwright -- Phone 842-3484
Vermilion -- Phone 853-3953

Remember when a woman could easily identify a piece of "goods"? It was wool, silk, cotton, linen or rayon. Then into the home and made something that wore like iron and behaved itself when laundered or dry cleaned.

Nowadays when it comes to identifying the fibre in a piece of cloth, one is as confused as a ham handling socks. There are still have the five old reliables but in addition there are 15 families of man-made fibres which are used in an astronomical combination of different blends.

There are 28 different methods of processing nylon alone, each type is engineered for a special purpose. No wonder that nylon is found in everything from tooth-paste to bridal veils. Then how does a smart shopper know what to expect when buying fabrics? "As you know, you don't say much anymore". Well, you read labels. And you learn the new family groups of man - made fibres placed in the various properties will be similar.

Rayon, acetate and tri-acetate are made from plant fibres, but Arnel is a synthetic blended with cotton and used in blends to prevent "Pilling".

Acrylic and Modacrylic fibres are chemical based. They have a remarkable resemblance to wool, give warmth without weight, retain pleats, shed wrinkles, etc.

The nylon family is another chemical based group of fibres; perhaps the most versatile of all. Noted for durability, elasticity, resilience and so on.

The polyester family is chemical based and includes such fabrics as dacron, as well as other wash and wear textiles.

Then we have spandex (e.g. lycra) which is based on polyurethane (you know plastic foam for bosiers, etc.) It has a greater flex life than elastic and thus replaces rubber in stretch fabrics.

Fibreglass is a mineral based fibre. It won't shrink, stretch or wrinkle. It is fireproof, non-proof and waterproof. Abrasion resistance is low, but fibreglass is recommendable.

Yours for the asking: A booklet on fabrics and fibres.

Now your husband be impressed when you look at his sport coat and say "It's made of 60% polyester, carbon, hydrogen and oxygen. It may even have a bit of wool in it."

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of
RUTH FLORENCE McPHEE
who passed away Apr 24 1962
There is never a day that passes by
But our thoughts reach out to you
Never a kiss that comes to us
But we wish you could share it, too.
In our garden of beautiful memories
You return to us each day
And memory is an door today
Of the home you passed away
Lovingly remembered by her husband David Jean George and family

Alberta Recommends Driver Training for Students

A driver training program for students was recently outlined in the Alberta Legislature by the Honorable Gordon Taylor, Minister of Highways.

The Government is recommending to the Legislature a Driver Training Program for high school students on an extra-mural basis. The proposed program may be implemented by the School Boards. An officer has been appointed in the Department of Highways who will give Boards any help desired.

In the last two years in Alberta some 20 to 30 teachers have taken a course in Driver Training to equip them as instructors. Another course is planned for this summer.

Driver Training at the school level has been successful in the United States where some 300,000 High Schools trained over one million students. Results indicate that the accident rate of this group was reduced approximately two thirds as compared to those with no Driver Training. The insurance companies acknowledge the merit of these studies and do allow a reduction in the insurance premium for drivers in the 16 to 25 age group who have taken a Driver Training Course.

Last year the Calgary School Board, in co-operation with the A.M.A., made a course available as an extra-mural course. The teaching has been done on Saturdays at a cost to the student of approximately $25.00. The students are paying their own fees in this connection because they realize that over a two or three year period, by passing this course, they can save more in insurance premiums than what they are paying for the course.

Prime Minister Supports Chamber Of Commerce Week

Chamber of Commerce week is being observed across Canada, April 17 to 23 and President R. Keefler of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce has released the text of a message from the Prime Minister Mr. Pearson said that governments at all levels value the effective work done by Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce in helping to strengthen their local communities, their provinces and the nation.

Mr. Pearson said he hoped "that the special events planned for Chamber of Commerce Week will broaden public support for, and participation in this work."

There are Boards and Chambers in more than 600 communities across Canada. Special programs and events will be organized throughout the week to inform citizens of the role these organizations play in promoting progress through teamwork.

Prime Minister's Message

"As some 850 Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce across Canada observe their ninth annual Chamber of Commerce Week, I am pleased to extend to them and to all their members the good wishes and appreciation of the Government of Canada.

Governments at all levels value the effective work being done by these voluntary organizations in helping to strengthen their local communities, their provinces and our nation. I hope that the special events planned for Chamber Week will broaden public support for and participation in this work."

Five Point W. I.

MANNVILLE. — The April meeting of Five Point W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Ed Chard. Twelve members were present and three visitors, Mrs. J. Sumerauer, Miss Pearl Lyons and Mrs. Syd Jackson. Opening was with the "Easter Parade" followed by the creed.

The Centennial project was again discussed. Some information had been received but all was left until a later meeting.

It was decided that a gift would be donated to the 4-H Clothing Club for presentation to one of the girls chosen as an award winner.

Roll call was a suggestion that nameplates and gale signs would be a fine way to brighten up our farmsteads and the country side.

Miss Cheryl Jackson active 11H member was introduced and she gave a very interesting talk on the results of a potash industry in a community.

The group made their annual donation towards the award given at the Home Economics and Industrial Arts Achievement Days.

The hostess served a delicious lunch at the conclusion of the meeting.

Boys and Girls, Bicycles and Traffic

During the next few weeks many youngsters in Alberta will be riding bicycles.

The Alberta Safety Council urges parents to make certain that their children are old enough to handle their bikes with skill and that they know and observe the bicycle regulations before permitting them to ride them.

In Alberta, bicycles are considered vehicles and traffic regulations governing motorists as well as pedestrians. Normal traffic control signs, signals and regulations must be observed. In addition, any special laws governing bicycles should be observed.

The cyclist should use hand and arm signals to warn others of any intention to stop or turn.

He should never attempt to squeeze in between two lanes of traffic whether the cars are in motion or halted at a stop signal.

Riding more than two abreast in a street or road should never be done. Standing should be saved for a yard or field.

Bicycles should be walked across busy streets in crosswalks or at intersections.

If it is used at night, the bicycle should be equipped with a generous headlight and rear reflector.

At school or at home the bicycle should be kept upright in a rack or with a kickstand in a designated place so that no one will trip over it.

The above mentioned tips are taught to members of the Alberta Safety Council Patrol Program. Clubs in your child enrolled in one of these safety training courses? Contact the Vermilion Kinsmen Club for more information.

The Red Cross has received the Nobel Peace Prize four times.

Honored At Social Evening

Wide Interest In Reports On Boards and Tribunals

The Special Committee on Boards and Tribunals, set up at the last session of the legislature has in report during this session. The committee was made up of three members of the legislature, two from the Government side and one from the Opposition, along with Mr. C. W. Clesseretis, Q.C. of Edmonton, Mr. R. K. Bannister, Edmonton, Mr. N. Malm, an official of the Alberta Wheat Pool, and Mr. R. Slatter of Edmonton, a Union Member.

Mr. Bannister, as Ashley Cooper, M.L.A., the following are some of the major recommendations of the committee

1. The three jurisdictions relating to expropriation of and compensation for interests in farm lands and rights of entry and user, and surface reclamation, should be consolidated in one tribunal.

2. Another recommendation included what are generally termed as acceptable procedures including the delivery of written reasons for awards and orders respecting reclamation; and means should be provided to require boards to act with reasonable promptness

3. Hearings should be held before expropriations are made and with power to give effect within reasonable limitations to such modifications as are appropriate to protect the legitimate interests of both farmers and operators subject to the paramount interests of the public.

4. The right to appeal to the Board should be given on the question of jurisdiction of a board or law and on the award, and the time limit for appeal should be increased to 30 days.

5. In connection the recommendation of the Standing Committee of the Legislature is appointed that the Chairman of the Advisory Committee known as the Natural Resources Conservation Board, should be appointed as an ex-officio member of the Boards and Tribunals Committee.

6. The committee is of the view that there is a legitimate need for a Commissioner of the Legislature in Alberta, and commends to the legislature consideration of the institution of such an office. The office would be somewhat similar to an ombudsman.

The Government is actually considering these and many other proposals which were made by the committee with the view in mind of bringing in legislation at the next session for several of these proposals. However as an indication of the importance the Government places in this report, the Premier introduced this with a Bill entitled "An Act to Establish Uniform Procedure in the Exercise of Statutory Powers." — which will be known as The Uniform Procedures Act. This act has set out uniform procedures for each of the Government Agencies.

Warnings Issued For Livestock Mistreatment

Nine hundred and eighteen stock producers for mistreating their animals last year by the Alberta Livestock Protective Society. Seven separate warnings were served and convictions were obtained in three cases.

The warnings were issued for violations of the law as to overcrowding, failure to care for sick and rail cars, failure to provide protection against extreme cold, lack of proper bedding and faulty equipment.

Regulations governing trucking companies as well as stockyard operators and handling methods have also been established. These are designed to protect all types of livestock from undue suffering, overcrowding and lack of protection from the elements. Special attention is given to the transportation of poultry with respect to extreme conditions.

Prosecutions are usually undertaken by the Society only after other conditions have been given a chance to correct themselves. Only in extreme cases is prosecution undertaken without warning.

Operating on grants from the Alberta meat packing companies, the Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge public stockyards and the Alberta Department of Agriculture, the Society has grown continued to the high standard of livestock handling practices which prevail in this province.

Information on 1965 inspection work carried out by the Alberta Livestock Protective Society is contained in the Society's annual report recently released by Inspector Eric Poole

Appreciation Is Expressed For Newspaper Publicity

Minutes of the meeting of the Agricultural Committee of the County of Vermilion River No. 24, held in the County office at Kitscoty on March 25th, 1966.

Present were members J.D. Sorenson (Chairman) C.J. Anderson, R.C. Golightly, J.C. Goldthorpe, H. M. Douglas, D.A.. W. Cody, Assist. D. A., and R. Wilson, Agricultural Fieldman.

RAT BAITS

It was reported that some concern was being expressed by farmers in the County about the extensive use of 1080 as a coyote eradicant Mr Wilson informed the group that the number of baits used have been reduced in excess of over 20 to 16 over the period of the past five years. It was anticipated that requests for further reductions would decrease as time went on

NEWS ITEMS

The news items compiled by Mr. Wilson and published in the local papers were being well received and the Committee expressed approval of continuing the weekly news items and appreciation to Mr Wilson for his efforts along this line.

SHELTER BELT SPRAYER

It was reported to the Committee that the possibility of purchasing a shelter belt spraying equipment for use in apply-ing weed killers to help for the control of ground growth had been fully investigated and that it was found as a result that the machine could be unduly expensive for the job.

POCKET GOPHER CONTROL

It was agreed to recommend the County purchase of a pocket gopher getter for use during the 1966 season.

SOIL CONSERVATION

It was pointed out by Mr. Douglas that the Council must appoint a Committee to work under or under the terms of Section 3 (1) of the Soil Conservation Act, and suggested the Agricultural Fieldman for this appointment.

FARM LEADERSHIP AWARDS

Moved by Mr. Anderson that recommendation be submitted by Messrs Dennis Wolfseer, Lloydminster and George Mead, Vermilion, on being chosen to receive grants from the Bank of Montreal Canada Centennial Farm Leadership Awards competition, and that every wish for success be conveyed to them in the completion of the project chosen under this program

ADVISORY COMMITTEE

A report of a successful meeting of the County Agricultural Advisory Committee was given, when all members were invited attended the first meeting Full participation in the discussions was enjoyed by all those present and the efforts of the group were substantially assisted by the formulation of a very comprehensive agenda.

CROP INSURANCE

The merits of the Prairie Farm Assistance Act and the Crop Insurance plan now being offered were thoroughly discussed by those present Hope was expressed that agents offering crop insurances in the County would be insuring that farmers were made aware of the status of Carnot wheat in the Crop Insurance scheme.

MEETING

Moved by Mr. Anderson, that arrangement be made for the inspection of all ponds in the County by Mr. Cook (Dept. of Agricultural) Fieldman, and that a report on the adequacy of the facilities being provided at each pond be made available to the Agricultural Committee at his convenience Carried

The importance of the stocked snow at a pound side of the local committee was emphasized and instructions were given to inform all poundkeepers of the necessity for notifying the local committee of an impending sale. It was that notice to the committee should be sent from the office sales

MINUTES

Moved by Mr Golightly that the minutes of the meeting held at Marwayne in 1965, be adopted as presented Carried.

FIELDMAN'S REPORT

"Since our last meeting I have attended agricultural short courses in the following areas: Marwayne, two days, Lloydminster two days, and Vermilion, two days.

"Besides this I attended a one day course on sprayers and sprayer maintenance at Camrose and one day on chemicals at the V.A.V.C. We had a one-day meeting on rolly control at Pats dale Valley and I have attended various farm meetings since and one seed cleaning plant directors meeting at the request of the Board. Each week I have prepared an article for publication in the local papers on some topic of farm interest. It was my privilege to appear once with Mr. Cody, Mr Douglas, Mr Dingwall and Mr Goertzel on CKSA radio with regard to Gully Control.

PROGRAM FOR 1966

"We have a record number of trees to be planted this spring It expect to be very busy for some weeks, supervising the tree planting and assisting when necessary At about the middle of May it is hoped that we will be able to get a number of fertilizer demonstrations under way Our Director spoke at the Stop Plant should be started as soon as possible in the spring as well; thus, your Fieldman is apt to be very busy indeed

"During the spring it will be necessary to call on a great many farms to supervise the filling and the seeding down of gullies. This is most important and I must necessarily arrange my time so that it can be done

"Pocket gopher control is a serious matter to anyone with an acreage of seeded hay. I have suggested that the County purchase a 'Burrow Builder' machine for pocket gopher control. We should, I believe, hold two or three demonstrations on the use of this machine before letting it out to the public

"Throughout the summer we will continue to be on the lookout for "Leafy Spurge". Whether or not any is found, I would strongly urge that spray materials be made available to the three two fields in this County that were a few years ago infested with this weed.

"We again expect to be responsible for supplying Matrine to the roadsides and hope to get more than the early 10 gallons.

"A phase of this work that is showing greater proportions all the time is that of working with groups of farmers problems which seem to arise from time to time Visual aids are often a great assistance in this and in this regard I would like to say that I have had my own 2 x 2 projector. The cost is about $200

Do you know what mental health is? It's not merely the absence of mental illness. It's much more positive There is a Mental Health Week CMHA that you will find helpful. It's called "Mental Health is 1 2 3" and it is free. Write CMHA 619 Bevilton Bldg., Edmonton

BRUCELLOSIS CONTROL

The terms of the presently constituted Brucellosis control program were reviewed for the benefit of the members by Mr. Douglas who stressed that the program of vaccination is now on a voluntary basis and that the grant is now 50c per animal instead of the 65c formerly received and the vaccination of animals on farm premises. His veterinarian fee 40c out of the 50c provided, with 10c pelag turned over to the program organizers. The veterinarians get 10c per animal grant from the Provincial Department of Agriculture, upon application, for the vaccination of animals at auctions. It was conveyed to the meeting that the veterinarians in the area were willing to continue the program on this basis.

Moved by Mr. Golightly that the budget providing for a total expenditure of $1,700 be approved as follows: County share $1,000; Provincial government's share, $10,645. federal government's share $650, farmers share $1,000 as approved by the committee and recommended to the council for consideration. Carried.

Capital Report

Every session produces a certain number of surprises and this one has been no exception. But, like a well written suspense drama the house kept the best to the last. For those who expected the automobile insurance committee to come in with one of those bland "there's nothing to be concerned about" reports, the document fell like a bombshell.

It was a stinging indictment of the insurance industry and got the support of the government and the legislature on most counts. The most startling recommendation (on which the government has already said it will move) is that the government lay charges against the Canadian Underwriters Association for a violation of the Combines act.

The report charged that the association has effectively eliminated competition by use of its so-called "green book". This sets out premium rates for insurance companies, usually based on thorough statistics. Information The committee says the statistics and insurance book-keeping were both juggled at a subsequent high cost to Alberta's drivers.

The all-party committee also suggested establishment of a provincial government commission to examine closely the workings of the auto insurance industry in the coming year.

It urged compulsory safety features in car design, and government inspection and standards for auto body repair shops with the obvious implication that the public is frequently getting milked in many areas of the car business.

The arrest motorist was also criticized. In an effort to reduce the number of accidents the committee called for automatic five-year suspensions for drivers with two major convictions. The members suggested a third conviction should bring jail sentences and lifetime suspension of driving privileges.

The whole thing provided a great deal of food for thought, and for action.

The insurance report wasn't the only news gem revealed in the dying hours of the session.

Legislation that would make drastic changes in the administration of the Edmonton and Calgary universities was virtually ignored until someone found it contained a section dealing with use of animals for scientific experiments. Jeff unclaimed at the local pound will be made available to the universities' research arms. All this, naturally, raised a storm of protest on the grounds of cruelty. Figures were produced to show that 1,200 dogs and 200 cats wind up at the U. of A. vivarium each year. The public outcry is bound to be far louder (and h.ngor) than that in the Legislature.

The legislature also gave approval to acts permitting commercial sport on Sunday afternoons and allowing daylight saving if it gets majority support in a province-wide plebiscite.

The Sunday sport legislation would allow people to charge admission for games, concerts and recreational facilities between 1.30 p.m. and 6 p.m. Horse and dog racing, boxing, wrestling and "similar contests" will not be allowed.

One of the most intriguing moves of the entire session was made by Donald Fleming of Calgary, but it fell flat for lack of a seconder.

Obviously convinced that the cities are still getting a raw deal on representation in the house, Mr. Fleming suggested a novel way of giving them a louder voice. He asked the government to study the possibility of giving each member a vote for each 1,000 voters in his riding. By mere coincidence Mr. Fleming would have been one of three members (including the Premier) who would get six votes each under the scheme.

The session had some good fights, a number of real horse-trading encounters, and, somehow it got through a total of 140 new pieces of legislation. Only fluoridation remained to be dealt with at week's end.

Widmore Wisps

A few farmers are noticed trying the hand, mostly picking rocks and getting stock. With this 10 above weather many more will do less much.

Congratulations go to Ernest Sweeney who won a Cultural Award at his graduation from Camrose College last week.

A speedy recovery is wished Mrs Ray Osterhout who spent a few days in hospital for tests and X-rays

It didn't take long for a number of neighbors to gather and lend a hand when one of Charlie Sweeney's cows got stuck in the mud. A few days later she presented her owner with a nice set of twins.

Elmer Club of Edmonton visited Kathleen Crothers over the Easter week. Murray Crothers also spent a few days at the same home.

Beverly Westman spent a few days in Edmonton, the guest of Karen Hammingway.

Three cheers for the writer of the 'Farmer' letter in last week's Standard. How many other farmers agree?

Clandonald

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Climie and two children from Winnifred visited and Dwaine McCafferty from Edmonton spent Easter week-end at the Coad home. Twenty relatives sat down to a turkey dinner with all the trimmings on Good Friday.

WISH MONEY BUNNY

Miss Gail Seldon, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Sam Seldon of Open and former residents of Vermilion, was the lucky winner of the Kinsette Money Bunny.

Miss Seldon drew the ticket sold by Miss Helen Rowe in Craig's Food Fair Saturday, Apr. 9th.

RIVERTON

(Held over from last week)

After enjoying a lovely mild spell for two weeks we are back again to more wintery temperatures. Good Friday was very chilly and there is a good chance we will have a cold Easter, which is to be expected. Ed. Note: You called it right!

SILVER WEDDING

Mrs. P. Hansen spent a week-end in Edmonton recently, and attended the Silver Anniversary of her brother-in-laws and his band.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hyatt, Beverly and Betty were Edmonton visitors, and took in the last night of the rodeo.

Gerald and Margaret West were in Calgary for a few days.

LADIES' CLUB MEETS

The Riverton Ladies' Club met on April 7th at the home of Mrs. Harold Hyatt with an attendance of thirteen members and one visitor. Plans for the tea, bake sale and bazaar were discussed and committees appointed. The quilts are still being worked on and there are three in various stages of construction. The "Flower of the Month" spread, which was donated back to the club by Mrs. Spicer, is to be raffled off at the bazaar. Also in the Vermilion Fair before the raffle.

by Mary Lynn Wanda

DEAR MARY LYNN,
Any ideas for a really quick, delicious dessert?

DEAR HASSEL,
Plenty. Here's one for a debutante supper that you can make in two minutes flat—and it's called Sexy Apple Toast. Toast a slice of bread in the toaster, add a generous dollop of butter or margarine and sprinkle with one teaspoon of sugar mixed with one quarter teaspoon of cinnamon. Top the toast with one quarter cup of hot apple sauce and serve it right away.

DEAR MARY LYNN,
How can I keep my rubber gloves fresh and dry?

DEAR REARER,
Put a little talcum powder on them and you'll reap the benefit. Powdered baking soda, too, will preserve the rubber, make the gloves stretch, lets them slide on more easily, keeps your hands white and cool. Since it is recommended by doctors for minor skin irritations it will not harm it out or stretch on a finger.

DEAR MARY LYNN,
How long will a tin of baking powder last its increasing power?

DEAR REARER,
Although baking powder never "spoils" in the normal sense of the word, it does lose its ability to rise even if air or moisture is allowed to seep into the tin. For this reason, make sure that the lid of the tin is tightly screwed on before you put it back on the shelf and avoid the use of it if any moisture has seeped in. Also, if after three months of the tin being opened you have not used it, throw it away and buy a new one. Loss of the rising power of baking powder is to make an unsuccessful dessert, a calm result as and biscuits. Up until 1930, manufacturers put on the market baking powder which contained alum. Alum is a chemical which has often resulted in catastrophes.

Standard Brands, makers of Royal Baking Powder, have taken the headache out of cooking for modern household. With Magic Baking Powder, a cook can be successful every time.

DEAR MARY LYNN,
I'm having a cocktail party next week and should like to serve something different in the way of hors d'oeuvres or suggestions?

DEAR REARER,
You're very well acquainted with Shish Kebab, dear, but have you ever heard of Bread Kebab? Delicious as canapés or as unusual accompaniments to meat and vegetables mean course. Bread Kebabs are easy as "A-B-C and eight," crunchy — eat just cut slices of bread into cubes, melt butter and spread all the surfaces with butter or margarine blended with dry mustard, celery seeds and garlic salt. Toast them on an oven until they are golden brown and then thread three or four on a skewer, alternating them with cheese, mushroom, pimiento or olives for festive color.

DEAR MARY LYNN,
When I serve hot dogs or fish sticks, my children cry for more. Is there any way to keep it down to a reasonable cost as the kids or children?

DEAR REARER,
Next time hot dogs or fish sticks are served, try combining them with a delicious sauce that you would expect to cost the earth. Your family will not only serve you more but will also ask for more. Cut one of the hot dog or cooked finger so that the added amount will not be noticed. Combine one can of the fish and one can of the hot dog or cooked finger so that the added amount will not be noticed. Combine one can of the fish and one can of the hot dog or cooked finger so that the added amount will not be noticed. Combine one can of the fish and one can of the hot dog or cooked finger so that the added amount will not be noticed.

Rule Changes Affecting Some Pesticides

Recently announced Canada Department of Agriculture changes affecting the use of aldrin and dieldrin have resulted in some confusion among farmers and others.

Despite the new restrictions, these two pesticides may still be used on specific crops intended for direct human consumption since such approved applications do not result in residues that would be objectionable under the Food and Drug Act.

Aldrin and dieldrin may also still be used for seed treatments of cereal grains and row treated more for corn. Insect control providing certain label cautions are observed.

Director of CDA's new regulations is to ensure that residues do not turn up in livestock products such as meat and milk. Farmers are urged to carefully read aldrin and dieldrin container labels to determine how the pest is to be controlled.

Canadian Utilities Instals Lightning Protection On High Voltage Line

Crews of Canadian Utilities Limited are completing the lightning protection on the 138,000 - volt power line from the company's Battle River generating plant to Vermilion. CUL General Manager E. W. Kier said the job, involving some 30 linemen and 25 groundmen, is about two-thirds completed.

Work on the project commenced March 10th and has been temporarily suspended because of spring thawing conditions. It is intended to complete the job without interfering with seeding operations on the farms.

Plans call for resumption of activity on the job about Apr. 25 and it should be completed by the end of the first week in May. The portion of the line still to be energized runs from Sedgewick to the power plant near Forestburg.

The lightning protection being installed consists of quarter-inch steel wire strung on extension which are mounted on the structures. The line has more than 600 structures. The steel wire, known as shielding, works on the same principle as lightning rods mounted on top of a barn or house, and should add considerably to the reliability of the power line. The line was originally built in 1955.

The shielding project, about 70 miles in length will cost the company around $70,000

A BEEF AND RICE GOURMET DISH RECOMMENDED BY EDMONTON CHEF

The superb skill of a chef who really knows his job is all that's needed to turn a very simple recipe into a gourmet's delight. Much of this skill can be learned by the average housewife who's willing to follow the directions given by any well known chef.

Earnings vs. Leisure

Who's for less work and more leisure? Not apparently, most Canadians.

The most recent poll on the subject conducted by the Canadian Institute of Public Opinion showed a surprising 61 per cent of those questioned to be opposed to a reduction in the standard work week from 40 hours to 35 hours. Only 25 per cent expressed themselves in favour, leaving four per cent seemingly not caring one way or another.

Strongest support for a shorter work week is to be found among so-called "white collar" workers, 46 per cent of whom favoured it compared with 53 per cent who were against. Interestingly enough, even the ranks of organized labour turn "thumbs down" on the idea: a decisive 60 per cent want no change.

All of which would seem to prove that, theorists notwithstanding, a clear majority of working Canadians currently prefer to take their rising living standards in the form of fatter pay cheques rather than more spare time.

THE FACTS ABOUT PNEUMONIA

The treatment of bronchopneumonia by the physician will be directed by the cause. The way any particular patient is treated depends on what germ is responsible for his illness and what his general health was before the pneumonia set in.

The best rule for the patient is to follow the doctor's advice about staying in bed, about what drugs and what kinds of nourishment to take, and particularly about continuing with his medicine after he is able to get out of bed. Relapses are common and can be far more serious than the first attack.

The prevention of either lobar pneumonia or bronchopneumonia depends very largely on general health improvement. Good health habits, immune substances in all respiratory illnesses and prompte speedy recovery from cold and respiratory infections are all they do occur. Meanwhile, research continues on all phases of pneumonia, its causes, and the ways in which it is carried. There is little prospect at present that a vaccine can be developed which will be effective against ALL the germs causing pneumonia.

If you seem to have symptoms of pneumonia: (1) Call your doctor immediately! Even in this day of wonder drugs, early diagnosis and treatment are important. (2) Follow your doctor's advice. If he says you should be in the hospital, go there. If he says you may stay at home provided you stay in bed, be sure that you STAY in bed. (3) Continue to take the medicine your doctor prescribes until he says you may stop. (4) Remember that even though pneumonia can now be satisfactorily treated, it is still a serious illness. Trust it as such. (5) At any time, if a cold persists longer than 3 or 4 weeks, see your doctor.

News From Clandonald

Easter Sunday the ground was covered with about six inches of pure white snow! Despite the weather, friends and relatives did some travelling.

Victor Lawrence was home from Sherwood Park. Dennis Lawrence was home from Whitecourt. Both sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lawrence, they are employed with the Canadian Utilities.

Dale Downey drove his mother and sister Lela from Camrose on Good Friday, to spend the day with Mrs. Downey's sister, Mrs. Stanley.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Davidson, Lawrie and Dale of Peace River, were accompanied by Wanda and Lois Makosoff of Wetaskiwin, to Vermilion and Clandonald where they visited relatives. Mrs. Davidson is the former Arrlyth Stanley.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rees and three children of Coronation visited a couple of hours in Clandonald Thursday evening before going on to Barrhead to visit relatives.

Russell Kaska of Trail, B. C., was pleased and surprised to meet Tommy O'Rourke in a store near there recently. Tommy is employed in road construction at Castlegar.

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs. Alfred of Edmonton who were married there April 11th. Mrs. Alfred is the former Merle Logan, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Hugh Logan.

John Cooney, teacher at Grand Centre, was home for a few days at Easter time. Mrs. Cooney has been on a part time job of selling cars.

Dwaine McCafferty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat McCafferty of Lloydminster, who is attending school in Edmonton, spent the Easter holidays with his parents, and grandmother, Mrs. Lena Good.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter of Edmonton visited the Wilmer Peacocks home recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Leslie, Mary and Lee motored to Medicine Hat last week to visit the Brin family.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cassine and children of Edmonton were visitors of Ed Stockwell and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Good during the Easter holidays.

BOBBY VALUABLE PLAYER

Congratulations to Allan Cole upon receiving the award for being the most valuable hockey player in the league this past winter. He was presented with a trophy at a banquet held in Marwayne recently. Allan is our Imperial Oil agent.

We were sorry to hear that the day before she was to get up, after hurting both legs in an accident more than two months ago, Mrs. Norman Beal contracted phlebitis. The flesh moved from Marwayne to their farm near Clandonald where they fed their cattle all winter. Mrs. Beal fell from a load of bales, suffering torn knee ligaments, which had to be operated on. A speedy recovery is wished her from all her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Jiggs Goldsmith and family motored to Edmonton last Friday to visit the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Goldsmith.

Mrs. Keith Hurt entertained several ladies at a fashion show last Friday evening when her sister-in-law, Mrs. Agnes Ludwig displayed jewelry made by Sarah Coventry.

Smile: Two ladies, dressed to the hilt in their Easter finery, were making slow progress in the crowd headed for the entrance to the church. Finally, one of them burst out impatiently, "Now wouldn't you think that these people who do nothing but go to church Sunday after Sunday, would stay home on Easter and leave room for the rest of us!"

In this communnity, the Elks lodge and its auxiliary, the ladies of the Order of the Royal Purple, are two of the more than six hundred lodges of these organizations across Canada, which are responsible for the Elks Purple Cross Fund. The two orders through the medium of this fund have collected over a half a million dollars to assist children in Canada during the past ten years.

TYPICAL CASES

Take the case of Jimmy, age 8 from British Columbia. He was badly burned when gasoline was thrown on a bonfire. He required 22 operations and is recovering favorably. The Elks lodge in his community formed that his father was a hard worker in a low income bracket. Jimmy's case required attention immediately and the Purple Cross fund granted assistance through the local Elks Lodge.

Bruce, a 9 year old from Saskatchewan required special medical attention and surgery. He underwent a corrective internal operation at the world famous Mayo Clinic. That was a year ago and thanks to the Elks lodge in his community and the Purple Cross fund, he no longer has a chronic disease that plagued him from birth.

Tony a 7 year old from Newfoundland has just returned home from a Toronto children's hospital after undergoing a successful "hole in the heart" operation. The Elks lodge in his community applied to the Purple Cross fund for two trips to Toronto and ultimately the successful operation. He was accompanied by his father on both trips who described the fund as a "Godsend".

Fourteen year old Marlene of Alberta suffered a chronic illness for a number of years. Doctors discovered that her kidneys were the cause of her illness. A successful kidney transplant was financed by the Purple Cross fund.

Shirley, aged 15, from northwestern Ontario, needed an operation on a hearing disorder. This unusual operation required grafting new ear drums in order to restore her hearing. In one year the Royal Purple lodge in her community applied to the Purple Cross fund and assistance was granted for the operation and transportation to and from a distant city hospital.

CHILDREN'S NEED

The cases cited here are only a few of hundreds assisted by the fund since its inception in years ago. Adam Dominick of The Pas, Man. Grand Exalted Ruler of the 40,000 member lodge in Canada said in a recent statement that "communities such as this need only apply to the local Elks lodge or its auxiliary, the Order of the Royal Purple and state the case of a child in need for their consideration. The Purple Cross fund has aided in aids supported by contributions from the B.P.O. Elks and O.R.P. Ladies. "The fund is unique in that unlike other funds it does not restrict itself to any specific disease or disability but will give assistance to any child in Canada. A person or under regardless of the nature of illness," he concluded

Commissioners Named For 1966 Census

OTTAWA - Mrs. Jean Wright of Vermilion has been appointed Local Commissioner for the Census of Population and Housing Census, which begins June 1st, 1966, Statistics Canada. She will administer the 2050 census district.

Following announcement of her appointment Mrs. Wright stated that her census district will be divided into 25 sub districts, employing a staff of 25 census takers. Persons interested in employment as census takers are invited to contact the Commissioner at her office located at 5411-51 Ave., Vermilion.

Everybody will have the opportunity to "Be Counted for Canada" when census takers call at every home in Canada starting on June 1st. They will be taking the population census which consists of just five questions and the farm census which consists of twelve but with more questions asked. They will also record all business establishments to develop a master list for the Census of Business taking which will be completed by mail after the end of the 1966 fiscal year.

One aspect of the census stressed by Mrs. Wright as she made preparations to administer the census locally was the need for public co-operation. She pointed out that today in most countries of the world a census was carried out at intervals to take stock of human resources and to use as a basis for public and private planning.

She urged everyone in the district to co-operate because "in the long run, everybody stands to benefit", she said.

Mrs. Jean Tit of Lloydminster will be the census Commissioner of Lloydminster and Mrs. R. D. MacKenzie for Vegreville and district.

Pictures taken on the occasion include the visit of the Lieutenant Governor, and at the livestock sale, were unfortunately rained out and will appear next issue.

Parents Urged To Read Health Unit Notes

One certain the Vermilion Standard is urging all parents with young children to read the column prepared and written by the health authorities of the Mistawin-Vermilion Health Unit.

This week the Health Unit deals with preschool medical examinations — a topic of particular interest to mothers and fathers having children of that age group. It is a fact that many children are handicapped in their education by physical defects such as poor eyesight and hearing deficiencies. These could have been easily eliminated had the parents taken the trouble to have their children examined periodically.

If parents read the Health Unit Notes which appear every week in the Standard they will keep abreast of all new developments in the field of health and thereby turn can to the advantage of their children.

Check Your Car And Enjoy It

Every April and May the vehicle safety committee of the Canadian Highway Safety Council sponsors a nationwide campaign to alert owners of their personal responsibilities for the safe operation of their vehicles. The 1966 campaign will open at midnight March 31, and end at midnight May 31 with the active participation of dealers in service and garage operators from coast to coast.

"They don't need more business at this time of year," said S. E. Swallow, chairman of the the committee "but spring is the most important car-check time, so they join us each year in our effort to reduce the number of unsafe vehicles on the streets and highways." Director of service for the Ford Motor Co. of Canada, Ltd. Mr. Swallow, who lives in Clarkson, Ont., urged every owner of a car or truck to have his vehicle thoroughly checked. "Only in this way can potential failures due to wear and tear be detected before they produce tragic results."

WATER NITRATES

Mr. J. L. Reid Senior Extension Engineer Alberta Department of Agriculture Edmonton says there is no practical method of removing nitrates from drinking water. The University of Alberta substantiates this report saying that nitrate can't be filtered out. Nitrates are chemically stable and can't be readily oxidized or precipitated.

Mr. Reid adds that the only safe way to destroy nitrates in water is by combustion. Combustion means oxidation. Normally we attempt to destroy sewage in sewage treatment lagoons and on the surface.

I think probably the only hope to destroy nitrates in water would be to use that water like sewage is used in lagoons for a week at a time. Two more practical solutions are a new well or eliminate the sources of contamination. Sources of contamination are barnyard seepage, manure piles and household sewage.

There are farmers served from the Vermilion District Agricultural Office who know where they can't farrow pigs because of nitrates in the water supply. Nitrates are probably more rarer these chronic baby pig and calf diarrhea are related to nitrates in the water. Nitrates are especially in human babies. Nitrates are probably more deadly than a similar dose of warfarin (rat poison).

Each year requests for a method of nitrate removal come to the D.A. Office. To date, 1966 shows every promise of a record year. Requests for help are coming from not only farmers with shallow wells but to a very few people who have deep wells, over 100 feet.

For several years public health officials have worried the public about water pollution. Not only the surface waters but underground waters as well. Under normal conditions ground water nitrates remain more unchanged forever. This is since nitrates and bacteria are removed about a mile distant. If raw sewage from one old well or a partially destroyed sewage makes its way across an underground stream all of the wells upon that stream are contaminated.

If that sewage were run into a stream, creek or on the surface it would sink but in circulating is also purified.

GOPHER GETTER

The County of Vermilion River has just purchased a gopher bait. This machine will be available to county ratepayers for treat ing infested fields.

A burrow builder places bait in prepared runways and eliminates those mounds in the hay land and farm fields that the gopher who would like to see the gopher gone should contact the fieldman Ralph Wilson or Mervyn Vaughan D.A.

DISTRICT AGRICULTURISTS

I wonder what that D. A. went? That is the theme song of many organizations these days. A few years ago the 4-H Club was a sure place to find the D.A. Short courses, Chambers of Commerce, bull sales, fairs and hospitals were sure bets to find him. I am certain that many people feel the D.A. has gone into his office and others who seek him there say that isn't true.

D.A.'s work, like farming, changes. The program is rapidly changing in this area from public relations to information teaching and farm management.

More and more time is required for newspaper, radio re views, radio and TV. There are more ARDA County Rat. Extension programs to co-ordinate keep them going. Farm Management is growing where once people had to be roused into groups in 1950-56 only those first most interested groups operated. Group extension is excellent as there is an opportunity of a complete re nange of ideas. Farm Business Analyses and Individual Management Counselling are using more time. Yes, we have to keep up with the times and I as the D.A. though not always evidently present, is assisting the ratepayers more than he did five years ago.

PRE-SCHOOL CHILDREN'S MEDICAL EXAMINATIONS

The examination of preschool children by a medical practitioner is of important value in the detection of physical defects that may be corrected if taken in time. The purpose of this examination is to detect defects that may become dangerous if not corrected before the child enters school.

When your child is sitting it is necessary to see that he is relaxed and you see to it that he gets treatment to make him well again but if he seems to be ill you may not suspect that he is a little short-sighted, or slightly deaf, or has some minor disorder which may be corrected and when remedied, will make him just that bit more fit for school life.

You will already have taken advantage of the protective inoculations which are available for your child as an infant and during his pre-school years. At the pre-school examination this reward will be checked and you will be told what more is required to keep him up to date with inoculations. Attend these examinations and don't postpone them. There will also be opportunity for you to talk with the Health Unit personnel and ask questions about doctors, with them any problems concerning your child.

Make sure you use this examination to lead your child to good true health!

Letter to Editor

Dear Editor:

The swimming pool has come to the fore again.

The Council are in favor of it but after it it feeler was put out last fall they know that it was no use bringing it to a vote for it would be defeated. Now it is being brought in through the back door as it were I would like to ask three men who are promoting it what percentage of the ratepayers would patronize it very small I venture to say. If it blows then that the minority is pushing something on to the majority that they don't want. Is it very democratic is it?

It is all very well to say that they will turn it over to the town when completed, but what about the maintenance and upkeep afters ards. It will just add a little more to the already over burdened taxpayers as none of these projects are self supporting.

I have a financial statement of a town near here where they have a pool and it shows quite a deficit so I cannot see where this one would be any different. It might be alright for a while until the novelty wears off and people begin to realize that it costs something to use it.

Recommend All-Risk Crop Insurance

All Risk Crop Insurance should eventually become part of every sound farming operation says Alberta's Field Crops Commissioner, Mr. Bill Wilson.

Mr Wilson reports that the government sponsored Crop Insurance Scheme for cereals will make coverages available to 10 million acres this year. As soon as possible it admits this goal they are establishing farm areas every year in areas where they already are operating.

Mr Wilson points to the inequalities of Dame Rosie Eyre was not hail insured and those in the County of Grande Prairie will be offered all risk coverage only for the first time. Growers will have to decide if it is profitable for them to insure their crops next year in the area from Smoky Lake south to Airdrie and east to Drumheller.

Farmers in the Nobleford, Vauxhall, Enchant, Taber, Barnwell, Vermilion districts were offered coverage in 1965 and these areas will be considered also expanded this year.

The Alberta Crop Insurance program says Mr. Wilson, is designed to cover losses of production which have to be paid regardless of time the crop was harvested. In spite of high expenses crop insurance premiums will cover 8% of production expenses.

The level of coverage is 60 per cent of the long time average for the area.

Losses covered under the All Risk Crop Insurance Program include those caused by drought, hail, frost, excessive moisture, flooding, plant pests, disease, insects and the failure to use such measures and practices as are considered normal to the area by the Crop Insurance Board.

Farmers and friends and residents of Alberta's cities are invited to attend the next meeting of the Vermilion Chapter of the Alberta Crop Improvement Association which will be held in the Vermilion Agricultural Society Hall on Tuesday, May 3rd at 8:00 p.m. Mr. Wilson will be the guest speaker and will discuss the new Crop Insurance Scheme which will be available to farmers in the Vermilion area this year.

News From Kitscoty

(Held over from last week)

Mr. Albert Olds of Edmonton and his sister Mrs. Wiley of High River visited with Mrs. Burton Parker and the girls. They came here to attend the funeral of their father, Mr. George Olds, resident here for many years before going to the Rosehaven Home in Camrose to reside.

Congratulations and all best wishes for the future are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Lyle King of the Kinsaird district who were married in Vermilion on Saturday, April 16th.

TREASURY AGENCY MOVED

The Alberta Treasury Branch agency which had been managed by the late Harry Batty family since 1938, moved to a new location Monday morning.

Mrs. H. Batty cut the ribbon in a brief ceremony to open the business in Pat Tyler's store. Patricia is the manager and will be assisted by Mrs. Ken Gray when the need arises.

Good luck is extended to Pat and Anne in their new enterprise.

Sorry if some of this news is somewhat belated. Your correspondent has just returned home from spending two weeks at the home of her daughter Elsi and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Brian Kent and family, giving a helping hand and getting acquainted with my new grandson Robert Spencer Brian Kent, who was born March 29th in the Vermilion Hospital, a brother for four happy sisters.

County School Com. Plans Opportunity Room

It has been recognized for some time that there are girls and boys in most of the schools in our province (and in the country) who cannot cope with a regular school program. These are youngsters who require "opportunity room" type placement and instruction. They are children of lower than average ability, who are nevertheless capable of learning and of becoming useful citizens in our society.

SURVEY MADE

Several surveys have been made in recent years by superintendents of schools, teachers, and personnel of the Health Unit in the County of Vermilion River, the County of Minburn, and at present time. These surveys have shown that there is a need for establishing one or more opportunity rooms in this region. How ever the young people requiring this kind of instructional program have been widely scattered geographically.

A study currently in process may encourage the school committee of the County of Vermilion River to undertake the setting up of an opportunity classroom commencing next September 1st. It is anticipated that this class will be conducted in one of the school buildings in Vermilion.

CONTACT IS PROHIBITION DEBT

Any parents who have children in this area between the ages of 12 and 16 who have been assessed by the provincial guidance clinic and recommended for Opportunity Room placement rather than a regular school program are urged to contact Mr. H. G. Sharp, superintendent of schools, in the event that the pupils concerned may live some distance from Vermilion a grant to help defray boarding costs in the town is in all probability be available to the parents.

What Is Your "Impression"?

We don't know the author of this piece, but it is worth repeating and repeating "A business may spread itself over the entire world, may employ a hundred thousand men, but the average person will usually form his judgment of it through his contact with one individual If this person is rude or inefficient, it will take a lot of kindness and efficiency to overcome the bad impression Every member of an organization who, in any capacity comes in contact with the public is a salesman and the impression he makes is an advertisement, good or bad."

Red Cross Youth Members Recognized

The week has been named Red Cross Youth week and is aimed at reflecting the accomplishments and interpreting the work of Red Cross Youth to the public

Said to be the world's largest youth movement, Red Cross Youth has in its ranks more than 70 million youngsters in 86 countries Close to 2 million of these are in Canada with 15,000 members in Alberta classrooms.

A program operated entirely within the school system, Red Cross Youth strives to promote good health, services to others and a spirit of international understanding and friendship among young people of the world

War On Poverty

Government planners are working on a sweeping program to attack the problem of Canada's small and inefficient farms. Clive Baxter writes in the Financial Post. The target is the roughly 70% of farms that account for about 30% of agricultural earnings, and in their present state doom their owners to lives of near poverty. Ottawa, the Financial Post says, plans to buy poor farms, merge them, then resell. Consolidation of farms into big economic spreads, renovation of buildings, modern training of farmers are all in the program which could run into many hundreds of millions of dollars.

GREEN ACRES

By H. MORLEY DOUGLAS
District Agriculturist

FARMING 1965

A Marwayne farmer knows an average pound of grain in his feed lot cost him 15.4 cents A Paradise Valley farmer knows an average pound of grain at his place in 1965 cost him 17.4 cents. This extremely low rate of grain was only possible utilizing grass through young cattle Fifteen farmers served from the Vermilion D.A. Office received an average gross return per crop acre of $23.90

I could go to great lengths about what these 15 farmers know They have facts where most farmers have guesses. The cost was $15 and a good set of records.

All 15 farmers have been visited by the District Agricultural scene or its company with an Agricultural Economist specialist The computer sheets are discussed and projections are drawn from the results Individual projections are drawn illustrating the safe level a farmer may expand or from where he may expect a better living

Sure this takes the fun out of farming but it takes out just as much risk Farm Business Analyses doesn't provide a recipe It doesn't replace good judgment but boosts one to make good decisions A well interpreted analysis can tell a farmer if he is tilling the summerfallow enough or whether he needs to do more fallow at all

Only 15 farmers could be handled by the Vermilion office in 1965. It is hoped that its enhancing this program the number will be increased to 30 in 1966 Anyone who could use this systematic approach to management should contact the D.A Office soon.

A new coat for you this spring!

Here are a few points that I hope will help you choose the best coat to suit you.

If, the most womanly looking for a new coat, you think of style and color first, remember to consider your personal figure too. If it's a tailored one, you're better off with a conservative coat, one that will go many places with many outfits.

Cheaper coats tend to skimp on tailoring and trimming details. They may look good at first, but won't hold their shape or looks as long as better ones. Price however, isn't the only criterion. Look for these features: Buttonholes neatly finished and made to withstand wear; Lining that's comfortable, follows coat lines, doesn't pucker or pull around armholes or at sleeve edges, is tacked down at intervals long enough so many better coats have a pleat down the centre-back to avoid strain; Hems with at least 1½ inch allowance; lining seams aligned with coat seams; shoulder seams set straight on shoulder.

Size depends on proportions, not age. In general, misses' sizes 10 to 20 are for average figure 5'6" and over; junior 7 to 15, often youthfully styled are for shortwaisted figures. Half sizes (12½ to 22½) suit the larger woman who is a bit short waisted. For women 5'4" and under, there's also a range of petites and junior petites.

Check for fit in a full length mirror. Notice how the coat falls. If it wrinkles across shoulders and back, you need a larger size, if wrinkles go up and down, a smaller one. When you bend your arm, a full length sleeve does not go above the bend of the wrist; when you raise your arms, there should be no strain. The collar should be shaped well and should lie smoothly at the back. On fitted styles, a waistline just below normal is most comfortable.

Rotary Celebrates 11th Annual Charter Night

Rotary Charter Night, now voted as one of the social highlights of the year in Vermilion, was observed on Saturday evening, April 30th, with an ambitious program comprised of banquet, toasts, addresses, entertainment and a dance. Famous throughout the neighboring Rotary Clubs, Charter Night attracted a record attendance of 163. Rotarians were present from Lloydminster, Vegreville, Edmonton and Calgary.

DINNER AND PROGRAM

Following a delicious dinner well served by the Ladies of the Royal Purple, President Jack Kwasie conducted a short program of toasts.

Al Treber toasted "Our Visitors" with the reply from Ken Fraser of the Edmonton Main Rotary Club. John Kinnibourgh paid tribute to "The Ladies" with response by Marion Anderson.

Orvin Burke Rotary District Governor Elect, a member of the Manchester Club, Calgary, was guest speaker. His remarks, in keeping with the occasion, were along lavular lines, but he ended with the following serious thought. "The sudden explosive forces of science and invention have compressed this world of ours into a neighborhood, a neighborhood in the desperate need of understanding and wisdom and of human warmth. Today each man must meet on a common ground. Today each man must be a good neighbor to our wives. We have reached the stage where the all important factor is the will to prove in the hearts and minds of men."

The guest speaker was introduced by past president "Smitty" Smith, and was thanked on behalf of all present by Jack Harcus.

Entertainment centred around ladies' night in a hilarious Native Rotary Club with an unpronounceable name. The presentation was replete with songs, jokes, dialogue and take offs, chiefly at the expense of Alex Callas, Sgt.-At-Arms. The cast was comprised of 16 Rotarians and Rotaryannes. Director and script writer was Rotarian Lloyd Seith and accompanist for the evening was Rotaryanne Agnes Kinniburgh

Mannville Students Present Program

A highlight of the Mannville school year came in the form of a variety program presented by the Junior and senior high school students

The junior high regular drama class as in grades 7 and 8 staged three plays "Sharky and His Pals" "Foxy Grandma" and "Love Hits Wilmer" in which outstanding acting was evident.

The senior high drama club a self organized group presented three short plays "Upper Berth" "Considerable Mention" and "Valentine Special" all in modern Dr Seuss setting. Three young people are to be commended for their perseverance in practising in their spare time and for their staging.

If best actor awards had been forthcoming as a result of the evening's performances there is no doubt that Linda Schenk of the senior high drama club and Robin Wright Roxana Marz and Florence McLaughlin of the senior high classes would have been given recognition.

Variety was the order of the evening as interspacing the plays the examples of talent were displayed by a group of club swingers and vocal dancers from the junior high; a piano solo by Linda Wiles who also accompanied the Glee Club A snappy fencing demonstration was executed by Allan Laitsch Barry and Ken Dary.

The senior high glee club an other student promotion activity scored with another hit performance. Under the direction of the audience very much with the old favorites "The Happy Wanderer" The Re Mi "Beautiful Ohio" "Red Waters" "Oh Said Little Man" Gypsy Rover" "Domino Song" and the "Lonely Goatherd" brought to a close with a beautiful modern hymn "How Great Thou Art."

Rudy Young president of the senior high Glee Club capably handled the duties of Master of Ceremonies.

Students appreciation was expressed to Mrs Ross Mrs Thompson Mrs Prijatsh and Mrs Wayland who devoted much extra time in directing the various groups.

Attends Lions' Training Course

Hugh Stubbs of the Vermilion Lions Club attended an officers training course conducted for members of Lions Clubs held at the Riviera Motor Hotel in Edmonton last week-end. 73 Lions attended from 31 clubs throughout the northern part of the province

Spot Checks Commence, Motorists Produce Cards

Under the terms of the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Act, the operator of a motor vehicle is required to produce upon request by a peace officer either

(a) a financial responsibility card (pink card) for that vehicle or

(b) a certificate (green certificate) issued under the Act acknowledging that a $20.00 fee has been paid to the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund (formerly called the "Unsatisfied Judgment Fund") in respect of the motor vehicle.

It is the intention of law enforcement bodies in this province to commence spot checks of motor vehicles which will be carried out periodically through out the year. Any person who is found to be driving a motor vehicle without either of the items mentioned above is liable for a fine of up to $200 Already several individuals have been fined the maximum amount for this offence. It is in an effort to persuade Alberta motorists to carry the proper insurance on all motor vehicles that these regulations have been brought into effect

Drivers operating vehicles their 1966 License Application Forms will be asked the following question "Do you have the necessary insurance coverage?" Unless the question is answered with a "Yes" or "No" no license may be issued.

If the answer is "NO" indicating that the vehicle is not insured in accordance with at least the minimum limits prescribed for under the Alberta Insurance Act the owner will be required to pay an additional fee of $20.00 into the Motor Vehicle Claims Fund.

This $20.0 must be added to the "Total Fee Payable" on the application for vehicle license and the license issuing office must receive the application for a Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Certificate (Green Certificate) at the time an application is made for a vehicle license. A separate green certificate application form must be completed and the additional $20.00 fee paid for each and every additional motor vehicle to be registered. The maximum penalty of $200 may be imposed where the information indicates that a motor vehicle is insured when in fact it is an uninsured vehicle.

The Green Certificate issued under the Accident Claims Act does not provide insurance of any kind nor does the $20.00 fee. However if the motor vehicle owner has either of the required documents the pink card or the green certificate his possession he is not liable to fine.

The aim of forest management is to harvest trees and maintain the yield on a perpetual basis

DENTAL HEALTH PROGRAM

There is to be an extension of the Dental Health Program arranged by the Health Unit. Previously children in Grade 1 have been inspected and given consultation treatment and their parents have been advised on the care of children's teeth. This program will continue. In addition it is proposed to start offering the same service to children who were born in 1958.

It is not possible to offer this service of inspection, hygiene, preservation and counselling to all three-year-old children in one year. This year it will be confined to the three-year-old sisters or brothers of children entering school in September, 1966. The invitation to parents of these children will now request them to bring also the three-year-old brother or sister. Later it is hoped to extend this service until all three-year-olds have been seen.

Pioneer Greenlawn Citizen Farewelled

A farewell party for Odell Curtis was held in the Greenlawn Hall on the evening of April 22. Friends from Greenlawn and the surrounding districts gathered and enjoyed a few hands of cards and a social evening. Odell has sold his farm to Gordon Blacklock and has bought a house in Vermilion. His two daughters live in Vermilion.

Odell's parents were among the early pioneers, taking up the homestead in the Ellsworth district and Odell has made his home here up to the time of his sale on April 26th. His father, Jack Curtis, was a blacksmith, and carried on his trade in a shop on the farm for many years.

Odell will be greatly missed in the district as he was very active in all community projects and a kind and thoughtful neighbor.

First Youth Seminar In Canada

Last week in Calgary and this week-end in Edmonton the first youth seminars in Canada were held under the auspices of the Alberta Government. Two hundred and twelve delegates attended the Calgary seminar, with an even larger number registered for Edmonton.

Education Minister R. A. McKinnon stated that the conferences are aimed at finding out what youth is thinking. He said that the seminars presented a unique opportunity for youth to debate current social, economic and moral issues. The young people represent rural, urban, farm, university, church and sports groups.

It seems altogether likely that the major result will be the formation of guidelines for the new department of youth which will form a new ministry of the government this year.

No Fanfare Required

The work of The Salvation Army requires no fanfare of trumpets to bring to the attention of the Canadian public what is being done in behalf of the needy. The needy speak to anyone who has been helped by these dedicated people, and you'll readily understand why they are held in high esteem by all.

Their organization, now in its second century, has helped countless numbers of people at a time when they needed help the most.

A family which lost its home . . . a mother looking for a wayward son — an alcoholic ready to give up the fight for dignity. These and many others have found The Salvation Army ready and willing to meet their needs, wherever and wherever possible.

The dedicated people of this organization neither look for, nor seek personal gain, for their humanitarian work among the less fortunate in hundreds of Canadian cities from coast to coast. Their only reward is the knowledge that someone has been helped as a result of their efforts.

Truly, "With Heart to God, and Hand to Man" as their slogan says, the people of The Salvation Army stand ready, at the threshold of another century, to give service where it is needed.

Anti-Smoking Campaign — What Happened To It?

The Department of Health at Ottawa has reported that an increasing number of school children are smoking cigarettes. Most Southerners are not likely to be surprised. Because of school pupils can be seen in the hallways smoking in public, and older boys in elementary schools may be found puffing on cigarettes — sometimes surrounded by a little group of smaller boys admiring the art or technique or awaiting a fire or whatever it is smaller boys might admire.

Barry Mather, NDP-New Westminster, asked in the House of Commons what is happening to the health department's program to curb smoking. Prime Minister Pearson replied: "I'll take this up with the health minister when he returns from Rome."

If there is any Ottawa government program to curb smoking there is little in the way of smoke signals to indicate vigorous behind-the-screen activity. Obviously, Mr. Mather could see nothing, or he would not feel compelled to ask the question.

Good Intentions Not Enough

Add to infamous last words — the futile phrase: "I meant to".

"Those three little words probably reflect the reason for more death, destruction and suffering on Canada's streets and highways than any other words," declared T. H. Wiseman of Oshawa, executive vice-president of the Automotive Industries Association, and member of the vehicle safety committee of the Canadian Highway Safety Council. Referring to CHSC's coming campaign now being conducted, he continued: "If a motorist has a light out I mean to tell him exactly what's wrong. Signal my turn. Clean my windshield check my tires. Have my brakes adjusted. Be sure that backing muffler and exhaust system. Get that headlight fixed.

Vehicles should be thoroughly checked after a hard winter of driving under rough surface conditions. Referring to CHSC's coming

With Band And Banners They Come . . . .

With bands playing and banners waving The Salvation Army has been on the march throughout the world for more than one hundred years bringing comfort and cheer to the distressed and destitute.

The Movement has grown phenomenally from a small mission in East London to an international army of men and women working in 70 countries, in 167 languages in Canada nearly 3000 full time officers representing almost as many centres of work, arrive round the clock to help the needy wherever they may be without regard to race, religion or nationality in accordance with the vision of its founder, General William Booth the Army believes that effective social work must be aimed at fostering self-respect, spiritual fortitude, emotional maturity and financial independence.

Among the earliest developments in The Salvation Army's spiritual and humanitarian history where hostels for destitute men, homes for unfortunate women, aid to prisoners and ex-convicts and employment services for both men and women. All these facilities have been continued, with adaptations allowing for full use of modern knowledge and techniques. The most up-to-date methods in medicine, casework, psychology, psychiatry, and group therapy are called upon to help rehabilitate alcoholics, unwed mothers, inmates of correctional institutions and those released on parole and probation.

Material assistance is made available to individuals and families in need. Wherever possible, efforts are made to prepare the recipient adolescent and adult for jobs and aid them in securing employment.

Yes indeed. The Salvation Army has expanded its services far beyond the expectations of that early band of men and women who struggled to relieve poverty in the East London slums, and to bring aid to the spiritually impoverished. The Army of the helping hand now operates a vast network of institutions and programs geared to the amelioration of the needy and unfortunate in every province of Canada.

Just as in the early days of the Organization, the modern day officers and soldiers of this dedicated Army can be found helping those in need, offering an understanding mind, a loving heart, and willing hands to ease the way for the discouraged, the lonely and the sick.

Last year 48,977 prisoners were met and helped by The Salvation Army following their discharge from Canadian prisons. During the same period 6,000 Canadians were visited and helped by the Army's League of Mercy workers from coast to coast.

People from all walks of life seek the help of the devoted men and women of this organization, and none are turned away.

GREEN ACRES

By H. MORLEY DOUGLAS
District Agriculturist

By WILFRED L. CODY
Assistant District Agriculturist

With Mr. Douglas away at a Staff Training Course this week the task of writing the weekly column fell to the Assistant D.A. Just what to write about is something of a problem at this time of year because nobody is interested in anything that will come up in June and all of the pre-harvest jobs already planned for back in the winter.

Actually there are a few perplexing problems of old Dame Nature if this spring follows the pattern of most. Cattle turned out to graze in the spring are bound to look for the greenest and freshest looking tidbits in the field. It is unfortunate that these will more than likely be stinkweeds and you know the result.

If dairy cattle are released to graze on stubble field, etc., and even in the regular pasture, they should be brought in a couple of hours before milking to reduce the chance of producing off-flavored milk and there will be a considerable loss in revenue as a result.

EARLY FIRE HOSES

If the present trend continues those vacant farm homes may become a valuable asset to their owners. Housing in Vermilion seems very scarce and recently we've had a few inquiries about vacant farm homes which may be rentable.

4-H Beef And Grain Clubs Meet At Mannville

MANNVILLE — The Mannville 4-H Clubs met in the Legion Hall on May 5th. Roll call of the Beef Club members was the name of a cattle disease, and Grain Club members answered with a variety of grain.

Demonstrations in characteristics of beef animals were given by Rudy Younger, Cheryl Jackson and Sam Baker.

A discussion on thematic dairy plans stated that there would be two displays, one for beef and one for grain. The decision was reached so it will be decided by the leaders.

It was also discussed that the local Co-op will sponsor two youths at the Gold Eye Camp from July 17 to 22. Any interested boys or girls between the ages of 18 and 20 years should leave their applications at the Co-op store. Two will then be chosen to attend the camp.

The rod row members received their grass and fertilizer.

The summer meetings of the 4-H Clubs will be held at various farms as follows: In June at Fred Wettling's; July, at Nelson Tyler's; August at Oliver Wilson's.

Many are still on the move here. Lester Goldsmith has been quite sick with them.

Pleased to see Bill Thompson home from Edmonton hospital. We hope his trip back the end of the month will be short and that the doctors continue to find little wrong.

Smile . . . One rainy spring a taxpayer flying on a neglected muddy road put up this sign: "These road conditions were caused by an act of God and anybody ought to tell the County that He don't intend to fix them! It brought results.

Derwent Guides Visit The Standard

DERWENT — The Girl Guides of the 1st Derwent company visited the office of the Vermilion Standard recently and saw how a newspaper is made up and printed.

They were guided through the office by Mr. Ashley Cooper and followed a news item from the editor's desk to the typesetting machine which resembles a very large typewriter. The news item is reproduced as lines of type on metal and is then taken and put into a form which is one page of the Standard. When this form is full of news items and advertisements it is placed on the press which prints the newspaper four pages at a time. When it is printed it is then folded into a folding machine. It is then labelled with a subscriber's name and mailed through the post office.

The Guides then moved into the front office and were each presented with a lovely booklet entitled "The Alberta Story" by Mr. Cooper. The Girl Guides are very grateful to Mr. Cooper and for letting them see how the paper is made up and printed.

FASHIONS FOR SPRING

There is a very definite look to spring fashions this year; the lines are soft, the colors delicate. Hemlines are shorter than last year — accent on the youthful leggy look — also limited to the younger set.

Low heeled shoes set the feet firmly and comfortably on the ground.

Shifts are ever popular but are more fitted this year. Free-swinging skirts full of gathers and pleats accent the active life we lead. Dominant is the influence of the 30' and 50's — long torso and swinging skirts. Lots of straight sleeves or sleeveless dresses predominate. Contrasting collars and cuffs are in, especially in suits and one-piece combinations. The well-a-sam is the accented construction detail. It appears on suits, skirts and coats primarily.

Coats remain narrow with skinny sleeves, and self-tie belts. Suit jacket lengths vary from just below the waistline (with a fine dressed) to fingertip (with pointed skirts).

WHAT ABOUT COLOR?

For spring — powder puff tints, sea shell pastels, delicate "sweet pea", cool and frosty "glacier blues" and delectable "lemon and yellow tones called "honeydews".

For summer-sun bright vivid colors of marigold yellow, zinnia orange, poppy red, sour apple green, hanner blue, oriental turquoise, and wild cherry.

The number one color combination this year — camel and white.

Friends of Fred Brimacombe are pleased to see him out and around again after a prolonged stay following surgery in the University Hospital, Edmonton.

At Islay Church Major Renovations

The May meeting of the Islay Knox U.C.W. was held at the home of Mrs. Bill Shaw on Wednesday, May 4th. The U.C.W. expressed delight at having so much done in the church; time given by the men, Messrs. Art, Harry and Ed Waterfield, Dave and Don Martin, Ralph Anderson, John Maire, Bill Shaw, Lyle Anson, Harold Roebuck, Percy Golby and Bruce McLennan.

A huge hole was first dug below the platform and the furnace lowered into it, the old chimney was torn down and a new one built. Panelling was put on the front wall and on all walls below the wainscoting. Mrs. Anson brought the panelling and Dali Torrance helped unload it. A great big thank you to all those men who gave so much time and many of their time gratis. A good deal of work is now ready for the ladies, too, to Mrs. Head who presented the desk lamp. Mrs. Head (nee Mollie) was matron of the Islay Hospital for several years. We remember her, too, for the piece of work she did at the cemetery using the names of the workers row and the stonebeat with the name boy hitched to it!

The residents of Islay are thankful to the men and boys who burned the old accumulation of grass which was a definite fire hazard. It took several evenings to accomplish this

"Birds Of Alberta" In Second Printing

The first revised edition, the second printing, of the popular book "Birds of Alberta," has been received and is being distributed by the Queen's Printer, Edmonton. It has been distributed to book dealers throughout Alberta, meeting book orders which have been standing for many months.

The revised edition offers some 60 new colored plates illustrating the text written by Professor W. R. Salt of the University of Alberta rigidly in collaboration with Mr. A. L. Wilk.

The popular text describes in detail readily understandable by the layman, the appearance, the habits, and habitat of birds commonly found in Alberta. Illustrating each description is most always a full color photograph of the bird. Most of these were taken by the author, Mr. Cyril Champion and Mrs. Kay Hodges each day.

The volume, which is priced at $5, is sold almost at cost and was a labor of love on the part of the authors and photographers. Birdwatchers of long standing attribute the growing numbers of their clan in Alberta to the volume.

A second volume "Mammals of Alberta" was issued last year. It was prepared by J. Dewey Soper LL.D

SCHAFFER—LOWE

In a quiet double-ring ceremony performed in Edmonton, Edmonton, on April 22nd Miss Sharon Gail Lowe became Mr. James Charles Schaffer both of Edmonton, were united in marriage

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. W. G. Lowe and the late Mrs. Lowe of Vermilion and the groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Schaffer of Islay.

Mr and Mrs. Schaffer are making their home in Edmonton where they are both employed

There are several sure signs of summer in Alberta. The temperature in some communities rises above freezing, golf tee flakes, hockey as the chief subject of office conversation and pulling out golf equipment and clubs seems virtually to disappear.

Of course there is also that slow period of recovery following a long session of the legislature. Harry Hylone can be learned for wanting to take an extended trip after it is all over.

That's not what Premier Ernest Manning was planning last week. He was already putting his shoulder to the wheel for the meeting he was to have with Mr. Trudeau, Mr. Sharp, Mr. Winters and others who were going to the Premiers' Conference in Japan. Premier Manning is a member of the delegation now with government and industry officials. While the premier's responsibility extends to the province of Alberta, he has responsibilities to Canada as a whole.

Consequently, as Premier Manning says, this summer's conference will be a most important one.

Premier Manning will be accompanied by Mrs. Manning on the trip. Mrs. Manning is a graduate of the Alberta College, Edmonton.

Miss Kathy Laird and Miss James Mary gave an interesting account of their attendance at the Easter Leadership Course at the Alberta College, Edmonton. The girls enjoyed the course very much and wished to thank the I.C.W. for sponsoring them.

Your Assistance, Please!

Concern has been expressed over the state into which most of our Country cemeteries have degenerated over the past number of years.

Something must be done about it.

To help us formulate a plan of action, we ask you to forward to this office all the information you have on local cemeteries in your area — where they are located — how big they are — who is looking after them, now, the name of anyone having a special interest in the cemetery, — what background you can supply — anything which may be of value.

PREPARING YOUR CHILD FOR SCHOOL

Your child will soon be faced with an exciting adventure — his first days at school. He has heard about this strange new world and he's looking forward to it with eagerness, curiosity and a mixture of many other emotions. To leave the easy going section of his home for the unfamiliarities of a new kind of life is a tremendously big event for him. At the same time how he has perhaps been feeling left out of things for he watched other children go off happily to that mysterious somewhere where one learns to read and write like grown up. He very likely has listened with wide-eyed, to tales of what you can or can't do in this place called school. Yet, above any shivers of doubt or anxiety concerning the unknown, he has probably become quite sure in his own mind that it is a great place because after all, school children has friends, go there. It's natural for your child to want to do what his playmates do and as he wants to like and be liked by them.

But will your child be ready for this adventurous journey into a new life? Naturally the better he is equipped the more successfully will he fare. There are certain things he needs in order to have his new experiences with confidence and a good chance of getting along through out his school career.

Your child should start his school life in good, sound health. Have your family physician or the local public health clinic give him a complete physical examination. An eye examination is very important. His teeth should be checked too, by a dentist. If these examinations show that there are ailments or defects that can and should be looked after, then follow the doctor's and dentist's advice and have them corrected. If possible, before you enrol him at school.

It's likely that your child has already been immunized against certain of the childhood diseases such as diptheria, smallpox and whooping cough. If not have it done immediately either by your doctor or at the nearest public health clinic. If all immunizations have been done previously, make sure your child gets the necessary booster dose.

Insist on him getting regular and sufficient hours of sleep to help him enjoy school. He needs from 10 to 12 hours of sleep in a quiet darkened room with an open window to build up his energy and offset tiredness.

It Is Illegal To Scatter Weed Seeds

Did you know that it is illegal in Alberta to scatter weed seed infested grain along highways or other road allowances and to transport screenings which are not sweltered in tight containers?

W. Lobay "Supervisor of Soils with the provincial Plant Industry Division points out that municipal weed control inspectors have no option but to take action against anyone who does not take proper precautions to prevent the scattering of weed seeds during their transportation. He says other weed control authorities and agricultural fieldmen are also concerned about the scattering of weed seeds from livestock or trucks. Such seeds are often responsible for starting new weed infestations in areas which were previously clean. Livestock trucks with a tarpaulin says Mr Lobay, will certainly help the situation.

To also points out that animals being fed screenings must be kept in an appropriate enclosure which is subject to the approval of a weed inspector. Many new infestations are started by weed seeds that have passed unharmed through the digestive tract of livestock and then scattered over a field in their manure.

Mr Lobay and agricultural service boards throughout the province urge farmers and truckers to do their best this year to prevent the scattering of weed seeds. To be successful with their weed control programs all municipalities need your help!

Centennial Report

1867 1967

CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

A tobotist a series about the drama — life in New York City since, to end this way "There are eight million stories in the Naked City. This has been one of them".

Around Centennial Commission headquarters at Ottawa we are beginning to look on Canada's 1867 celebrations in the same way. There are many thousands of national, provincial and local projects under way across Canada to mark our 100th birthday and they all make stories that big national projects alone are numbered in dozens. The Confederation Train and Centennial 4,000 mile canoe race the Canada Festival the Youth Travel program programs for the performing arts visual arts, folk arts, athletics, tree planting now buildings for arts centres municipal and so on.

I am going to tell you in this column of one of the national projects about which I am quite excited. It is the Atlantic Provinces Canada show which will be presented by the Department of National Defence.

At the time of writing I am basically unaware of what this event because I have fresh in my mind an advance look at the program At Centennial Commission headquarters recently Brig. C. Arnold Park and Chip Mills (ex Prince of the Depot) most of National Defence creative and planning staff described the two hour show — at which there will be 147 performances in 10 cities across the country and provided storyboard illustrations and taped excerpts of the script. The music especially composed for the centennial.

I can predict that Canadians will be given a thrilling experience when they see the Armed Forces Tattoo which will be one of the highlights of the 1967 celebrations. The show has been produced which we saw and heard at Ottawa a format that the Armed project is being conducted in a highly professional manner.

There will be 80 colorful selections in 12 sections comes of the Tattoo with stable music marching bands pipes and drums scenes from history as far back as 1665, a naval gun hauling race over obstacles a Canadian boy's idea of what war was like in 1812, 100 sailors dancing a reveille action scenes on the battlefield from an actual World War II Spitfire in an enactment of a Battle of Britain "scramble".

The Armed Forces Musical team has done research deep into history through the years to find period when the early French and British regiments were stationed in Canada and they have produced not only the music of the regiments but also the very season's songs of the customs and dances which also have been sung by the citizenry of yesterday and today.

Research has also been done by the Tattoo by Parage by Captain Fraser. It has been pointed out produced the Armed Forces show at the Seattle World's Fair which proved to be one of the highlights of that exhibition.

After seeing the very professional show which came to the Ottawa Tattoo I am confident the staff I do not hesitate to reveal now that you watch for the date in this performance whether it be an indoor one or an outdoor one be moved to your area and be sure to attend.

Pleasant Valley

Mr and Mrs Lloyd Brown paid a recent visit to Edmonton and a long remained visit on Sunday last it was Mrs. Brown's birthday but we will not disclose how young she is.

Mrs Collins is spending some time in Edmonton with her daughter Mrs. Bissell.

Bill and Lila Waterfield are visiting here. They found it a bit cold until our new weather arrived last week. It was new when they left Victoria with the blossom and shrubs in bloom.

Elusive bears could begin and they finds and start them in ventricville. They take root quicker and will be a little earlier than waiting for the garden and to get warm. Just a little tip — don't put shrubs in too deep the roots want ground to eat.

Tragedy at Moose Lake

Doctor, R.C.M.P. Cpl. Lose Lives By Drowning

MR. AND MRS. HARRY VAN DEN DOLDER

Couple Celebrate Diamond Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Van den Dolder were married in Winnipeg on May 5, 1916. Sixty years later they observed the Diamond anniversary of their wedding at their home in Vermilion.

Following their wedding in Winnipeg the young couple travelled to Alberta and spent ten years living west of Edmonton. They then moved to the Vermilion area where Mr. Van den Dolder farmed until 1947 when they retired on successful farming operations for more than 36 years.

Thirteen and one half years ago Mr. and Mrs. Van den Dolder retired from farming and purchased a comfortable home in Vermilion. It was in this home that they observed the Diamond anniversary of their wedding and received a continual stream of guests, who conveyed their congratulations and best wishes to the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Van den Dolder have two sons, George at Oliver, B.C. Albert at Calgary; one daughter, Mrs. Bayforth (Flor Vancouver. There are also six grandchildren and three great grandchildren. All members of the immediate family were present at the unique anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Van den Dolder were host and hostess at a reception in their home at Islay, in honour of the former's parents. This was attended by forty old friends of the Islay district.

The bride and groom of sixty years ago are healthy and active. Both are good walkers and are frequently seen about town. Mr. Van den Dolder still drives his car and makes trips to Islay and the farm.

Among the messages received were telegrams from Her Majesty the Queen, and Prime Minister Pearson, and letters from the Hon. Grant MacEwan, Lieutenant Governor of Alberta Premier E. C. Manning and Ashley Cooper, M.L.A.

By strange and tragic coincidence Dr. Evans had a sister drown in Moose Lake many years ago.

DR. EDWARD GORDIE EVANS

Dr. Evans was born at St Paul, Alberta, on October 15th 1923. He graduated in the R.C.A.F. in 1941 right from school. He saw active service over Europe and was shot down in Germany and was a prisoner of war for 3½ years, but was taken prisoner to the Germans. He remained in prison camps for 13 months before he managed to escape with a friend. However he was still over a month before they reached safety in friendly territory.

Returning to Canada after the war he completed his medical studies at the University of Alberta. He graduated in 1950 and commenced his career as a full practice in Vermilion in 1952. He was a force of the community. An ardent hunter and fisherman. Left to mourn the loss of a loving husband and father are his surviving wife Gertrude

The men were at the Evans' cottage in company with two friends, Cpl. Long and Cpl. Ken Sutherland. R. C. M. P. detachment, Vermilion. Dr. Evans and Cpl. St. Pierre had gone to the lake Thursday afternoon and had been joined late in the evening by Mr. Long and Cpl. Sutherland. Plans were made for an early morning fishing trip. The four men sat around, kenlied, played some cards until past midnight. Looking out the night was calm, the lake serene and beautiful, and this gave Dr. Evans and Cpl. St. Pierre the urge to go for a boat ride. The other two members of the party declined, preferring to go to bed, but left the motor put on the ab've and the lights on for the return of their friends.

At 1:00 a.m. Mr. Long awakened and had an immediate fearful premonition as the lights were still on. Dr Evans and Cpl. St. Pierre had not returned. Hastily getting into his clothes he drove along the beach road, and by ½ hour now daylight he spotted the overturned boat about two yards from shore, and about one mile from the cottage.

Subsequent investigation revealed that the boat had run into a fishing net as commercial fishing was open for a week, the net, so was recovered immediately after the tragedy. Cpl. St. Pierre was under the boat, tightly entangled in the net, so was recovered immediately after the tragedy. Dr. Evans was found in Moose Lake later recovered the body of Dr. Evans from 25 feet of water.

The water was very warm ranging from 85 to 88 degrees on the surface, but very cold when three feet down.

As the two victims were travelling at night they were unaware of the presence of fish nets as the net markers were not visible in the dark. The pity is that normal fishing was open from Monday to Friday only and the nets would have been removed but a few hours later.

Dr. Evans had a sister drown in Moose Lake many years ago.

Funeral services for Dr. Evans were held at the Holy Name Church in Edmonton on Monday May 16 at 2:00 o'clock p.m. with requiem mass. Interment was in the Edmonton cemetery. Rosary Prayer service was held at St. Joseph's Separate Catholic Church in Derwent on Sunday at 8 p.m. Donald Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

COMMON HONESTY

The phrase is interesting — common honesty. It says much about the foundation of mutual trust on which the everyday life of Canadians is built. We are not newspapers in a corner box with a cash drawer, and it works. Men and women with expensively acquired skills give us their services first and bill us afterward. Almost any store will extend credit easily and quickly. The director of the Accounts Department of a large retail establishment says that except for a hard core of deliberate chiselers (perhaps 5% of the clientele) most people are reasonably good risks.

Unhappily, though, dishonesty is not as rare as we'd like to think. There are indications that it is on the increase shop-lifting for instance. Prior to the Christmas buying spree, merchants expected a heavy wave of pilfering. There was such a demand for security services from firms like Pinkerton's, who keep a watchful eye on slippery-fingered customers, that one newspaper commented, "The private eyes never had it so good." The majority of these petty thieves are women who pick up little items and tuck them into their clothing. Male dishonesty shows up differently. A repairman offers his customer a discount if he doesn't care about a receipt. Often the former jumps at the bargain; after all it's only the government that loses. Not long ago a perplexed artist remarked that one of the chief subjects discussed at the parties he attended was how to beat the income tax.

People who wouldn't think of stealing from an individual not only take 'souvenirs' from hotels, deceive customs officers, and knowingly break the laws; they boast about it.

Perhaps the stream of 'giveaways' and the 'no down payment' techniques of modern selling are to blame for this blunting of the edge of integrity, but whatever the cause individuals must take a sharp look at their own habits. We all have a stake in common honesty. Sooner or later we are the victims if it disappears. It is a previous commodity. Let's not lose it.

RALPH WILSON H.I.

By Wilfred L. Culp, Assoc. D.A.

Last week in this column we mentioned the need of planning for the unexpected and this week we are left standing with egg on our face.

Ralph Wilson, County Agricultural Fieldman, is considered by the University Hospital after a bout with a bleeding ulcer. It seemingly didn't plan for this and Ralph has been so faithful in his duties that we have all been lulled into a feeling of security. Well now we have taken Ralph for granted with the result that Agricultural Committee of which he is a member now that he's not able to do it.

The D.A's are co-operating in the effort to carry on the committee's program, but undoubtedly some of it will have to be dropped for this year or at least cut back. This is unfortunate indeed as the program was probably the most ambitious ever and really appeared to be getting off the ground.

The planting is all but wound up and we expect the fertilizer demonstrators and some of the chemical demonstrations will be carried out. The alcohol shelterbelt spraying program may have to be cut back somewhat. The gully seeding meeting opened with the movie and no one knows why. This is a brilliant film and well worth the time it really to roll again Ralph will be back to harness in the meantime, we certainly wish Ralph a speedy recovery and to present a small token of our

MARTIN WHITE TEENS

At the weekend there are many forms of recovery shown by teens at various stores, including fruit trees. The question of grafting and varieties of apples is the explanation of the ways and the methods of grafting are explained and demonstrated.

The variety of all fruit is the part of the tree on which the fruit is produced. It has the same genetic structure. The seed contained within that fruit may not be the same as the parent tree. However this is true because most fruit blossoms are cross fertilized and the resulting seed, therefore contains some of the parents characteristics. Thus on a McIntosh apple tree the apples produced will have the McIntosh characteristics regardless of the golden delicious. Then when these apples, though would vary depending on the golden source Ann tree grown from this crossfertilized seed would not be the true McIntosh. Since almost all tree fruits are cross pollinated, any tree grown from seed are subject to this variety.

By grafting a part of the parent tree onto a suitable root stock the tree is assured of being maintained because the grafted part grows from the parent tree like the tree from which it was taken. The root stock has no effect on the fruit quality. Root stocks used on the Shelterbelt were chosen for their winter hardiness and by grafting onto these roots the tree is hardy varieties may be grown but for all intents and purposes grafting is done to maintain varietal purity. The high quality tree being of equal quality to about one in a million. By the same token a tree from a nondescript quality tree may be extremely good. Our present day fruit varieties are

The May meeting was held at the home of Mrs. A. Pemberton with nine members attending. We were very pleased to welcome Mrs Ross Taylor as a new member and to have Mrs. Rasbeck with us again.

The meeting opened in the usual way. Minutes of the minutes and treasurer's report by Mrs. W. J. Bell, thanked members for the handicraft display at the Constituency Conference and the points gained us with Five Point W. I for the handicraft. Also each branch will hold for six months a W. I. sign gained first prize in the over 70 class and was given a W. I. sign. Donations were sent from this branch attended the conference

During the month one sympathy and nine get-well cards were sent and eleven sick calls made. Mrs Hollebeeck was kind to offered the convalescent process of the Studio Girl cosmetics from members' purchases in the month of June, this is a generous offer and we hope to all help it out. Roll call was a handkerchief bird.

The topic was given by Mrs. McCaig "Reminiscences of By-gone Years". Mrs. Rooks was the guessing competition and Mrs. Green the mystery box

The meeting closed with a dainties lunch served by Mrs. Pemberton, and a social visit.

WHAT'S NEW?

"Nomex" Ironing Board Cover. A new space-age textile fibre that protected the astronauts in space is now being used in a scorch-proof ironing board cover. The fibre is called "Nomex" nylon and will not melt or burn regardless of how long a hot iron is left on it. It is guaranteed by the manufacturer for five years of normal usage.

Nomex, which is chemically different from our sectional nylon, does not begin to char or degrade until heated to 700°. This is well above the 250 degree level the highest temperature most domestic irons are capable of reaching or the 100 degrees at which cotton is pressed.

In addition to being burn proof, the Nomex ironing board covers have the durability, scuff and shrink resistance of regular nylon.

For ease of laundering, the cover is separate from an accompanying underpad of polyfoam and felt material. The cover extends well over the edge of the ironing board to provide a shrinkless resistance where hard wear is needed.

The ironing board cover and underpad can be machined or routinely through a mail order house at about $10.

SEWING THREAD

A thread company has produced a polyester cotton thread called Kobo, that was developed for sewing heavy fabrics such as awning, canvas, leathercraft and for sewing buttons on medium and heavy clothing. It is corespun with outstanding strength for its size, high resistance to abrasion. Price is 25c to 30c for a 50-yard spool. Another company has a similar terylene-cotton thread called Stayon. Kobus is best sensitive at the "cotton" setting of the iron. At temperature above this, it disintegrates.

Shower Bride-Elect At Kitscoty

KITSCOTY — A large number of friends and neighbours gathered at the Tracy Memorial Hall on Thursday, May 5th to honour Miss Sandra Gerrits, a bride-elect of May 21. During the evening a scrapbook of the past and future of Sandra's life was read and was placed around the tables for the friends to see. It caused much fun and laughter.

The highlight of the entertainment was a comic song composed and sung by Mrs. Ted Sheppard and Mrs. Jack Miller dressed as a bride and groom. The bride carried a rolling pin and the groom was resplendent in big boots and a motorcycle helmet. The song was all good advice and was dedicated to Sandra's future.

The many beautiful and useful gifts were presented to Sandra by Mrs. Ronald McLean, from a gaily decorated table. The bride-to-be, her mother, the groom's mother, and several young friends assisted Sandra with the opening of the gifts, which were passed around in front for all present to see and admire.

To close a happy event, Sandra, in her gracious manner thanked the ladies for all the lovely gifts and their kindness to her.

The hostesses for the evening, Mesdames M. Lowrie, M. Quinn, D. Pavlichek, L. Youmans, D. McLean and Miss May Stenarud, assisted by Mrs. A. Wynn, served a bountiful lunch. To bring the evening to a close, all joined hands in singing "Auld Lang Syne" accompanied by Mrs. H. Fatty at the piano.

Sandra is a local girl and for the past year has been a nursing aide at the Royal Alex Hospital in Edmonton. The best wishes for their future happiness are extended to Sandra and husband Jackie.

While the minister to France, Thomas Jefferson studied French cuisine and wrote a cook book for use in the kitchen at Monticello.

ALL GOOD THINGS Are Cheap

Twenty years ago most prescriptions cost less than they do now. But, they did less. We had none of the costlier antibiotics, new hormones, and other "miracle" drugs which can be depended upon to produce a positive benefit and very often a certain cure.

Present prescriptions are "cheap" indeed, for they usually limit sickness-time to days instead of weeks and save more lives. Some cost more, but you benefit more.

Graduation Exercises At Clandonald Separate School

Thursday, May 5th, was the day chosen by the Students' Council of Clandonald Separate School for Graduation Exercises. At 7:30 p.m. the graduands and their friends participated in a Bible Vigil Service in St. Columba's Church where the ceremony was in charge of Rev. Father J. Murphy. The theme of the service was "Love Poured Out", in which the invocations and readings reminded the graduating class that their vocation was fundamentally to love God, by love and service of the People of God. The student readers of Scripture selections were Gordon Parchewsky, Barbara Bardoel and Patrick Witzaney. The boys and girls of the Junior High School led the congregation in the singing of hymns, accompanied by Mrs. R. Schneider as organist.

Following the Bible service a program was presented in the school auditorium, which had been tastefully decorated in blue and gold by the students of grade seven under the supervision of Mrs. Dundon.

Entering the auditorium in stately procession to the solemn strains of "Pomp and Circum stance", the graduands took their places on the stage. After the singing of O Canada for which Lorna Protsch was accompanied Lillian Lawrence gave the Salutatory, welcoming clergy, parents, teachers and all other guests to this happy event. The Parish Priest Rev. Father MacDonell extended his greetings and congratulations to the graduating students and their parents. The enlightening prophecies of the grade seven students were humorously dued out by Patrick Witzaney. The address to the graduates was given by Miss Kathryn Thermes, a director of Education for the Edmonton Separate School System to whom a vote of thnks was extended by Graduate Lynn McCormack president of the Junior High School French Class, a report of the guests with their able assistance of a group of French students "Le Monde", "La Mere Michel" and "Dominique".

GRADUATION SCHOLIA

At this point in the program the chairman of the Separate School Board, Mr. Arthur Lawrence, assisted by Trustee Wilham Specht and wee Shirley Nelson, presented token Gradua tion Scrolls to the graduands Mr. Lawrence, in his turn, was then presented with an engraved plaque by Rev. Father MacDonell on behalf of the members of the Parish of St. Columba in recognition of his twenty five years as chairman of the School Board.

The Valedictory was given by Alex Procyshyn who, on behalf of the graduands expressed their gratitude to all who had assisted and encouraged them to complete grade twelve education. # F.U.A. Membership To Reach New High

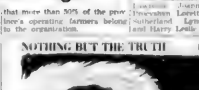
A Farmers' Union of Alberta spokesman predicts that in 1966 the organization will exceed all previous membership records in terms of the percentage of farmers who have joined the voluntary organization.

This is undoubtedly due to a growing realization of the vital role our direct member organization plays in trying to establish equality for those engaged in agriculture and the fact that we have achieved some measure of success", says Paul Babey F.U.A. President.

"The F.U.A. has demonstrated that it is prepared at all times to do battle on behalf of a justified farmers' cause."

Present membership exceeds last year's total by 1700 farm units for a total to date of 35,-500, and at least 1000 more are expected before the F. U. A.'s year-end in October. This will top record membership in 1962, when 34,107 farmers joined.

Mr Babey points out that the increased membership is even more significant in that the number of farm units has been decreasing by the rate of 1000 per year in past years. He says there is even a membership equal to that of the previous year remain an increase in view of the drop in the number of farm units. The percentage of a farmers forming the F.U.A. this year (approximately 1 in 3 farmers) will mean that more than 50% of the producer's operating farmers belong to the organization.



NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH in Around

Arthur Lawrence, on the right, receives a plaque from the Rev. Father MacDonnell, in recognition of 25 years as member and chairman of the Clandonald Separate School Board.

School Board Chairman Honoured By Plaque

Thursday evening May 5th after the graduation exercises held in the Clandonald Separate School the Board Chairman Mr. Arthur Lawrence after presenting the diplomas to the members of the graduating class was himself honoured by the Parish of St. Columba. Mr Lawrence has served his community in the capacity of chairman for the past twenty-five years and in recognition of this long and faithful service Rev. Father D. MacDonell, on behalf of the parish presented him with an engraved plaque acknowledging the unique role which Mr Lawrence has played in the Clandonald community for so long a time. Both the Parish Priest and the Student Valedictorian, in their evening made reference to the fact that the position of school trustee is very often a thankless one. Public servants are frequently the object's of complaints and criticism. For this reason perseverting patience and stability of character are indispensable requirements for one who serves in this capacity. These qualities in the School Board chairman as well as his honest leadership in attempting to provide the best possible facilities for the education of the children have won the approval of his fellow parishioners. In his speech of acceptance and thanks Mr. Law

Centennial Report

1867 1967

by JOHN W FISHER CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

Before the end of this year a full-length Canadian feature film will be released to Central Britain, the United States and other countries. It is certain to encourage people to visit our country during the 1967 Centennial.

The film, called Helicopter Canada is home-grown Panavision production for only a network, will be shown in our own cinemas during 1967.

Heels-over Canada is the first full length moving picture feature to be made entirely from a helicopter in flight anywhere in the world. It is an exciting essay in air color survey of Canada and its geography. Its wildlife, its people and ways of life It is being released by the National Film Board of Canada for and with the aid of the Centennial Commission. Peter Jones is the producer and George Salverson is the script writer The director, cameraman is Wayne Lloyd Boyle of the National Film Board staff who had some interesting experiences filming the project across Canada from the open door of a helicopter.

Boyle was born in Saskatoon, has been a dishwasher, shipyard worker private chauffeur in various parts of the country. He says he was a country and western disc jockey in Saskatoon in 1957 when a friend suggested he join the RCAF.

In the 67, Boyle was a bell driver in Vancouver when a passenger went on vacation leaving her camera in the cab. He used it to shoot a few feet of film and sold the pictures to a local paper for $5. The next film into photographs and he was accepted at the National Film Board in 1961. Boyle's home since then has been there in Le Lorrain, Quebec; he has a wife and daughter, 10, and one son 7.

By means of Jeep Boyle's camera background narration, dialogue and sound effects the viewer in the cinema audience will be making a trip across the country discovering Canada as though he were in that helicopter. The engine during shooting was able to get as close to the face of anything as its blades permitted and hovered from six to ten feet.

Boyle spent more than a year on the filming — a good deal of the time 500 feet up in the air, crash helmet on head, hanging out the door side of a Bell turbine helicopter (the Alouette). In one year he shot 240,000 feet of film and travelled from Newfoundland to Victoria As each obstacle meant for the camera was a freezing cold day and film used in the making of the French films "The Red Balloon" and "Voyage in a Balloon." It permits a picture while hovering close above.

In Toronto Boyle hovered a few feet above Nathan Phillips square for a dramatic view of the new city hall. He also caught the Old Port Henry Guard of Kingston, the Citadel.

The helicopter camera shot the conventional fishing and tourist of a vast oil refinery complex at Edmonton, paddle wheelers, rivers, buildings in western cities the lush North Saskatchewan River Valley. In Montreal the helicopter made forays all around the city and Expo grounds. In Saskatchewan it caught a fast moving freight train as it moved through a Prairie town, a truck leaving a high dust plume behind and a road race in the area and standing stark against the prairie horizon.

In Newfoundland the camera men made contact with a lighthouse keeper and a ship's skipper seeking guidance into the harbour thus symbolizing the entry to Canada through her most eastern province.

The film's viewers will have an opportunity to see Boyle at work on the surface of the gorge below both the Horseshoe and Niagara Falls and being on a ledge while shooting the spray of the bridal veil falls almost at arms length They will "ride the rapids" in a canoe and look into the windows of Montreal skyscrapers and experience the sight and sound of snowmobiles and other work and recreation in action They will view elders and mountain climbers whose farmers, miners fast prospectors, lumbermen, assembly line production, French cabin, cultural activities of various ethnic groups and of the first Canadians — the Indians.

Don't miss "Helicopter Canada" when it comes to your area in 1967.

Controlling Wild Oats

Wild oats, probably the most notorious annual weed on the prairies, can be controlled easily and economically with herbicides designed specially for this purpose.

According to Alberta's Supervisor of Field Crops, Wild Oats delayed seeding is the most effective cultural control method. For best results, the soil should be tilled in the spring to a depth of less than 4 inches to promote good germination of the wild oat seed. There are some areas of the province, says Mr. Lobay, where early spring tillage is not necessary to get the wild oats off to a good start.

Anyone using the delayed seeding method should not plant his crop until a maximum growth of wild oats has been controlled. This growth should start to head out prior to seeding operations. An early maturing barley crop is recommended because the wild oat growth does not occur in most locations until the first week in June. In areas, however, where good emergence has occurred by May 15th to 20th, wheat can be sown with satisfactory results. The important thing to remember, says Mr Lobay, is that a good crop stand must be established to compete with the wild oats.

Both a rodweeder and harrow can be used to destroy wild oat plants after the crop is sown. To utilize these implements to best advantage, seeding should be done a little deeper than normal and cultivation should begin when the grain sprout is ½ inch long This is usually four to eight days after the crop was sown.

The main disadvantage of delayed seeding is that an early maturing crop has to be sown in place of a higher yielding, late maturing variety. To overcome this problem, a herbicide such as Avadex or Carbyne can be used instead of delayed seeding Generally speaking, results from research institutions and the experience of farmers themselves have shown that the use of herbicides is not only a sound but an economical proposition, says Mr. Lobay.

Good appearance will go a long way in helping your child get along well with his schoolmates. He should know how to wash his face and hands, comb his hair, carry and use a handkerchief or tissue, not only for blowing his nose but to cover a cough or sneeze. His clothing should be simple and practical and at the same time attractive.

When a child has learned to do things for himself he gains poise and respect. He will be better able to look after his outer garments by himself at school if his clothes are roomy and all fastenings are simple.

If he is used to sharing duties at home he'll have confidence in doing things at school. He should be able to keep his own toys and belongings in order and help with simple household tasks.

Your child's ability to talk so that he can be understood is obviously a basic necessity. It's most unfair to him to send him along to school handicapped in this way. He learns speech habits in his home so let him hear good English; encourage him to say what he means in sentences, not merely in single words or phrases which are understood in the family. It is well to set an example of soft, pleasant voices, avoiding harsh loud tones. Teach him correct terms and names of things. He should be able to say clearly his whole name, address and telephone number. Baby talk sounds cute at home, perhaps, but he'll be embarrassed, maybe laughed at, if he carries this habit to school with him.

Learning to give and take, to get along with others, is necessary for your child's happiness at school — in fact, throughout his entire life. Encourage his friendliness towards other people. Give him the place and opportunity to play with other children.

Bethesda U.C.W.

The April meeting of the Dewberry United Church Women was held at the home of Mrs. Wm. R. Young with seven members present. For the devotional period, Mrs. Anderson read from the Bible and Mrs. M. Smith-waite from the Upper Room. A hymn and prayer by Mrs. Pryce brought this portion of the meeting to a close.

For Bible study, Chapter 5 of Jesus Christ and the Christian Life was discussed with the good chapters from the Bible relative to the given topic.

Several motions were made in the interest of the group, one being to become members of Area 1. Our next summer meeting may be left at the home of Mrs. P. Power for distribution to needy persons in the district. A donation of $20 will be given to Isabelle Jones in aid of her participation in Crossroads Africa.

Minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary who also gave the financial statement. The financial report also was given.

The U.C.W. will do the catering for Cheryl Jones' wedding in June.

In place of the regular meeting next month the U.C.W. are holding invited the Ukrainian Mother and Daughter banquet in Dewberry.

House of Commons Bomber Well Known In This Area

LIVED AT HEINSBURG
FUNERAL AT WAINWRIGHT
RITES IN DEWBERRY

Paul Joseph Chartier, the man who planned to throw a bomb among the members of Parliament in the House of Commons, lived in this area of Alberta for many years. He was born at Bonnyville, his family operated the hotel at Heinsburg for years and Chartier was well known, particularly in the Dewberry district. All who knew him say that at that time he was a normal young man, a non-star on the quiet side. Instead of hiding up the Commons Chartier miscalculated the throw of the bomb. It exploded in his hand in a washroom of the House of Commons, killing him instantly, but injuring no one else.

Chartier's mother lives at Wainwright and the funeral service was were held there last Saturday. About 100 people attended the funeral.

BURIAL AT DEWBERRY

Burial was two hours later at Dewberry following a graveside service, in a family plot which contains the body of Chartier's father, Romulus, and his sister Roberine.

Chartier about 45 years of age planned to become president of Canada after killing as many members of Parliament as possible according to incoherent writings found in his Toronto hotel room.

Examination Time Presents Challenge

With examination time imminent an article entitled "No Future Without a Diploma" in the April, 1966 issue of Entre-Nous published by Canadian Johns-Manville Co. Ltd. has significance for high school students.

The country's prosperity, it is stated, is not an indication that the new comers to the labor market will have the assurance of full employment if they have not completed their high school education.

The article says in part: "A lot of students seem to think that their teachers overemphasize the importance of a good education and underestimate the challenge.

"Although some people have had successful careers without diplomas, the fact still remains that a high school diploma is required to get on the labor market today."

Any student who really wants to further his education these days has many more facilities to do it than there were a few years ago. Education is the key to success and the one that opens the door to opportunities to fill key positions in today's complex world.

Many Issues Demand Parliament's Attention

On the eve of Canada's Centennial we have a great many economic and social problems demanding Parliament's fullest attention in a mature and serious manner.

At the Easter adjournment there was little to show by the way of implementation of the big legislative program forecast in the Throne Speech, and at time of writing there wasn't too much indication that the decks have been cleared for dealing with the 20 or so important pieces of legislation which are looked upon as priority items.

These include Bank Act revisions, a government reorganization bill, the Canada Assistance Plan, new railway legislation, a new railway legislation, a new immigration act, collective bargaining for the civil service, tighter bankruptcy controls, the $500 million fund for health grants, the $50 million fund for rural development.

In the words of the Montreal Star, "Something more must go on the record of this Parliament than the life stories of Gerda Munsinger and Victor Spencer, or that latest potential diagnosis "This Hour Has Seven Days" ".

Nor does it improve the image of parliament when one of the most important committees of the Commons, The Public Accounts Committee could not meet one morning recently because 13 of its 24 members did not turn up. Members of the Committee are watchdogs of the public purse.

Minister without Portfolio John Turner has stated, "Parliament is paralytic, in a vacuum". He said we have inherited the quarrels of another era and we cannot tolerate the situation any longer. If all M.P.'s feel this way maybe something constructive will be done. And it should be done soon!

Be Counted For Canada This Week — or Next

Although the census officially begins Wednesday, June 1st, very few people in the Vermilion-Lloydminster Paradise Valley Agricultural area will get a call from the census taker that day. In fact, only a small proportion of the area population will be enumerated this week," stated Mrs. Jean Wright, Census Commissioner.

In Canada the census starts on June 1st and continues on until completed, she said. In actual fact, because a majority of census takers are new to their jobs, only a small number of names are completed on the first day. And on the second day, June 2, they meet together with the census commissioner to review problems they have encountered in their field work.

It is therefore on the third day, Mrs. Wright stated, that the census gets into high gear. However the third day is a Friday, and while some census takers do elect to work on the Saturday, it is the week starting Monday, June 6th that will see the great amount of census taking completed.

The population census is expected to be completed entirely within two weeks, and the farm census within three weeks, she said. The listing of businesses for the census of merchandising and the end of the 1966 fiscal year will also be completed within that time.

The census schedules are carefully checked by the Census Commissioner and get a further check at the regional office of Dominion Bureau of Statistics. In this case at Edmonton. But the compilation of figures and the release of all statistical data is made at Ottawa after returns are processed through the computer centre there.

Mrs. Wright stressed the need for public co-operation. She said that this need was emphasized by the slogan being used for the 1966 Census, which is: "Be Counted For Canada". The law requires everybody to answer the census questions, but the census can only be complete and accurate if the public co-operates, she said.

She also emphasized the secrecy of the census answers, and pointed out that everybody working for the census, which Dominion Bureau of Statistics administers, is required to take an oath of secrecy.

FARM BOOMS

An interior design specialist is employed full time by the Alberta Extension Service to help home design services are available to farmers who are builders on an appointment basis.

A farmer planning to build should contact his District Agriculturist or District Home Economist. Design specialists are very busy with meetings, schools, etc. during the winter months but are able to entertain appointments in the summertime. Before seeking an appointment a farmer and his wife should have reached an agreement on a general plan and take this with them for a professional's criticism and suggestions.

PRAIRIE WOOL

The mixed prairie grasses commonly called prairie wool are made to the cattle industry in the short grass prairie areas of southern Alberta and Saskatchewan. In these areas about four million tons of dry matter are produced annually.

During the flush of growth in spring and early summer prairie wool makes excellent feed for livestock. As it matures, however, it loses much of its nutritive value and is not considered to be an adequate livestock feed.

The Lethbridge Research Station compared cured prairie wool with alfalfa hay as the sole feed for cattle. Prairie wool was found to contain one-third as much protein, half as much phosphorous and one-tenth as much sodium as alfalfa hay. Digestibility of prairie wool was 50 per cent compared to that of alfalfa hay was 59 per cent. Even more important was the fact that digestibility of protein in the prairie wool was only 27% compared with 71% for alfalfa.

ROADSIDE HAY PERMITS

A no-charge permit from the district engineer will allow any person to cut hay on the right-of-way of main and secondary highways in Alberta. Land owners adjacent to the roadside should apply to the engineer before June 15th. After that date permits will be issued on a first come first serve basis. All hay stacks roadsides must be cut before the July 31 permit expiry.

A DEDICATION

To Bill and Adam Smith — who having [illegible] the familiar acres which to them, and to us, for two score years have been "farms" — these lines are dedicated.

Toil and sweat; some blood; no tears.

Primeval wilderness lies conquered now.

Strong bare hands stubborn roots wrench free,
Precious seed sprinkled on virgin lea.

Then lo! Behold! The tender green:
Acre upon acre of emerald sheen.

But alas! The sombre summer sky
Crackling portends fresh growth must die.

Then belatedly the blissful rain,
Revives both hope and crop again.

But just when surely naught can fail,
Suddenly erupts the threat of hail;

Perhaps a blight of insect hosts
Backing thr- sap like vampire ghosts;

Perhaps the chilling breath of frost —
A few degrees — all may be lost.

But no, the gauntlet has been run,
Though modest, a harvest has been won.

Yet enough for man and beast.

Partial reward for labors spent;
At season's close the sweetness of content.

Forty years . . . ! Forty years . . . !

Farm Credit Corporation Loans Top $200 Million

OTTAWA, April 22, 1966 — A record year in long-term mortgage lending by the Farm Credit Corporation illustrates a new capital - awareness and credit know-how on the part of Canadian farmers in developing profitable farm businesses.

F.C.C. Chairman George Owen said the demand for credit has risen sharply with 11,238 loans amounting to $208,984,900 being approved in the fiscal year ended March 31.

Compared with the previous high of 10,142 loans totalling $154,813,900 set last year this is an increase of 10.8 per cent in the number and 34 per cent in the amount of loans.

The extent to which F.C.C. loans are helping farmers to buy or expand farm business is clearly indicated in the report on loan purposes.

Approximately 80 per cent of the loan funds were used to buy new farm units, acquire additional land or pay off land debts.

By far the highest item (nearly 40 per cent) was the amount used by farmers to buy extra land needed to form a viable unit.

This is very significant, comments Mr. Owen, because successful agricultural growth depends on efficient resource use, and with land being the principal resource, long-term credit on favorable repayment terms is helping to reorganize farms into units which will allow the farmer to spread his overhead costs over a larger volume of production.

MACHINERY DEPRECIATES

Figures covering the Corporation's lending activities under the Farm Machinery Improvement Credit Act were also reported.

From the start of operations in January 1965 to March 31, 1966, 127 loans were made to 120 syndicates, comprising 511 members for a total approval of $668,883.

Loans have been made for a wide range of agricultural equipment that is being used very successfully on a co-operative basis to help farmers cut their machinery overhead and upkeep costs.

Mr. Owen predicts that the demand for this type of credit will grow as more farmers realize the benefits to be obtained and become familiar with the service provided by the Corporation in helping to set up workable sharing agreements.

32 Students Graduate At Mannville School

By EDITH LADLER

MANNVILLE. Thirty two students of Mannville School took part in the graduating exercises held on the evening of May 13. Miss Linda Willis presided at the piano for the processional as these young men and women, each impeccably attired, came into view on the stage to be introduced by Mrs. Weyland of the High School staff.

Mr Krider, principal of the school, and master of ceremonies for this "Spring Farewell" called upon the Rev. H. A. Richards to give the prayer and invocation.

Elsie Konkercsay, who has attained the second highest standing in the graduating class of 1966, was the Salutatorian.

The theme song of the evening "Moon River", was sung by Wanda Richards.

GREETINGS FROM THE SCHOOL CHAIRMAN

Greetings from the school committee were ably delivered by Stanley Tymchyshyn who complimented the graduands on their accomplishments thus far and urged them to approach life with an open mind, thus enabling them to continue their education, whatever their vocation may be.

The class historian was Geraldine Pulyk. This mischievous young lady reminded the graduands of their past pranks and accomplishments alike.

GUEST SPEAKER

The guest speaker Mr. Angus Smith, a former Mannville and also a former teacher and principal of Mannville School, was introduced by Miss R. Gray, who like the majority of the audience that night, is well acquainted with Angus' background as a teacher, but added one note of amusement when she told of him delivering an excellent address for which she proceeded to commitment him, asking him whence he acquired the inspiration. He innocently replied, "Desperation." and handed her a little brown book Upon opening the book she read nothing more than a grocery list. Indeed, his inspiration had been "desperation", for upon leaving his home he had picked up the wrong book.

However, on this night at Mannville the honour forthcoming from the guest speaker came from no grocery list; neither did the outstanding address he delivered to the graduands. For Angus spoke words, that it behooves any of us to remember.

He told the graduands that he was not going to go over the old tale of how much had been done for them and of how lucky they were but ... how lucky we were to have them, the fine young people seated on the stage for in the youth of the world lies the hopes of the world.

He reminded them of the fine record of many of those who had graduated from Mannville High School in the past, adding that he considered the present graduating class capable of as fine a record

MUTTER THAT AVERAGE

Further in the program Mr. Krider was happy and justly proud to announce that his 1965 graduating class attained a 12 per cent better average than did the remainder of the province in that the provincial average of those attaining a mark of B or better in the June departmentals was 69 per cent; the average of the Mannville students to attain a mark of B or better was over 72 per cent.

The audience was then favored by Misses Georgie Wattrus Mary Stewart and Linda Schock singing "Memories to Remember" accompanied by Miss L. Willes of the piano.

VALEDICTORIAN

The Valedictorian, who is always the student with the highest standing in the class, was Garry Mindt.

Garry ably delivered his address. In the course of which he expressed the appreciation of the class of 1966 for the help and encouragement that had been afforded them by their parents and teachers alike, also stating that the good record of former Mannville students was accepted able as a challenge to those who followed.

GRADUATES

Those graduating this year are Faye Anderson, Audrey Bang, Robert Bennett Lorraine Bye, Ellen Boyle Lynne Calder Shirley Chyrchel Verner Dennis Ness Emily Herman, Arthur Kenzie Elsie Konwensky James Lasitier William Lakusta Gerald Malin, Gloria Mindt, Heather Morrison Gloria Nestorovich Robert Purcell, Gerlynde Pulyk Elaine Remphrey Shirley Sharp Brian Staden Wallace Stewart Helen Svenson Verner Thompson, Gordon Watling, Lillian Wiley Lorne Weaver and Lenore Weiss.

It is the sincere wish of the writer that each and everyone of these students may be present in the fall to receive their scrolls and attend the banquet that is being planned for that time.

Something new took place at Mannville this year as the graduating comprised between a spring and autumn graduation ceremony by dividing in have the exercises and a "spring farewell" in May and with the banquet and presentations to be held in the fall.

The Northern Troubadours band supplied the music for a rapidly crowd who joined with the graduands in their spring farewell. The auditorium was tastefully decorated with streamers of blue and white forming a canopy over the main auditorium and a trellis on the stage.

Each graduand's name was placed on a blue moon quarter and held in place by a white flower star at intervals around the room.

Twenty years ago most prescriptions cost less than they do now. But, they did less. We had none of the routine antibiotics, new hormones, and other "miracle" drugs which can be depended upon to produce a positive benefit and very often a certain cure.

Present prescriptions are "cheap" indeed, for they usually limit sickness-time to days instead of weeks and save more lives. Some cost more, but you benefit more.

EDUCATING YOUR CHILD FOR SCHOOL

Your child should be well equipped with sound mental and emotional health. He'll have this if good reassure if he has felt secure in your affection, learned to take his place in the family group, shared in small responsibilities, learned to do some things on his own and has had a chance to play with playmates his own age. If he has a healthy attitude towards authority, he'll fit more easily into the school life with its many regulations. If he hasn't as yet learned obedience and the necessity to co-operate in routine, you'll not be helping him by being overly protective and "taking his side" against the school. If you sincerely think that there is something wrong with the school rules, help them over friendly and openly with the proper school authorities.

When your child starts school, be hesitant, solicitous, leaving the familiarity of home. Yet, at the same time, be wary to push aside babyish habits of better dependent on you. He wants to be on his own, like his fellow pupils. The exciting time he has in feeling self-important and independent may, for a time, make him scant his new experiences as quite severe, something very private and personal to him. He may resent your questioning and curiosity and try to keep his new life apart from you. This is a phase that soon passes in a happy blending of school and home influences. As your child shares with you his school experiences and achievements, praise his efforts with the same enthusiasm he shows for them and go easy on criticism. He'll more further and faster with praise than with criticism.

Your child is a very special person whom you've watched and tried to understand and help from his earliest infancy. If you work closely together with his teacher then the home and the school can assure your child the considerations he needs, with more opportunities to meet new experiences and to accept responsibility, he'll have a better chance to become a happy, useful grown up.

Even though the school will now occupy the greater part of his day you still have the lead and role to play in helping to develop your child's character. His future will depend on good understanding that warm, loving relationship which began in his babyhood and which should continue throughout the growing years. Supportive encouragement him in all his outside activities will provide that feeling of security so essential to his success in school.

Abolish Federal Estate Tax?

The federal government has indicated it is willing to discuss Alberta's proposal to abolish federal estate tax. The Financial Post's Edmonton representative reports. There is considerable national investment industry support for the proposal to return the province's share of revenues to resident heirs. A number of national figures in the investment and accounting fields have reacted favorably to the Alberta plan, which would involve provincial governments foregoing their claims to 75% of estate tax revenues, thereby encouraging the federal government to abandon this area of taxation.

GREEN ACRES

By H. HORLEY DOUGLAS

LAST ISSUE FOR HORLEY

This Green Acres column has been a challenge and satisfaction since my appointment on May 1st, 1959. I took up residence in Vermilion Dec 1, 1957 and worked under Mr Bucking ham for one and a half years. Credit must be given to Mr. Buckingham from whom I received my first newspaper training. I came to Vermilion completely unprepared to write for the newspaper. Looking at old files in the Vermilion home to see how feeble my early efforts were, I must thank the local newspaper public for going along with my initial attempts though at times during the month

It wasn't very long until I became aware of how effective an extension (education) tool the weekly newspaper really was to me. I just had to write a recipe for catching a porcupine IF IT was forthcoming that the recipe was useful but the publication of the author was crazy and they always called me back. I felt that a weekly newspaper writing requires facts. A mistake always arouses comment.

This issue of Green Acres will be my last. I have enjoyed writing every song. As of June 6th I will assume D.A. duties at Lacombridge I will be responsible for the Innisfail-Sylvan-Olds-Didsbury and environs. D.A. training and co - ordination of the whole extension program including south of Bowden. Chemical and Medicine Hat I will be able to write for newspapers better equipped thanks to the patience of the Vermilion - Lloydminster readers. This column has provided a measure of philosophy, of which I may and will be used to call recommendations to a large

GRATITUDE TO STANDARD AND LIONS

I owe a debt of gratitude to Mr Aaldert Koper and staff of the Vermilion Standard and Mr. Lloydminster Times for their thoughtful co-operation over the years. One thing for certain is that my successor will have to write a news column. He will probably do such a good job that most people will not be aware of my absence before they are caught up by the new D.A.'s program. Regardless of where I or my family pass in the future we will have a soft spot in our heart for Vermilion-Lloydminster region. It's been our home for eight and a half years during which time we became a family. Only last night my little girl Leslie asked me if we were taking our home with us. Apparently home can't be moved they must be made with friends around them. If you think this is a lot of hogwash perhaps you should measure the lump in my throat whenever you are down south drop in and say Hello

GREEN POSTAL

Green fescue or wild millet is a serious weed. It is particularly bad on overgrazed pastures or third cropland. Hot, dry weather aggravates the situation. Chemical control is possible on flax, rape oats and barley crops. The treatment varies with crop type. For flax ¾ to 1¼ lbs. of 64% 2,4-D or 1 to 4 lbs. of T.C.A. per acre is very effective The time of application is from the 5th leaf to boot stage. 2,4-D and MCPA may be mixed with either chemical and applied at the same time on flax For rape - the treatment is similar but the

Islay Couple Celebrate 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Redmond were married at the home of the bride's father, Mr James Bennett, north of Islay, Alberta, on May 3rd, 1941 by the Rev. Pringle Twenty-five years later, they celebrated their wedding anniversary by holding an open house reception at their own home at Islay.

Over one hundred relatives and friends called during the afternoon and evening to extend their best wishes to Olive and Charles. Many lovely and useful gifts were received.

For this occasion the bride of twenty-five years looked very becoming in a blue silk dress with a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

The cake made by their daughter Lynda Moore, was beautifully decorated by Mrs. Olive Clark of Vermilion. It was topped with a silver cup holding three sweetheart roses, matching those in the bride's corsage

Those serving at the reception were their daughters Sharon and Lynda, the bridesmaid of twenty-five years, Marjorie Watson, the bride's nieces Marilyn and Betty Watson and the niece of the groom, Miss Diana Peterson. Miss Carol Walton was in charge of the guest book.

On the evening before the open house, a delicious goose supper was served to the immediate relatives at the home
